Snow Cost Is $67,365 Additional

Council to Decide Payment System

Clearing the city's streets of last winter's heavy fall of snow, plus sanding and salting, cost the city $67,365.83 above the budget sum of $22,000, it was noted at Wednesday night's Board of Public Works meeting.

This was $25,063.19 more than the $42,302.64 expended above the budget sum in the winter of 1959-60.

Council to Decide

Under a state law, this time, however, municipalities may meet the extra cost by use of three-year budget notes, a five-year bond issue, or by the usual one-year budget note. It will be up to the Common Council to decide upon which procedure is to be followed.

Charles J. Cole, public works superintendent, reported that repair of five streets has been completed, and four major street projects are under way. Work has been done on Irving Place, O'Neil Street, Clinton Avenue, the Fair Street and Greenkill Avenue intersection, and Newkirk Avenue. Work is under way on Jansen Avenue, Jarrold Street, Crane and West Chester Streets.

Will Appoint Five

Mayor Edwin F. Radel noted that five motor equipment operators are to be appointed. A civil service eligibility list of 14 names was recently announced.

The mayor today announced installation of a new three-phase traffic light at Franklin Street and Clinton Avenue. The old style two-phase lights remain only at Green and Main Streets and Clinton Avenue and Henry Street.

Andries LeFevre, Of Paltz Wounded By Fiancee's Dad

A 21-year-old New Paltz man was shot and wounded Wednesday by a college French teacher at Paul Smiths, N. Y., who told police he was trying to break up his 19-year-old daughter's romance with him, the Associated Press reported.

Andries Philip LeFevre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip LeFevre of Forest Glen Road, New Paltz was wounded in the left shoulder and was treated at Saranac Lake Hospital. He was later discharged.

David McKee, 58, who teaches at Paul Smith's College in Franklin County fired a .20-gauge shotgun at LeFevre in the driveway of the teacher's home, six miles north of the college town, police said.

McKee's daughter, Susan, a student at Wells College in Aurora, was dating LeFevre who reportedly attends Colgate University. Police said an argument ensued Wednesday in McKee's home because McKee wanted the relationship to end.

Lawyer Disbarred

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Robert V. Bogan, a Buffalo lawyer convicted on charges of grand larceny and forgery last month in an insurance-fraud case, was disbarred today by the Appellate Division of State Supreme Court.

The action is automatic in the case of attorneys convicted on felony charges.

Bogan, sentenced to a minimum of eight years imprisonment and fined $500, has appealed. If his conviction is reversed, the Appellate Division may reinstate him immediately or may schedule a hearing to examine the nature of the case before taking further action.

A MESSAGE FOR THE PRESIDENT — Nguyen Dinh Thuan, chief cabinet minister to President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam, confers with President Kennedy at the White House June 14. Thuan delivered a letter to President Kennedy from President Diem dealing with the Communist threat to Viet Nam. Later Thuan told newsmen that he is seeking direct U. S. training of his country's troops to increase their combat effectiveness against Communist guerrillas operating throughout much of his country. He said he had not discussed the idea with Mr. Kennedy but was taking it up with other American officials. (NEA Telephoto)

$28 Million New Cuban Demand for Prisoners

HAVANA (AP)—The U.S. tractors-for-prisoners team heads for Washington today after hearing Fidel Castro's latest demand—$28 million worth of farm-type tractors in exchange for 1,167 captive invaders.

This amounts to about $24,000 per prisoner.

No Commitments

The unofficial, four-man negotiating panel said it made no commitments to the Cuban prime minister; that it intended to lay the demand before the Tractors-For-Freedom Committee headed by Eleanor Roosevelt.

Whether the committee, in its drive for public subscriptions, could raise the kind of money involved in Castro's demand was uncertain. Other leaders of the drive, besides Mrs. Roosevelt, are Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers and Dr. Milton Eisenhower.

The campaign for funds results from Castro's offhand offer of May 17.

Shows New Sides

Castro showed some new sides to his proposal Wednesday during five hours of negotiating sessions with the American team.

He said he would go along with the committee's offer to supply small farming tractors rather than the big construction tractors he originally sought. But he said the large tractors would have $28 million plus transportation costs —so he expected that much money's worth of the smaller machines.

The Cuban leader indicated he would be agreeable to receiving 1,000 tractors one-half the size of the heavy models first demanded.

The monetary value was a stiff price in terms of the committee's earlier thinking. The fund raisers had been talking about raising $2.5 million or so to buy 500 of the smalle tynes of tractors which they said should meet Castro's agricultural needs.

Small, general purpose farm tractors sell at from $3,500 to $6,000 in the United States. At such rates, the $28 million figure set by Castro would purchase 4,700 to 8,000 tractors.

Reduces Members

Castro also reduced somewhat the number of captives he said he could liberate upon receipt of the tractors. The original figure given the committee was 1,214. Castro said this is now down to 1,167 due to some deaths, special trials he plans for some prisoners and other reasons.

Cuba's boss said he really would prefer to trade freedom of his captives for freedom of 1,200 persons in jail in the United States, Spain and some Latin-American countries.

Asked if he had a specific list of the 1,200 prisoners abroad whom he wants liberated, Castro replied he had "no list, but we know there are many prisoners there because they are patriots."

As for the tractor deal, he said: "It's going well. It all depends on them (the American Committee) now."

$240,000 Voted For Addition at School in Ridge

A bond issue of $240,000 for construction of eight new classrooms and other facilities at the Marbletown Elementary School, Stone Ridge, was adopted Wednesday by voters of the Rondout Valley Central School District.

590 for Proposition

The vote was 590 in favor of the proposition, 320 opposed, eight ballots void—a total vote of 918.

The estimated cost of the additions is $240,000, of which approximately 50 per cent ($118,965) will be paid by New York State.

The proposal calls for construction of eight new classrooms, a teacher's room, adequate heating and sewage facilities for the new wing, renovation of one room in the existing building for a library, and a new well to augment the present water supply for the school.

Enrollment in the elementary school is expected to increase more than 50 per cent within the next two years.

Harry Halverson and Associates, Kingston, is architect for the proposed additions.

Final drawings will now be prepared and submitted to the board of education of the school district. If approved by the board they will then be submitted to the State Education Department for approval.

400 Increase by 1962

Superintendent Edward Green of the Rondout Valley Central School District told The Freeman this morning that the district, with almost 2,000 pupils enrolled from kindergarten through the 12th grade, expects an increase of 200 pupils in September, 1961, and 200 in September, 1962. Most of this increase will be on the elementary school level.

A number of young families have moved into the Rondout Valley District in recent years, which partially explains the increases in school enrollment, it is reported.

Fall Start Possible

Green said the board would like to see work start in the fall, with completion by September, 1962.

If the wing can be completed earlier than that there will be

Handicapped Drive Is On, Show Tonight

A county-wide drive to help train area handicapped people for jobs in industry is under way and will carry on through June 25, covering the period proclaimed as Hire the Handicapped Week.

More than 60 workers from local service organizations attended a breakfast this moring in the Governor Clinton Hotel to hear the reasons why support should be given Gateway Industries, Inc., which trains the people at a special workshop at 519 Broadway.

Call for Early Returns

Chairmen of the drive, Richard M. Kalish and Drew Daly gave inspiring talks as did J. Ellis Briggs, Industrial division chairman, and William F. Edelmuth, former mayor, who is president of Gateways. All stressed immediate need for the funds, which will be used for additional equipment.

Brochures have been mailed out and it is hoped that people receiving them will make returns to Gateway, 519 Broadway as soon as possible.

Report meetings for workers will be held two nights at the workshop on Broadway, Wednesday, Judne 21, and Thursday, June 29 at 7:30 o'clock.

The proclamation about Hire the Handicapped Week was issued by Kingston Mayor Edwin F. Radel, who endorses the local training center and the work that Gateway Industries Inc., is doing.

Bates Show Tonight

A special benefit show is being presented at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium tonight at 8:30, arranged by Peg Leg Bates, international star of stage and television, a one-legged dancer who has been encouraging the handicapped for years.

Bates, who lives at his Country Club, a Kerhonkson resort, and a group of entertainers will perform tonight. He promises a real entertaining program, similar to the ones he has arranged and played in for polio and cerebral palsy funds throughout Ulster County.

Contract Expires For Local 1467

Some 700 men at six Hudson Valley brickyards are on strike today following expiration of their contract at midnight Wednesday.

They are members of Local No. 1467, Brickhandlers Union.

Continue Through Night

Negotiations between union and management representatives have been in progress during the past week but final agreement had not been reached by the midnight deadline.

Negotiations continued through the night at the Newburgh Hotel, Newburgh, breaking up about 6 a. m. today. Other meetings were held earlier this week at the Biltmore Hotel, New York City.

May Resume Today

President Joseph Amato said this morning that negotiations were expected to resume later today.

Ulster Will Get $215,924 Refund In Vehicle Fees

Ulster County's share of a distribution of $21,865,819.40 of motor vehicle tax receipts to the counties of the state and New York City for the quarter period ending March 31 was $215,924.47, an increase of $7,608.65 compared with the amount for the same period in 1960.

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt's figures show that Ulster County received $208,315.82 for the first quarer ending March 31, 1960.

Money Received

Other area counties received increases in the distribution for the three-month period of 1961 as follows: (the first figure is the 1961 share and the second 1960)

Greene—$75,648.46, $73,769.91, increase $1,878.55; Columbia—$106,435.67, $96,026.72, up $10,408.94; Orange — $348,268.36, $347,276.03, up $992.33; Delaware—$94,961.75, $88,334.12, up $6,627.63; Dutchess—$273,788.11, $252,401.43, up $21,386.68; Rockland — $228,658.36, $207,070.38, up $21,587.98.

The total distribution is the share of the state-collected motor vehicle fees for the three months ending March 31, which is being returned to the counties in accordance with the state highway law.

25 PC Return

The law provides that 25 per cent of the fees collected under the vehicl and traffic law, exclusive of application fees and service charge for special plates, from residents of counties be returned to local government.

The money is deposited in the county road funds, from which expenditures for construction and maintenance of county road systems are made.

Perry Seeking GOP Mayoral Nomination

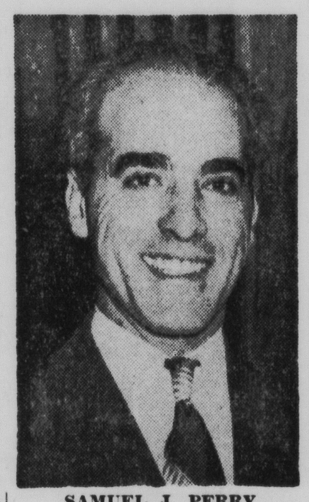
Alderman Samuel J. Perry, (R) Fifth Ward, Common Council minority leader, today said he will seek the Republican candidacy for mayor.

Mentioned for some time as a possible candidate for office, Perry said definitely this afternoon that he will be in the race.

An alderman of 12 years experience in the Common Council Perry has long been an aggressive legislator in the interest of his ward and of the city at large. He is known best in his ward as well as citywide for his stand against a refuse disposal project which a few years ago was planned for the Kingston Point area in his ward.

A veteran of World War II, he served 22 months of sea duty in the Pacific on the Benington, an aircraft carrier. A former employe of the Berardi Construction Co., he is now an operations foreman for the Hudson Cement Co. He is a member of St. Mary's Benevolent Society, St. Mary's Holy Name Society, and of Union Hose Company.

Alderman Perry was mentioned as far back as 1959 as a potential candidate for mayor.



SAMUEL J. PERRY

The announcement today of his candidacy, was the second this week, former Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk, having announced earlier that he would seek the nomination.

Villages Fall in Offensive

Importance Noted By Military Men

GENEVA (AP)—U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman today charged that two companies of troops from Communist North Viet Nam took part in the successful attack on Padong in Laos.

In a speech at the international conference on Laos Harriman said nothing about today's attacks by pro-Communist rebel forces in Laos, which military men judged more important than the attack on Padong on June 7. The West boycotted the conference five days because of its anger about Padong.

May Split Royalists

The latest attacks took two villages near the narrow waist of Laos and threatened to split the forces of the royal Laotian government into two segments.

Although a spokesman for Harriman minimized the importance of these attacks, military men considered them even more flagrant violations of the cease-fire. The Communists have not even complained that it was provoked by supply flights of U. S. planes over their territory, as they did at Padong.

Harriman said:

"The Soviet Union has been almost daily supplying the forces of the rebels, through Xieng Khouang by an airlift which originates in North Viet Nam."

Replies to Gromyko

Harriman's speech was a reply to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, who blamed the United States and pro-Western troops for earlier violations of the Laotian cease-fire proclaimed last month.

Harriman also answered Soviet charges that the United States was deliberately holding up progress of the 14-nation conference.

He said the delay was caused by Gromyko's refusal to send adequate instructions to the International Control Commission and by the refusal of the contending factions in Laos to cooperate with the commission which supervises truce teams in Laos trying to control the cease-fire.

Western delegations here have accused the Communists of using the plenary sessions, attended by all the conference delegations, as a sounding board for propaganda.

Favors Small Groups

Harriman said small working groups would permit careful discussion of rival proposals. "We are fully prepared to enter into detailed drafting work on a paragraph -bv-paragraph, line-by-line, by-line, word-by-word basis," he said.

The United States accuses the Communist-led Pathet Lao guerrillas of violating the cease-fire, which a U.S. military adviser in Laos said Wednesday "has been a joke for the past 10 days."

The Pathet Lao seized the mountain village of Padong June 6 and only Monday captured the government villages of Ban Hat Bo and Ban Pak Lat. All three are positions on the front northeast of Vientiane, the capital. Military observers said 1,000 rebel troops took part in the assault on the two villages.

A U.S. spokesman in Geneva minimized the importance of the latest cease-fire violations and said Harriman had no plans to complain about them at the conference. He said U.S. intelligence reports indicated the forces involved were smaller than news reports indicated and that U.S. military advisers were waiting to

Consider Castro Is Unmasked

Feeling Is Tractor Deal to Save Lives

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kennedy administration officials believe the tractors for prisoners trade — whether it succeeds or fails—may save the lives of 1,200 Cuban invasion captives.

Nobody in Washington feels safe in predicting what action Prime Minister Fidel Castro will take next. But high government officials said today the belief here is that Castro cannot afford now to wheel out his firing squads.

Propaganda Licking

All the evidence adds up to a world-wide propaganda licking for Castro as a result of his offer to trade the prisoners for 500 tractors. Administration officials feel the whole affair has been particularly effective in unmasking in Latin America Castro's pose as a benefactor of the downtrodden.

Castro's offer appears to have embarrassed the Communists at a time when they were exploiting the failure of the American-approved invasion. It may have contributed to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's description of Castro as unstable, and not a Communist in the Soviet leader's recent talks with Kennedy in Vienna.

Foresees Coup

Kennedy was said by close associates to have foreseen the possibilities of a propaganda coup when he took a hand in forming the Tractors for Freedom Committee, whose representatives are negotiating with the Castro government.

Beyond this, however, Kennedy was credited with believing from the beginning that the Castro offer might provide the opportunity to marshal world opinion to the point where the dictator could not afford to liquidate his enemies.

Could Start Something

Any order of the Cuban leader for mass executions is seen here as likely to start the wheels moving toward eventual cooperative inter-American action against his regime.

If the lives of the prisoners are saved, the Kennedy administration believes it will have an effective answer to Republican contentions that the tractor trade would involve not only the payment of "blackmail" to Castro but possible violation of the Logan Act. This bars U.S. nationals from dealings with other governments under specified circumstances.

Ulster to Number Streets Soon, to Ask Sewage Study

The numbering of streets in the town of Ulster will begin in the near future as the result of action Wednesday night by the town board.

The township has been divided into sections for the purpose. The first section in which numbering, or re-numbering, of homes will be instituted runs from the city line (Wrentham Street) to Boice's lane.

After completion of numbering in this area the process will be continued in another section of the township.

To Aid Deliveries

The numbering of homes was approved Monday night by the town planning board and last night by the town board which met in the Lake Katrine Grange.

It was explained that numbering of homes will be systematized, thus facilitating postal and other deliveries, etc.

The section from the city line to Boice's lane is the most populous part of the township.

The board also accepted a road

Pro-Castro Students Burn Automobile Of U. S. Ambassador in Caracas City

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Several hundred pro-Castro students burned U.S. Ambassador Teodoro Moscoso's automobile Wednesday night at Caracas University while he was attending an exhibit.

The students crowded around the car parked on the university campus, yanked the driver from the front seat and set the vehicle afire.

Government officials charged the students acted on order of "well known leftist leaders." The Caracas press has accused university officials of being too lenient with Communists in the student body who staged a bloody uprising late last year.

Moscoso did not see the attack and discounted its significance, saying: "I must say that I feel this does not reflect the true feeling of the people of Venezuela."

A Puerto Rican, Moscoso was appointed ambassador to Caracas last March by President Kennedy in a move to improve U.S. relations with Latin America.

But even before his arrival recently, Moscoso had been the target of student demonstrations denouncing the U.S. role in the ill-fated invasion of Cuba by exiled opponents of Fidel Castro.

The students had been trying to get up a demonstration ever since Moscoso arrived in Caracas but had been thwarted by the vigilance of police, acting on orders of President Romulo Betancourt. However, police traditionally stay off Venezuelan campuses unless invited to enter by school authorities, and Moscoso and his party went unguarded to see the exhibit at the school of architecture.

Moscoso waited in the office of Rafael Devenzi, the university president, while school authorities restored order.

Alejandro Oropeza Castillo, governor of the Caracas District, and scores of police arrived within minutes after the incident was reported but were not called into the campus.

Governor Oropeza accompanied Moscoso back to the U.S. Embassy.

General Sherman V. Hasbrouck, U. S. Army (Ret.), chapter chairman, presided. Invocation was given by Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom and benediction by the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly.

A report of the 1961 fund campaign was given by Wilbur R. Peters, chairman. Mr. Peters reported that $31,600 had been raised against a $34,000 quota. The organization of the city wards and county townships was briefly outlined, and Mr. Peters extended his appreciation to the more than 700 volunteers who participated in the campaign.

William A. Carl, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate for members of the board of directors. The following were elected as new members for a term of three years:

Ground Is Broken For New Building At Dutchess Fair

Ground was broken Wednesday in Rhinebeck for a new building which officials of the Dutchess County Fair describe as "another important step being taken now to be prepared for the future growth of the fair."

The building, an attractive ranch-type home, will be leased to Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. for use as a model display home for the 1961 and 1962 Dutchess fairs, and will eventually be used by the fair organization both as a permanent first aid station and a fine arts or home demonstration exhibit area.

The 2,100 square foot home will be located near the administration building, and adjacent to the Flower Show building on a landscaped lot 150 by 125 feet off Route 9.

Richard C. Murray, secretary of the fair, said the board of directors recently authorized the project "because it provided an excellent opportunity to expand the facilities and exhibit area of the fair to meet future needs at minimum cost."

He added, "For some time now we have anticipated the need to construct and outfit a permanent first aid station by the 1963 and 1964 fairs to replace the smaller facilities now in the administration building. We have foreseen the need for additional exhibit space for the fine arts and home demonstration displays.

"We are fortunate to be able to construct the building now and lease the entire structure to Central Hudson for two years and to do it in such a way as to allow for easy conversion to our future needs," said Murray.

Central Hudson is planning to open the model home in time for the opening of this year's Dutchess Fair on Aug. 25. It will be used for display purposes during the 1961 and 1962 fairs, and perhaps on occasions between fairs.

A one-story building, the new home is the latest design of National Homes, and is being built by Ulster Homes, Inc. When converted for County Fair use, the bedroom section will be used as a first aid station and the living room, dining room, kitchen and garage will become exhibit areas.

Disclaim Bigotry In Opposing Aid To Church Schools

CLINTON, N.Y. (AP)—The New York Synod of the Presbyterian Church disclaimed any bigotry in declaring "we have the right and duty" to oppose public aid to parochial schools.

The synod, in a resolution adopted Wednesday night, said:

"Our (Roman) Catholic brethren have the right to agitate for all the assistance they can get, but we believe we have the right and the duty to call the alarm when any group or church is subverting the Constitution and skirting the wall between church and state."

The resolution said the opposition "is not bigoted and is not deserving of such false labels."

Other resolutions adopted at the 104th annual meeting opposed bingo and open stores on Sundays.

The synod said one of the principal objections of the Protestant church to bingo was that the game "attracts the most undesirable element in town.

"When any citizen supports gambling, legalized or not, he is directly contributing to the complex activities controlled by crime organizations," the resolution said.

Legalized bingo has been under attack since State Investigation Commission hearings that disclosed racketeers had infiltrated some games.

The synod appointed the Rev. William Bells, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Baldwinsville, near Syracuse, associate executive of the synod.

Approximately 400 delegates from 800 churches in the state are attending the three-day meeting, which opened Wednesday.

GOP Chairman Shifts View On Rockefeller for 1964

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new Republican national chairman, who opposed Gov. Rockefeller's candidacy for the 1960 GOP presidental nomination, says the governor "would be a major contender" in 1964 if he won re-election by a big margin.

First for Nixon

Rep. William E. Miller, a Lockport attorney, was an outspoken supporter of Richard M. Nixon during the then vice president's 1959 infighting with Rockefeller over the presidential nomination.

Miller was the first Upstate New York Republican House member to support Nixon publicly over Rockefeller.

And he was instrumental in putting the entire New York Republican House delegation on record in favor of Nixon's candidacy.

But since his election as national chairman less than two weeks ago, Miller has publicly taken a course that, although neutral, appears to favor Rockefeller over Nixon for 1964.

He has even suggested a 1964 Republican ticket of Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., a conservative.

His View About Both

At the same time he had this to say about Nixon:

"Nixon, if he runs for governor of California in 1962 and is elected substantially, would still be a contender, I would presume."

In contrast, Miller says Rockefeller could conceivably win re-election as New York governor by almost one million votes and if he does this "he certainly would be a major contender."

At this point, Miller also sees Goldwater and Nixon as major contenders for the nomination in 1964 and thinks other Republicans such as Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon might come to the forefront in the months ahead.

He says he has no objection to a convention fight for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination and, in fact, thinks one would be healthy for the party.

Rockefeller has shied away from mention not only of his possible candidacy but also of any hint that he might be interested in the presidency.

Disagrees With Javits

Miller's election as chairman will undoubtedly point up the differences in the liberal and conservative wings of the Republican party, especially in New York.

He has already disagreed twice with Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a leader of the GOP liberal wing.

Javits called a possible Rockefeller-Goldwater ticket in 1964 a hybrid.

Rockefeller's ideas are so inconsistent with Goldwater's, Javits has said, "that this would be nothing but a ticket of political convenience and I hope it would not occur."

Following his slection as chairman, Miller also was sharply critical of attempts by private citizens to raise money to buy tractors for Premier Fidel Castro's suggested prisoner exchange in Cuba.

He's Embarrassed

Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., admits he was somewhat embarrassed leaving the White House after his first visit with President Kennedy.

The President had invited several House members, including Pike, to an informal get-together. Pike, however, was anxious to leave after an hour to drive to his Long Island home.

A presidential aide managed to sneak him out of the White House only to be confronted by Pike's eight - year - old son who yelled across the lawn:

"What's the matter, Dad? Did you get sick of it?"

THE NEED FOR ORDER

The situation in the Dominican Republic, following the assassination of Dictator Rafael Trujillo, is under formal investigation by a committee representing the Organization of American States. This is in heartening contrast to freedom's lack of progress elsewhere around the globe.

The OAS action presents a unified approach to the problem of establishing political morality in the western hemisphere as a bulwark against further Communist encroachment. It also raises hopes that Rafael Trujillo, Jr., may be prepared to align his country not with Castro but with the West. This may be too much to hope for. Still, if his father's fate really has brought this playboy to his senses he may make good on his promise to conduct free elections next May.

If this OAS committee can instigate moves which bring order out of the chaotic conditions in the Dominican Republic, it will strengthen the hand of the OAS for the role it ought to play in preventing the loss of Latin America to the Reds. Such a loss must not be allowed to happen. An unanimity of western hemisphere action is the best guarantee against it.

But there remains the seriously disturbing possibility that the OAS committee will not be able to accomplish this, will not be able to assure restoration of order in the Dominican Republic. Yet order must be restored. It is disorder upon which Communist infiltration thrives. With Moscow's backing, Castro's agents will move in quickly if they are not in fact already established on the island.

Western hemisphere unity in this crisis is highly desirable. But if it does not materialize promptly then Washington must face the question whether the time has come for unilateral action.

UNTIL A SALE IS MADE

An advertisement of the Oregon Newspaper Publishers Association carries this heading: "Nothing Happens Until A Sale Is Made." The text adds, "But when sales are made, things happen. America lives, breathes, creates. There is accomplishment, pride. There is progress.

"Where are most sales made? In ads, of course. Ads that tell you what you want to know, about what you want to buy. Ads that guide you in fulfilling needs and wants. Adds that stimulate competition, help keep prices down. Ads that keep America rolling ahead."

These statements come close to being truisms. And they underline two facts of importance to everyone. In our kind of economy, advertising is a basic essential. Through their ads producers and sellers of a thousand and one kinds of goods and services compete for public favor—and, if they are to be successful, they must back up their statements by trying to give the best possible quality for the price.

Secondly, the Association's statement points up the role of retailing in this country. All the productive facilities on earth would be useless if there were no comparable mechanism for moving the products into the hands of the people who want and use them. Mass distribution is the full and equal partner of mass production.

Yes—nothing happens until a sale is made.

GEOGRAPHY LESSON

It is said that in the Kennedy-Khrushchev talks the Soviet premier drew a rough map showing the immense Soviet land mass and its bordering satellites.

His point, of course, was to show the President how easily conventional Russian armies could fan out to adjacent land areas. Those forces, he noted, would be operating on very short supply lines.

However well Kennedy may have held his own in the talks, he could not use a map so convincingly. For geography is not this country's friend, as it once was believed to be.

In the age of rockets and supersonic planes, the broad oceans no longer protect us. But at the same time their expanse still gives us incredible problems in the deployment and supply of the mobile forces which are the only conventional elements we can bring to bear upon remote free areas threatened by tyranny.

'These Days'

T.V.

I fear that I contribute to juvenile delinquency. I look at T.V. murders whenever I have any time for such things. T.V., to me, is fun, relaxation, amusement. If I want to be educated, I prefer a carefully written book or monograph. Most of the learning I find on T.V. adds to juvenile confusion. The debates among politicians and the question and answer programs are too trifling. Give me "Perry Mason," who wins evey case by violating the rules of evidence. Or give me "Gunsmoke" where murder is the theme. What puzzles me is why these men do not marry their women.

Presumably a young fellow becomes a juvenile delinquent because, being bored with virtue, he watches T.V. and becomes vicious. But we had bad boys and bad girls long before there was any such thing as T.V. Jessie James and Gyp the Blood lived before T.V. It is too easy to jump to conclusions about what drives the young to sin and even to murder. We now have a whipping boy, T.V. Nobody, however, is corrupted by any one medium.

For instance, there seems to be a fashion these days for children to sue parents for money the parents earned or own. It seemed to have started with a young lady who went after her grandmother and it goes the rounds like any other fashion. I have not seen this violation of the Ten Commandments on T.V. but it occurs in life quite often. I was told recently that a Mother, coming home at a late hour, saw her very juvenile daughter, dressed to kill and going out. The Mother gently inquired where the young lady was going to and received an impolite reply.

What does a parent do under such circumstances? When I was a child, there was no doubt about it. The parent would seize the child, put it across a knee and give it a thorough spanking. If that is too much effort for the parent, it is certain that the child will grow up not only as a juvenile delinquent but as an adult delinquent. Parents who cater to childish impudence help to manufacture more juvenile delinquents than all the murders on T.V.

Besides, if children look at the murders, whose fault is it? The parent who says that he cannot refuse his child the wish to spend hours watching nonsense on T.V. is really not a parent. Such a person is little more than a legal guardian scared of his wards. The child, who may be bored with T.V., will look nevertheless to establish beyond question who is the boss.

Children who sue parents or grandparents for money which the children did not earn by their own work violate Natural Law and therefore should have no place in any court. It is part of our present leniency to grant children the right to persecute parents and to withdraw from parents the right to protect children from corrupting materialism.

In my opinion, the gossip columnists do more evil than the murders in T.V. When young people equate divorce as equal to marriage; when they regard it as the acme of success to be mentioned in such a column, however disagreeably; when they hire press agents to give them a bad name as long as the name is spelled correctly — then morality disappears and an entire nation suffers from corruption. I recently read one such document and could not discover in it a single name noted for service to the country, for contribution to civilization, or to fine and cultured living. The principal item dealt with a man who is opening living with a woman to whom he is not married.

If he can get away with that, why should not the kids imitate him, and her too, and get their names printed daily and favorably in the gossip columns? You and I can cite dozens of examples of the advertising of the immoral and the indecent to prove that such qualities pay while honest virtue is its own reward and gets you nowhere.

And so, I shall go back to my murders — to "Have Gun—Will Travel" where, at any rate, English is spoken as a language possessing grammar and diction and refinement of expression. Or perhaps I prefer relaxation in a Beatnik cafe where, at least, educated young and old, have something else to speak about than small and petty gossip about each other.

Glaucoma Clinics Pay Off in Sight Saving

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of the most useful and rewarding community enterprises is that in which screening is done for the detection of glaucoma and the prevention of blindness.

A little over a year ago, Milwaukee and Wisconsin groups initiated a "G-Day" under the auspices of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness and local and state medical societies. Between 9 a. m. and 4:45 p. m., a total of 1,451 adults were screend and an additional 300 had to be turned away.

In Brookline, Mass., a similar project was instituted under the auspices of the local chapter of the Lions Club. By Oct. 7, 1960, 41 clinics were held at which 3,018 patients were examined.

In each of these projects, tests were done for distant vision. The backgrounds of the eyes were examined by an ophthalmologist and the tension of the eyeball was measured after a drop of local anesthetic had been instilled.

Of the 1,451 persons tested in Milwaukee, 109 glaucoma suspects were discovered. And in Brookline, of 466 persons with eye conditions at least 38 had unsuspected glaucoma.

Now while there is no way of preventing or curing glaucoma, its effects on vision can be controlled, once the diagnosis is established. And since glaucoma is a principal cause for defective vision and blindness, especially in the elderly, and particularly in those with diabetes and/or a family history of glaucoma, the accomplishments of these G-Days cannot be overestimated.

I feel obligated to pass along the definitions of optician, optometrist and ophthalmologist as adopted by the Executive Committee of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

A prescription optician is a skilled technician who is qualified to grind lenses, fit and dispense eyeglasses.

An optometrist is one whose education, training and licensure qualify him to examine eyes, without the use of drugs, for abnormal visual problems not due to disease (hence, the optometrist is not qualified to perform tonometry for detection of glaucoma). He may prescribe, fit and supply eyeglasses and provide visual training for such conditions. If his examination leads him to suspect defect or a disease requiring medical or surgical treatment, he will refer the patient to a qualified physician or surgeon.

An ophthalmologist or oculist is a doctor of medicine who, while licensed to practice all branches of medicine and surgery, has specialized in the examination of the eye and related structures and in the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of its defects and diseases, prescribing whatever is required, including eyeglasses.

"Hold These a Minute, Kid"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Kennedy will complete his legislative recommendations to this session of Congress before the end of June.

Among messages — barring some new emergency — will be proposal to make permanent the temporarily extended unemployment insurance benefits approved by Congress earlier this year. There will be messages to create the new Disarmament Administration and a youth opportunities bill. The latter proposal incorporates the Conservation Corps idea and a retraining program for unemployed young people unable to go to college.

THERE WILL ALSO BE SEVERAL MORE reorganization plans, including one for the Office of Civilian Defense and Mobilization (OCDM), outlined by the President in his recent "second State of the Union" message.

Since reorganization plans must lie before Congress 60 days before they go into effect, it is essential that any additional plans must be sent to Capital Hill before June 15, assuming that Congress gets the urge to go home by mid-August. Some of the other planned reorganizations must be delayed till next year, because they are not yet ready.

Up to June 1, the President had sent Congress 49 bills for new legislation and 5 reorganization plans.

In this same period, Congress passed 45 measures which have been signed into law by the President. But only 8 of the 45 have dealt with major presidential proposals.

They cover area redevelopment, minimum wage increase, two bills on temporary unemployment insurance extension, aid for dependent children of the unemployed, the feed grain bill, increase in the number of federal judges and approval of the $600 million Latin American aid plans.

THE OTHER 37 VARIETIES of legislation which Congress passed in the last five months principally concern government housekeeping operations, extension of laws about to expire or minor amendment to other laws.

Four of these measures relate to Indian affairs, 4 to public lands, 7 to agriculture, 10 to measures of government administration, such as restoring Eisenhower's Army rank.

Four laws mark anniversaries: 100th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's assassination; making May 1 Law Day; designating one week in May as Transportation Week; extending till June 28, 1961, the date for completion of plans to observe the 175th anniversary of the Constitution, March 4, 1964.

Four more of the laws passed this year provide for medals. They will commemorate: the 250th anniversary of the founding of Mobile, Ala.; make a posthumous award to the late Dr. Thomas A. Dooley; authorize coinage and sale of duplicates for the inauguration medal presented to Poet Robert Frost; mark this year's golden anniversary of Naval Aviation with a "galvano."

For those who haven't time to look it up, a galvano is an electroplated commemorative plaque. This one is being unveiled at a naval aviators' reunion in Pensacola this month.

But the real prize in legislative accomplishment this Congress is Public Law No. 2, signed March 21, 1961. It authorizes distribution of copies of the Congressional Record to former members of the House and Senate. For free, of course. If anything will save the country, this should be it.

SO, ANY WAY YOU LOOK AT IT, the first session of the 87th Congress has not distinguished itself, yet. But give it time. It may catch fire one of these hot days and start passing laws faster than you can keep track of them.

The question is what and how much of the Kennedy program the lawmakers will approve. This program is really so big that few people have any comprehension of it. Congress may turn down some parts of it. But all are worthy of careful consideration.

Business Fears JFK Policy May Set Off New Recession

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, June 14—Business men are beginning to worry about another recession—the one expected after the current recovery has run its course. The real worry about the long-range outlook arises from the failure of the Kennedy administration to come to grips with the things that are hurting the national economy. Instead, there are signs of a deep-seated hostility to business on the part of the Administration which could retard recovery and make another recession inevitable.

Many unsound policies are being advocated. Thus, the drastic changes proposed in the whole system of taxing American companies abroad could bring on a disruption of foreign trade and add to the difficulties of many of our allies.

Likewise, the stimulus that had been expected through a sensible program of tax incentives on depreciation allowances in connection with new plant and equipment has not materialized. Business men don't really know what to expect, and many of the plans that should long ago have been under way to construct new plants haven't been launched as yet. All the benefits of employment that would have been derived from the heavy-goods industries if a broader policy on depreciation had been formulated have, therefore, not been forthcoming.

Needs Seen Ignored

The inclination in the Administration and in Congress to spend money and time on projects that do not assist the normal economic development of the country, but merely add to its deficits has become pronounced. Administration officials talk about spending $40,000,000,000 to develop American exploration of the moon and outer space, but the down-to-earth requirements of a business recovery in America are being ignored.

More than $6,000,000,000 are to be spent by the government for housing, but critics point out that in most areas government money on forty-year mortgages is not so much needed since the rental space available has been steadily increasing in recent years.

Another measure causing concern is the proposal to burden banks, savings-and-loan associations and business generally with the expensive task of deducting tax on dividends at the source. This not only means hardship for small stockholders—especially retired persons—who may not get their normal income promptly hereafter, but it involves a tremendous amount of paper work for the companies themselves. It is one of the most costly things in the way of tax collection ever suggested. Oddly enough, it is being estimated by experts that, if the government did a better checking job on corporation stockholder lists and on payments made in dividends each year, it could readily collect from delinquent taxpayers.

Fears of Inflation

Basically, business is worried about inflationary trends and the upward rise of prices brought on by higher wage levels. When an administration scorns a balanced budget and even suggests that to balance it is harmful, then business men begin to be genuinely concerned about the future.

What is particularly disturbing is that, while the Kennedy administration started off with a friendly interest in the fate of business—and some benevolent phrases were used for a time—the indifference now to the problems faced by American business has become more and more noticeable in Washington.

There was a time when business men felt that the coalition of "conservative" Democrats and Republicans in Congress would prevent any serious disturbance of the business equilibrium by hostile legislation. But the coalition seems to have been weakened by defections in both parties. The tendency to get something while the getting is good seems to have been noted with respect to individual members of Congress. The Administration has been dispensing its favors to Southern Democrats here and there and has been picking up votes for unsound programs. These Southerners have gone along with inflationary measures, too. The net effect has been to notify American business men that, instead of friendliness to the private-enterprise system, the direction in Congress is toward socialization and inflation.

Back home the citizenry has not yet been awakened to what the damage can be to the economic system if the coalition of "conservatives" loses strength in Washington. It has been the single bulwark of the economy for more than a decade and a half, since the ending of World War II. If now a series of recessions ensues, it will be a long while before the country will make the progress that it could well have made if the economic system had been encouraged along sound lines.

OLD TIMER'S CIVIL WAR NOTES

The Cavalry branch of the Union Army played such an important part in bringing victory to the North in the Civil War that too much cannot be said in praise of the daring exploits of these mounted soldiers throughout those long and trying years of pitched battles, engagements and skirmishes. Without these "Eyes of the Army" the great struggle between the States might have dragged along interminably. They scouted hither and yon in that land so strange to our boys, locating the enemy in woods, swamps and mountains, thwarting surprise attacks and often tangling with the "Johnnies" in head-on combat. Small wonder, then, that General Hooker, in the course of his farewell address in New York City said that no regiment had done so much for our cause as the Harris Light Cavalry (known also as the Second Regiment of Cavalry), which was made up of men recruited largely in the Hudson Valley area, where enlistments were received at Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Albany. Your Old Timer in future articles will tell more about this famous regiment which rode, scouted, fought and bled in practically every nook and cranny of the Old Dominion State, and suffered an aggregate death loss of 11 officers and 371 enlisted men.

Suffice it for now, however, to relate a few excerpts from the reminiscences of a Kingston veteran of service with the Harris Cavalry. O.T. will make it a kind of digest of what the old soldier had to say about "Outpost Duty." If, at Shiloh, Grant had been well provided with cavalry and made proper use of them, a surprise would have been impossible. The same can also be said of Hooker at Chancellorsville. ? If the cavalry had not been sent off on a wild goose chase but had been used for the front and flanks, Stonewall Jackson could not have crept up to within musket shot before the Eleventh Corps was aware of his coming. We always watched the roads and lanes, and always at some distance from the Army. This was called outpost duty and the men in the extreme front were known as vedettes, while those who were the immediate support of the vedettes were called reserves of the outpost. These pickets, as they were generally called, not only kept a watch out for the enemy but also examined any person trying to pass the lines. As the war progressed, not much attention was paid to passes, what with so many spies around, but the person was arrested and reported to the reserve.

When the enemy appeared, the vedette fired and fell back on the reserve which then fired or charged, according to the judgment of the officer in command. If the reserve was hard pressed, it fell back to the main body which by that time was all set to receive the attackers. There was considerable sharp fighting on picket duty and the cavalry was kept busy the year round. The infantry and artillery might be in camp taking a much needed rest but the men on horseback seemed always on the go. This vedette assignment obviously was not one for a timid soul—crouching there in the bushes, waiting, watching, listening. . . . These lone outpost scouts were on duty four hours and off four hours when the 'relief' arrived. Where the post was a particularly dangerous one, two men were stationed as vedettes. It was the rule to keep the horses saddled on the reserve and a portion of the men mounted, though the latter part of the rule was seldom carried out.

The most serious work of outpost duty was at night, and just before dawn was a favorite time for the enemy to launch an attack, and the violence of their onslaught, accompanied by the racket of gunfire along the picket lines, the shrill, spine-tingling "Rebel yell," the furious thunder of drums and shrill blasts of bugles made a rude awakening for our boys, sleeping on the Virginia hillsides and dreaming of home. Yes, the safety of the Army to a large extent, depended on the vigilance of the cavalry outposts whose primary rule of duty at all times was "Precaution and Indefatigable Vigilance." Notwithstanding the hardships of outpost duty, especially during wet and cold weather, the Yankee cavalrymen considered it as a whole preferable to the hundrum and monotony of camp life.

Picket duty had its amusing incidents, many of which had to do with words quite familiar to the average soldier. For instance, at one time the countersigns were names of Napoleon's battlefields, such as Eckmuhl, Marengo, Lodi, Leipsic, Montebello, Austerlitz, Boridino, etc. Then, also, by the time the word had reached some of the vedettes it would be twisted into something quite different from the original. Occasionally a fellow on outpost duty, an assignment accompanied by continual tenseness and strain, would forget the countersign entirely; he would get some other word fixed in his mind, thinking it was the one which had been passed along the line. Our Kingston veteran allowed this had happened to him, despite the fact that he had as a boy read most of the campaigns of great generals and knew the names of all the important battles of history.

Not withstanding the fact that letting an enemy spy get past the picket lines might ultimately result in great loss of life, or even defeat in battle, there were numerous stories going the rounds about vedettes confusing or forgetting the countersign, and some of these occasioned a deal of hilarity and joshing amongst the soldiers. Like the one, for instance, where the word passed along by the corporal was "Wagram" with emphasis on the last syllable. One vedette, during the long hours of the night, had got the last part of the word pretty strongly in his mind, for when at home he had been a sheep-raiser. He didn't know beans about the famous battlefield but he did know something about rams. Now when the officer came around to see that none of his vedettes were asleep, and cautiously advanced towards the soldier, the latter called out "Halts! who cames thair." The answer was "Friend." Said the vedette, "Advance me frient an' gif to goundersign," and the officer came forward and gave the word propertly. "No," said the vedette, "dat is not te goundersign." (Our wool-grower may, or may not have been recruited from the fat farmlands of the Pennsylvania Dutch).

"Well, what in h— is the countersign then?" said the officer who was now getting pretty riled up. "I tell you that Wagram is the word." "No et ish not," returned the vedette, "it has sometings to do mit a buck sheep, and I vill arrest you, tam you!" This he did, and he forced the officer to stand for half an hour until the relief came around. Orders were strict and the officer well knew that if he as much as moved, the young fellow would not hesitate to put a bullet in him. When finally he was released, though the cautious vedette had violated orders in hinting as to the countersign, he did not punish him, for then the story would have been current gossip throughout the whole regiment. (Maybe it was, anyway. These things have a way of getting around).—C. A. W.

So They Say..

Nationwide use of all legal deductions would kill the present tax structure. And, believe me, the present tax setup could stand some revisions.

Early Word Due From PSC About N.Y. Blackout

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller's press secretary says the State Public Service Commission will report to the governor "at the earliest possible time" on its investigation of Tuesday's 4½-hour blackout in five square miles of Manhattan.

The secretary, Robert L. McManus, said Wednesday that electrical engineers of the commission arrived at the scene of the power failure in about 10 minutes after the blackout started.

McManus made the statement after Mayor Robert F. Wagner had called for a state investgation of the failure in the Consolidated Edison Co. network.

McManus said the commission investigators worked through Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Consolidated Edison blamed the blackout on "an unusual coincidence of failures" of the circuit-breakers in its electric power substation on West 65th Street.

J. Eliot McCormack, Consolidated Edison vice president for operations, said the company plans to revise "the scheme of automatic protection" so that even such a coincidence would not cause service interruptions again.

JFK Names Publisher As Swiss Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP) —Robert McKinney, editor and publisher of the Sante Fe New Mexican, is President Kennedy's choice for ambassador to Switzerland.

The nomination, made public Wednesday, is subject to Senate confirmation.

McKinney, 50, is a former assistant secretary of the interior and has served in the past as U.S. representative to the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna.

Bobby Explains Policy

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says, before taking federal action in a civil rights problem, he first attempts to determine ff the problem can be resolved amicably.

Kennedy, speaking Wednesday at the annual meeting of the National Association of Attorneys General, said he was well aware the civil rights question was a sensitive one in many areas.

He said that he follows a policy of nonintervention in civil rights until he has consulted with officials of the state involved.

He said it was his duty to enforce U.S. Supreme Court decisions such as antisegregation rulings.

Gives Up Millions To Become Cleric

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Eleven years ago Jim Saxon's vending machine firm did $800,000 in business. Now it is a $3 million enterprise.

But Saxon, 31, is leaving the concern July 20 to begin three years study to become a Presbyterian minister. He will enroll at Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Va. His wife and six children will accompany him.

Jim's father, J. Herman Saxon, sells vending machines. Jim's firm, which operates and stocks the machines, will be taken over by his father.

The younger Saxon said he had been seriously considering the move for three years. "It got so I couldn't dismiss it anymore," he said.

On Way to Florida

Riders Continue Protest, No Incidents in Carolina

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Florida-bound "Freedom Riders" today continued their protest against bus station segregation after testing South Carolina's citadel of racial separation without serious incident.

The largest of three groups left Sumter, S.C., without difficulty shortly after midnight, en route to Jacksonville, Fla. The four Jewish rabbis, eight white Protestant ministers and six Negro ministers were to change buses at Jacksonville and go to Tallahassee, Florida's capital, before flying back to New York this afternoon.

May Combine for Tampa

Two inter-racial groups spent the night in Charleston and were to leave for Savannah, Ga., in the morning. From there the seven men and women in each group were to go to Jacksonville, spend the night, and possibly combine for an extended ride, probably to Tampa, Fla.

The riders left Washington via Greyhound bus to make the first such test of Florida's segregation practices. They were refused restaurant service in two small South Carolina towns but encountered no trouble in the Charleston terminal restaurant.

Two buses brought 14 of the riders to Charleston from Wilmington, N.C. A third bus carried the clergymen from Raleigh, N.C., to Sumter, where they halted for a church service. The clergymen were refused lunch counter service at a motel cafe on the outskirts of Sumter. They later ate at a Negro cafe.

Report No Difficulty

The first group of riders arriving from Wilmington reported no difficulty en route. The second group of seven reported two members ran into trouble at Conway, S.C.

Mrs. Dupree C. White, 40, a Negro from New York City, said a white man walked behind the depot lunch counter, grabbed a knife, and ordered her and a companion to leave. She said a waitress refused them service.

Laura Randall, 25, a New York white woman making her first freedom ride, said the man gestured with the knife but she did not view his action as a threat to attack them.

Other Developments

In other racial developments:

The federal government's historic bid to intervene in a Virginia school case was rejected on grounds it will unduly delay and prejudice the rights of both sides in the lengthy court battle in Prince Edward County.

Those grounds were given by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Oren Lewis in turning down Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's request that the federal government be allowed to enter the case as a plaintiff. Kennedy had contended this was necessary to prevent circumvention of the court's desegregation order that led the county to close its public schools.

The city of New Rochelle, N.Y., asked a federal appeals court to stay an order allowing students in a predominantly Negro school to transfer to other schools. The Board of Education president said preventable chaos would result if the order, now being appealed, is put into effect and later reversed.

The city of Memphis, Tenn., asked a federal court to approve a plan for gradual desegregation of municipal recreation facilities. The plan was a counter to a suit demanding that all tax-supported recreational facilities be desegregated immediately.

The U.S. Court of Appeals at New Orleans held that the New York Times and one of its staff members can not be sued for libel in Alabama. The case stemmed from an article on segregation which appeared in the newspaper.

The New Britain, Conn., park board ordered an investigation of the rejection of membership applications from two Negroes by a golf club which uses the municipal course and makes special use of municipal club house facilities.

Perry Acquitted Of Speed Charge

Samuel J. Perry Jr., 19, of 54 Abruyn Street, charged with speeding in March, was found innocent after city court trial today.

It was charged by Officer Leon Fitzgerald that he had exceeded the speed limit on the East Chester Street bypass. Attorney John E. Gotelli, who defended him, argued against the clocking distance involved. Francis J. Vogt represented the district attorney's office.

George Nieffer, 58, of Route 3, Box 51, Saugerties, who was recently issued a summons charging him with speeding, was fined $10.

Professional Engineers Slate Social June 21

Augustus Brinnier of Brinnier and Larios, and Al Wenner of IBM, have completed arrangements for the annual social affair of the Ulster Chapter, New York State Society of Professional Engineers.

Members and guests of the chapter will participate in an afternoon of swimming and golf followed by dinner and entertainment Wednesday, June 21, at Twaalfskill Country Club.

All members have been notified and responses are requested to assure reservations.

President Roland H. Green, Ulster County superintendent of highways, plans a very short business meeting which will be the announcement of the various committees for the coming year. Vice President Irwin Gellen of IBM has secured some light entertainment for the wives and guests following the dinner.

The proportion of American high school students studying Latin has risen in the last decade. It is second only to Spanish.

France to Keep Cease-Fire Plan Despite Attacks

PARIS (AP)—France decided today to continue its unilateral cease-fire in Algeria despite an increase in rebel hit-and-run attacks and suspension of peace talks.

France's half-million-man army in Algeria was ordered on May 20 to limit action to self-defense. That was the day peace talks with rebel leaders began in Evian les Bains.

Rebel leaders refused to order their forces to cease fire, charging the French acted unilaterally to gain a propaganda advantage. There has been a marked increase in terrorist attacks since May 20 although Algerian rebel military action has continued on a low scale.

The peace talks were suspended indefinitely by France Tuesday, with the suggestion they resume after a 10-15 day cooling off period.

There had been speculation France would order its army to resume normal offensive operations, but after a Cabinet meeting today, the government announced the May 20 order will remain in effect. It was pointed out terms of the order remain valid—French troops are permitted to reply to rebel fire and pursue terrorist attackers.

A Cabinet spokesman gave no details on the deadlocked peace talks.

Chou Says China Wants to Coexist

TOKYO (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai said Wednesday night Red China wants "to coexist in peace with countries of different social systems."

Chou asserted that the nearly six years of intermittent talks between U.S. and Red Chinese ambassadors in Geneva and Warsaw "prove that China is seriously carrying out its advocacy of the settlement of international disputes through peaceful negotiations."

The amouorial talks were designed to discuss problems between the two nations, including Americans imprisoned in Red China. But they have deadlocked on Red Chinese demands that U.S. military forces quit Formosa.

Suspended Sentence Given Waterman, Burke Up June 27

Donald Waterman, 19, of 61 German Street, charged along with his brother George Waterman, 17, with a burglary at the Friendly Tavern on Thomas Street last March, was given a year suspended jail sentence by County Judge Raymond J. Mino on Wednesday. Waterman had previously entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry and petit larceny. He was placed on probation for the maximum period and directed to report to Probation Officer Charles E. Schultz. Waterman was represented by Marshall Lipton.

The case of George Waterman, 17, was disposed of when he entered a plea of innocent to the charge of being a Youthful Offender and the indictment was sealed and the case moved to chambers.

Patrick Burke, 20, of 24 Smith Avenue, entered a plea of guilty to burglary, third degree, and will be sentenced on June 27 at 2 p. m. Hugh Elwyn appeared by assignment for Burke and moved a second count in the indictment, unlawful entry, be dismissed. Judge Mino reserved decision on the motion. Burke was jointly indicted with Michael Christofora, 23, of 350 Broadway, and Howard Quick Jr., 20, of 28 Liberty Street, with a burglary at the Pine Grove Manufacturing Co., Inc., plant at 45 Pine Grove Avenue on March 9, 1961. The three were surprised in the plant by police who had been keeping a check on the premises.

Imposition of sentence on Burke was postponed in order to allow time for a pre-sentence report to be submitted to the court by the probation officer.

A burglary, third degree; unlawful entry and petit larceny indictment returned against Lawrence Elrice Black, was moved over the term by S. James Mathews, attorney for Black.

Arlington Budget Is $2,775,820, Five at Hearing

A tentative budget of $2,775,820 was submitted Tuesday night at a public hearing conducted by the board of Arlington Central School district.

Although the 1961-62 budget is $381,632 higher than this year's estimated expenditures, only five persons attended the hearing.

The budget will be voted upon at the annual school district meeting July 11 at 8 p. m.

If the budget is adopted at its present figure, tax rate increases will range from $1.44 to $2.83 a $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Of the new budget, $1,280,537 will be raised by taxes, an increase of $114,162, which Superintendent of Schools Harold C. Storm said will result in a boost of 55 cents in the full value tax rate for the district.

Several other cases were adjourned until Tuesday, June 27, at 2 p. m. to which time Judge Mino recessed the term.

Firms Are Lauded For Support of Urban Week Here

Mayor Edwin F. Radel in support of observance this week of Urban Renewal and Home Modernization Week, congratulated local business and banking houses which have "offered their public support and promoted interest in the urban renewal' program."

In promoting a program "so complex and important" as urban renewal, he said, it is gratifying to see such keen interest.

"The publicity and advertising generated by these local agencies as the result of my having proclaimed this week" to emphasize urban renewal, he said, "may well be the incentive and inspiration necessary to stimulate individual programs of rehabilitation of property."

From this, he added, could come a "pride of ownership that may have otherwise been replaced by the attiude that originally created the present substandard conditions that the urban renewal program intends to correct." His proclamation, he said, was in support of the national program as approved by President Kennedy.

TV Commercials To Be Shorter

WASHINGTON (AP)—A television industry board has decreed shorter commercials.

The Television Board of the National Association of Broadcasters Wednesday amended its TV code to change its regulations on commercials.

The most important change will reduce the maximum commercial time during peak viewing hours from six minutes per half-hour to four minutes.

The board also ruled that all nonprogram material—such as public service announcements, plugs for other programs, opening and closing sponsor announcements—will count as part of the four-minute commercial time.

Another change will reduce the number of spot commercials between shows during peak viewing time from three to two.

The code amendments take effect Oct. 29.

The code is a recommended standard for stations belonging to the National Association of Broadcasters. Only the stations that abide by the code are permitted to display the association seal.

Ants Tie Up Traffic

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A busy intersection's traffic signal went on the blink for nearly four hours—ants found the wiring tasty.

Electronics Technician Bob Ogan explained: The insects apparently found a certain type of wiring insulation to their liking. They ate it off. Then some ants bridged between the wires and the metal control box case, shorting the signal.

The insulation was replaced—with a type less appetizing to ants.

Foe Overcalls, Then What?

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What do you do in Jacoby-Smith when an opponent overcalls? If you have a raise for your partner, you simply ignore the overcall. Thus the single raise still shows a 10 point limit; the double raise a 13 point limit; the jump to game less than 11 high card points, but at least 13 supporting points; and the three no-trump bid remains a force and shows the same 11-15 high card points and 13-17 supporting points.

South opened one spade at all tables. When West passed North always raised to two spades. Some South players were allowed to play two spades which makes easily. At other tables West backed in with three diamonds and went down one trick.

When West overcalled with two diamonds the Jacoby-Smith Norths bid two spades. The North players who used standard American had to pass. They did not have enough strength for the so-called free raise."

South could find no rebid and West was allowed to play and make his two diamonds.

All this does not mean too much. All differences were small since the North-South top was 110 and the East-West top plus 90, but if you can win the part score hand in either rubber bridge or duplicate, the slams will take care of themselves.

Kennedy Takes Cruise to Relax

WASHINGTON (AP) — A surprise cruise on the Potomac took President Kennedy out of the White House for the first time since Monday, breaking his routine of work and treatment of his injured back.

Kennedy will take some more time off tonight to welcome his wife back from Europe.

Without advance word, Kennedy slipped out of the White House at sunset Wednesday and motored to the Navy gun factory where he boarded the Patrick J., one of the boats used by the first family.

Kennedy and his companions—his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith; Harvard classmate Rep. Robert McDonald, D-Mass., and New York advertising man R. LeMoyne Billings—had dinner aboard. After a leisurely cruise of about 2 hours and 20 minutes they docked in Washington at 10:05 p.m.

He has been using crutches but White House news secretary Pierre Salinger, who disclosed the boat ride, said Kennedy evidently had no trouble boarding the Patrick J.

The President will see his wife for the first time tonight since he left London June 5 at the end of his Paris-Vienna-London conferences She went on to Greece on a sightseeing trip.

Mrs. Kennedy, who didn't learn the extent of her husband's ailment until she read of it in the papers at Athens, is scheduled to land at 11 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time. She will fly down from New York in the Kennedy family plane, the Caroline, immediately after crossing the Atlantic by commercial aircraft.

Two Unions Rejected As Bargaining Agents

CORTLAND, N.Y. (AP)—Smith-Corona Marchant Inc. employes at two plants have rejected two unions as their bargaining representatives.

In the National Labor Relations Board voting, 1,261 favored the machinists and 109 the IUE. In all, 3,450 employes were eligible to vote.

Observe Flag Day At Rotary Club

Flag Day was observed by members of Kingston Rotary Club at its regular luncheon-meeting Wednesday. The patriotic exercise was part of the program which included a talk on the Holland and Lincoln Tunnels of the New York Port Authority.

Participating in the Flag Day observance were the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church and chaplain of Kingston Lodge of Elks, and Frederic Snyder, lecturer and news analyst.

Chaplain Shellenberger led the Rotarians in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and Rotarian Snyder gave a brief history and explained the significance of its 184th anniversary.

The Flag was born on June 14, 1777. Meeting in Philadelphia, the Continental Congress adopted the following resolution: The flag of the United States shall be of 13 stripes of alternate red and white, with a union of 13 stars of white in a blue field, representing the new constellation.

Raymond C. Cruthers, former manager of Holland and Lincoln Tunnels, gave a very interesting talk on the tunnel system. He is now retired after 29 years' service. A resident of West Shokan, he is a member of the Onteora School Board.

Patriotism Talk Given by Stang At Flag Ceremony

The importance of patriotism was emphasized Wednesday night at the annual Flag Day ceremonies conducted by Kingston Lodge 550, BPO Elks, with former Mayor Frederick H. Stang delivering the principal address.

Speaking at the Fair Street Elks Club, Stang called attention to the importance of Americanism and patriotism and was critical of modern apathy. He spoke in behalf of a little of the "old-fashioned" brand of patriotism, described what the American flag has meant to the nation in the past and should mean in the present and future.

City Judge Aaron E. Klein welcomed persons attending the ceremonies which brisk weather drove from Academy Green, and another former mayor, William F. Edelmuth, traced the history of the flag.

The program included the national anthem by the Kingston Concert Band; Flag Day ritual by officers of the lodge; band selection, Marlin Morrette, conductor; introduction, Est. Leading Knight George McCardle Jr., for Exalted Ruler Michael J. Marchuk.

"America the Beautiful" was sung and the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, chaplain pronounced the invocation.

Music for the services was provided by the Musicians Union, Local 215, Kingston, through a grant from the recording industry.

County Red Cross

Kingston; William Schiff, Hurley; Clair S. Sheaffer, Kingston and Minford A. Overfield, Kingston.

A certificate in appreciation of outstanding volunteer service to the chapter was awarded to General Hasbrouck who served as a member of the board of directors since 1957; as fund chairman in 1959; chaiman of the 1960 fund planning committee since 1959; and as Chapter chairman since April 1960.

A posthumous award was made to the family of Henry H. Parker. Mr. Parker served as a member of the board of directors from 1956 to 1960; as disaster chairman from 1957 to 1959; and member of the fund planning committee and chairman of the house committee. The awards were presented by Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, first vice chairman.

The guest speaker was Everett A. Golway, regional manager of the Eastern Area Office of Alexandria, Va. He outlined all the strife and tension in the world since 1929. Immediately after the Korean conflct the International Red Cross Committee moved in to help the prisoners of war. These men came back home because the American people believed in the symbol of Red Cross and sent them prisoner of war packages to keep them alive, he said.

In Hungary, the Red Cross Society moved in to aid the revolters. This was the American people who, through the Red Cross, chose to remember that we are "our brothers keeper," Golway said. When all diplomatic channels failed in East Berlin it was the International Red Cross that managed to get the prisoners released and returned to their families in this country.

Police Charge Woman

A charge of illegal possession of hypodermic needles, a syringe, and other items, was lodged against a woman, who, police said became ill Wednesday on Furnace Street. Janet Mackintosh, 47, of 67 Baldwin Avenue, Pittsfield, Mass., was booked on the charge and is due for city court hearing June 28. Sgt. William Snyder with Officers Lewis Keator and Raymond Wells answered the call to Furnace Street yesterday. The woman was taken to Kingston Hospital in a Fatum ambulance.

Judge Modifies Ben's Sentence, Parole Possible

SEATTLE (AP) — Sentence against Wells Benner Van Steenbergh Jr., 25, tunneling bank robber, has been modified to make him eligible for parole after three years, federal officials said today.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Jeremiah M. Long said the 20-year maximum term imposed on the unemployed commercial airline pilot remains unchanged but 3 2-3 years were sliced off the time when he could be paroled.

Van Steenbergh, formerly of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., had been sentenced on March 30 by Judge Boldt to 20 years in federal prison for the $45,689 tunnel burglary of the South Seattle branch of the Peoples National Bank on Feb. 19.

But the judge said then he would consider a reduction of the sentence after receiving a probation report.

In his memorandum decision and order modifying the sentence, Judge Boldt said he disregarded a 1956 first-degree murder charge against Van Steenbergh because the youth was acquitted.

Van Steenbergh had been charged in the arson slaying of Mrs. Lloyd Beresford, 29, in Staatsburg, N.Y.

Subpoenaes Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities, getting the jump on another House group, today subpoenaed officials of the National Science Foundation for questioning of award of a fellowship to a student convicted of contempt of Congress.

The action left the House Space Committee, which had invited foundation officials to appear before it this morning, cooling its heels without any witnesses.

Driver Is Sought

CLEVELAND, N.Y. (AP) — State Police and deputy sheriffs continued to search today for a young motorist who eluded them in a wild chase early Wednesday and escaped into woods after his automobile struck a tree.

State Police have put out a four-state alarm for the driver, believed to be from Syracuse, and wanted for reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

An 18-year-old girl companion, injured in the crash, claimed she knew the driver only by an alias, troopers said.

Chester Lang Dies

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)— Chester H. Lang, 68, a member of the State Board of Regents and a retired vice president of the General Electric Co., died unexpectedly today in Ellis Hospital.

He was admitted to the hospital Tuesday night after suffering a heart attack.

Lang was elected in 1957 to the Board of Regents, governing body of the state's educational system.

His term on the Board of Regents would have expired in 1965.

He retired in 1955 from GE after 36 years with the company and 14 years as a vice president.

State's Builders Conference Opens At Saranac Lake

SARANAC LAKE — Legislation and policies to benefit home owners and the building industry will be determined during the three-day mid-year conference and directors' meeting of the New York State Home Builders Association which opened here today under direction of Alvern H. Butler of Massena, general chairman.

Malvern Cunningham, realtor of 202 Fair Street, is a member of the State HBA executive committee.

The conference began this morning with a meeting of the executive committee, headed by Wayne E. Edwards of Binghamton, State HBA president. It will end with an address at a banquet Saturday night by George L. Ingalls, of Binghamton, majority leader in the State Assembly.

Decisions made by the executive committee will be approved, modified or rejected by the board of directors on Saturday.

Friday is set aside for panel discussions of community facilities and better merchandising, while the women attending the conference will hear an address by Mrs. Dale Fairless Witt of Virginia Beach, Va., president of the Women's Auxiliary of the National Association of Home Builders.

How to provide community facilities, such as schools, playgrounds, sewage disposal and the like at lower cost to home owners will be discussed Friday morning by a panel.

Ave Links Red

No Guarantees

The capture of Padong prompted the United States to lead a Western walkout of the conference last week. Western delegates returned to the conference Monday after Britain and the Soviet Union—as cochairmen of the conference—appealed to all factions in Laos to observe the truce. But the West did not get the guarantees of an effective cease-fire it demanded.

The international control commission of India, Canada and Communist Poland reported, however, that the sporadic fighting does not indicate a widespread breakdown of the cease-fire. The commission's report was announced in New Delhi by Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon of India on his return from the Geneva meeting.

Two Give Views

The leaders of the two factions in Laos opposed to Premier Boun Oum's Western-backed government gave their views on neutralizing Laos at Wednesday's conference session.

They are Prince Souvanna Phouma, a self-styled neutralist who is regarded as the leading candidate for premier in a coalition Laotian government, and his half brother, Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the Pathet Lao.

Souvanna Phouma, regarded in Communist capitals as the legal premier of Laos, said a united Laotian government should proclaim the country's neutrality, shun military alliances, close its borders to foreign troops and dominate the activities of the international control commission.

from Route 28 to the Skytop Motel about a mile west of Kingston. The road, built by Arnold S. Rymkevitch, was approved by the planning board Monday evening.

Landing Strip Approved

The board authorized Supervisor Al Banyo to apply for a federal grant for an engineering survey in the township in connection with the possible installation of sewage disposal and water systems. Thus, any part of the township would have access to information on such an installation, its cost location, etc.

Permission was granted to Raymond Coles to install a landing strip for light planes on Flatbush Road. The strip will be approximately 3,000 feet long. It will be available for business executives and others who use planes for commuting.

The board will advertise bids for completion of roads in the Whittier development. The bids will be opened at 3 p. m. Thursday, July 6, at the town clerk's office.

The board voted to purchase a new four-wheel Willys truck for the water district from the Albany Avenue Garage and a four-wheel loader for the highway department from the Ken Smith Machinery Co.

All members of the board were present at the meeting last night. Attending besides the supervisor were Councilman Ted Musialkiewicz, Councilwoman Mrs. Elizabeth Acker, Justices of the Peace Robert S. Stedge and Arthur Reilly.

Also present was the clerk, Mrs. Laura K. Every, Road Superintendent Cortland Van Etten and Albert Cross, superintendent of the water district.

NAACP Corrects Wilkins' View On Freedom Try

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Association for the advancement of Colored People, says its executive secretary, Roy Wilkins, is not opposed to "Freedom Rides" as a technique.

In a news conference and a later speech in Jackson, Miss., on June 7, Wilkins made statements about the efficacy of staying in jail which an Associated Press reporter took as an indirect rebuke at freedom rides.

NAACP Approves Rides

Wilkins says this interpretation was incorrect and that "the NAACP approves the rides and defends them from the usual critics." The prepared text of the section of his speech in question follows:

"Out of our experience, we know that shock troops are necessary. We know that sacrifice is necessary. We know that testing and challenging are necessary.

"We also know that solid, basic legal moves are necessary if there is to be a foundation for other action. Affirmative action by judicial, legislative and executive means is indispensable. This is still a nation of law. If we colored people hold the white people of the South to law and the constitution, we cannot sneer among ourselves at the law and the legal processes.

"By the same token, just because the NAACP does not agree down to the smallest detail with the plans and procedures of other organizations is no reason for us to throw roadblocks in their way.

Favors Test Case

"For example, we believe the way to test a law is to set up a test case, carry it through the courts and get a determination. We do not believe you can test a law and get it thrown out by staying in jail. After one spends 30 or 60 or 90 days in jail, the law is still on the statute books and still constitutes a support for segregation.

"But we of the NAACP do not sneer at those who choose to stay in jail, for they are thus registering a personal and powerful moral protest against injustice."

Later in the prepared text of his speech Wilkins said:

"The lesson here is that all methods should be used and that history and experience should not be ignored. In baseball sometimes a bunt does the job and sometimes a home run."

Dock Tieup Is Possible On 3 Coasts

NEW YORK (AP) — A major shipping tieup on the East, West and Gulf coasts is threatened for midnight tonight.

Some hope of settling the Gulf Coast phase of the dispute between ship operators and a variety of unions was voiced Wednesday night.

Max Harrison, labor consultant handling negotiations for the Gulf Coast operators, reported substantial progress in bargaining with the Masters, Mates and Pilots—the Deck Officers Union.

Charles M. Crooks, international president of the Deck Officers Union, said he was "very hopeful" and predicted quick agreement today on contract issues still in dispute.

Strikes by 70,000-odd working members of five unions could immobilize the bulk of the nation's merchant marine of about 950 ships.

One of the unions whose contract is expiring tonight is the National Maritime Union, with 37,000 members of whom 22,000 are actively employed.

NEW YORK (AP)—A selective advance among industrials kept the stock market slightly higher in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .20 at 248.40 with industrials up .90, rails off .20 and utilities off .20.

Gains of fractions to about a point outnumbered losers in the same range.

Big Three motors, rubbers, most chemicals and some aircrafts and nonferrous metals helped keep the average on the upside. Utilities, tobaccos and rails edged lower.

Chrysler, up a point, was the best of the motors. General Motors was firm and Ford rose a fraction.

Korvette jumped about 2 points. J.W. Mays fell more than 3.

International Business Machines spurted 7 points. Zenith added well over a point.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .16 at 695.97.

Lenient, Legal or Lethal

Three Choices Defined For Course on Berlin

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lenient, legal or lethal.

Those are the choices for the West and Russia in settling their Berlin argument. The city will be steadily in the news now although no crisis is expected soon.

President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev chilled each other's blood when they discussed West Berlin earlier this month. Each warned the other he meant business.

Ties With the West

This city—whose ties are with West Germany—lies 110 miles inside Communist East Germany, which the West does not recognize as a legitimate government.

All supplies and people bound for West Berlin must pass through East Germany, which is under the Russian thumb. That's the main Russian weapon in this dispute.

Highly prosperous West Berlin—unlike the much less affluent East Berlin, which the Communists run—has become a pain to Russia.

It's a Western showcase, a Western outpost in the heart of a Communist land. And Khrushchev says it's used to create trouble.

It's also a harbor for Germans fleeing communism in East Germany.

Stalin tried to put an end to all this in 1948 by shutting off Western supplies to the city. President Truman wrecked that move with an airlift.

The West—meaning the United States, Britain and France — has troops in West Berlin and make this argument, based on agreements with Russia growing out of World War II:

Legal Argument of West

It has a right to keep troops there and the land-water-rail-air routes — over which people and supplies for West Berlin travel through East Germany—must be kept open.

This is the West's legal argument. As of now it is standing on that.

But for years Khrushchev has been threatening that the wartime agreements are outdated and new solutions must be found. Last weekend he issued a statement on what he thinks must be done.

He said it's time for signing a peace treaty — meaning a treaty which has been pending since World War II — with the East German government. For the West to do this would mean it had caved in and recognized the East German government.

He said further that West Berlin—notice he didn't say Communist East Berlin—would be demilitarized with the signing of a peace treaty. In other words, the Allies would then lose any claim to a right to have troops in Berlin.

Threatens Treaty

West Berlin, he said, would be considered a "free" and demilitarized city. But he said that if the United States balks, this will happen:

Russia will sign the peace treaty with East Germany and turn over to the East German Communists control of all the supply routes to West Berlin. Russia controls them now because the West says it won't do business with East Germany.

Once the East Germans controlled the routes, the Western powers would have to do business with them. In doing so, the West in effect, would be recognizing the East German government as legitimate, whether it did so formally or not.

This is what the Russians would call a legal settlement.

Compromise Possible

It's possible—when Khrushchev forces the issues as he is expected to, perhaps after next October—the two sides could work out a situation through compromises which neither is suggesting at this point.

Compromise of the two opposing positions would be a lenient solution.

But if Russia turns over control of West Berlin's access routes to the East Germans and the latter then shut off those routes in order to isolate Berlin, what would the West do?

In the first place, the East Germans wouldn't shut off the routes without a go-ahead from Russia because without Russian backing any attempt to close the routes against Allied military force would be an empty gesture.

Must Act or Else

But—once the routes were shut and the Allies decided to use force to batter their way through to Berlin — the Russians would have to use force to stop them or face world embarrassment.

This action and counter-action, which might mean war, would be the lethal solution.

Khrushchev, since he's talked so long and so much about getting Berlin out of his hair, must eventually take some action or appear to have backed down under Allied resistance.

Yet, if the Allies let the Russians and East Germans shut them off from West Berlin, their allies everywhere certainly would lose faith in them.

Republicans Call On Kennedy to Cite U.S. Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) —Republican congressional leaders called on President Kennedy today to say whether there has been any departure from the administration's declared position of standing "firm" in defense of West Berlin.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader, said he wondered whether the proposal by Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader for a "free city" of Berlin constituted a "trial balloon" for a possible policy change.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House Republican leader, said Kennedy, upon his return from his Vienna talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, told the American people the United States would maintain its long-time policy in support of West Berlin.

"The American people are entitled to know if there has been a change in our position," Halleck added.

The two GOP spokesmen voiced their demands for a clarification of policy in a joint news conference held after the regular weekly meeting of GOP congressional leaders.

Mansfield, emphasizing he spoke only as a senator and not as an administration spokesman, suggested in a Senate speech Wednesday the creation of an internationaly guaranteed "free city" of Berlin as a way out of the East-West stalemate over its future.

Lack of Exchange Listing Should Not Bar Purchase

Q) "Would you comment on Laboratory for Electronics in particular and trading in over-the-counter market in general?" —J. W.

A) This stock has come along rapidly since a management reorganization in 1956. In a 1960 prospectus, David Rockefeller was listed as a major stockholder, and he may well have been responsible for upgrading the company's operations.

I estimate that earnings for the fiscal year ending April 1962 may approach $3 a share. On this projection LFE is selling for 18 times net and does not look over-valued.

Now as to the over-the-counter market in general. There has been a great deal of recent criticism of trading in this market, much of which has been unjustified. It is true that the unlisted market is more volatile than the Big Board, partly because there are no specialists in the former to smooth out wide fluctuations. Also there is no centralized trading place and transactions are effected privately all over the country.

Nevertheless, the OTC market involves some 25,000 issues and gives wider scope to investors than does the Big Board, with around 1600 listings. And many unlisted stocks do very well before ultimately going on the Exchanges. A number of NYSE issues which I have frequently mentioned here were being traded over-the-counter at much lower levels, within the past year and a half. A list would include American Hospital Supply, First Charter Financial, Green Shoe and Tractor Supply.

I do not hesitate to buy OTC stocks but I exercise the same care—no more and no less—as I do with listed issues.

Q) "I own American Sterilizer which has moved down recently. Can you tell me why?"—W. W.

A) As far as I can determine, there has been some price cutting in the dental area of their business, reducing earnings temporarily. I regard Sterilizer as a strong stock in a growing industry and am not concerned about what appears to be a temporary dip.

Electric Shock Kills Boy, 8, at Park Rocket Ride

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—Milo Tafuto, 8, of Mechanicville, was killed by a "one-in-a-million shot," State Police say.

The boy was killed by electric shock Monday night when he touched a wire fence as he alighted from an amusement-park rocket ride.

State Police Inspector V. P. Versage said that because of moisture, the electrical control of the ride apparently became grounded when Milo touched the fence, resulting in the shock that killed the boy.

Versage called it a "one-in-a-million" coincidence.

The State Labor Department, after inspecting the ride, Wednesday ordered all rides at the park, Brown's Beach on Saratoga Lake, halted until adjustments were made in the grounding of electrical equipment.

Versage said the wiring in the control box of the coin-operated rocket ride, which bobbed back and forth, had been dampened by heavy rains.

Labor department inspectors said the ride, mounted on the control box, was not suitable for outdoor use.

The labor department spokesman said the State Board of Standards and Appeals was drafting, for the department, safety inspector standards for amusement rides.

Legislation enacted this year authorizes the department to set safety rules for amusement rides at carnivals and fairs. The legislation, however, was aimed primarily at traveling shows.

Eight Groups Get AHRC Plaques for Helping Retarded

At public recognition ceremonies held during the annual meeting of the Ulster County Chapter, Association for the Help of Retarded Children, Inc., eight organizations were cited for "providing opportunities and achievement for mentally retarded children" through many services rendered to these children and their families throughout the county. The event was held in the library of the George Washington School Monday night.

Organizations cited were Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc.; Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, Inc.; Town of Ulster Kiwanis Club; International Business Machines Corporation (Kingston Plant); Ulster County Shrine Club; the Mendelssohn Club of Kingston; the Order of the United Commercial Travelers of America (local council); and the Order of the United Commercial Travelers, Ladies' Auxiliary.

Lauds Response

In presenting the award plaques to representatives of the organizations Robert Brainard, of Kingston, AHRC president, noted that the chapter is a volunteer group comprised of parents and friends of retarded children. To accomplish its work within Ulster County the chapter must appeal to civic-minded citizens within the communities. The ready response of people throughout the county has been gratifying and extremely generous in many project areas. Within these areas the eight organizations cited have given "meritorious service to these children and to their communities" over the past five years as the newly-formed chapter began to develop and expand. In paying tribute to the selected organizations Brainard expressed the hope that the fine relationships established would continue so that all might share in the great work of the future for the betterment of the welfare of handicapped individuals.

Mrs. Mahar Speaker

Guest speaker was Mrs. Sylvia Mahar, founder of Putnam County AHRC chapter. Speaking from her personal experiences as a parent of a mongoloid child, Mrs. Mahar brought to her audience a panoramic view of the development and progress of a small county AHRC chapter. Her vivid account revealed both human pathos and a personal satisfaction that held the interest of the entire group.

Mrs. Mahar's underlying philosophy in rearing retarded children is "to treat a retarded child as nearly like a normal child as possible." Clearly defining the roles of the teacher and parent, Mrs. Mahar admonished parents to "'leave the area of academic learnings to teachers" and to focus their attention upon developing the social amenities which lead to the social acceptance of the child within the community. The learning process with the severely retarded child requires extreme patience but "is well worth the effort," she told the group.

Describes Organization

Mrs. Mahar described the organization and development of the chapter in detail. Noteworthy among their numerous projects was the establishment of a Clinic for the diagnosis, treatment and care of mongoloid children. With a professional staff and a modest budget of $7,000 the Clinic readily became a going concern. Recently the Clinic has been "taken under the canopy of the Mental Health Association of Putnam County," Mrs. Mahar said. Presently under a joint Board of Directors the Clinic continues to function successfully and to perform a real community service.

Mrs. Mahar concluded her talk with a question and answer period.

Officers Elected

During the annual business meeting of the chapter Robert Brainard was reelected to the office of president. Elected to serve with Brainard during the year 1961-2 were: Mrs. Arthur Eymann, vice president; Mrs. C. John Boyce, recording secretary; Mrs. Joel Vedder, corresponding secretary; Clarence Ostrander, tereasurer; Frank Adams, financial secretary; Mrs. Emil DeLuca, of Kingston and Mrs. Henry Ritter, Rosendale, members of the Board of Directors.

Mrs. Elston North Jr., AHRC camp chairman announced that the AHRC Summer Day Camp will open July 5 as a unit on the site of Camp Wahkonda, Lake Katrine. The camp will operate on single week encampments of five days over a period of eight weeks. July will be reserved for boys and girls of special classes within the county public schools. August will feature a specialized program for children within the trainable classes of the county. Camp brochures have been mailed to the homes of all known children. Further information may be obtained by contacting the AHRC Center, 286 Clinton Avenue, in Kingston, daily between 10 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 3 p. m. Directing the Day Camp for the second consecutive year will be Mrs. North. Assisting her will be Miss Marilyn Carpenter, of Kingston, student at the State University College of Education, Buffalo.

At the conclusion of the business session refreshments were served in the school cafeteria under the chairmanship of Mrs. James Pfeiffer of Glenerie, assisted by Mrs. Emil DeLuca and Mrs. Joel Vedder, both of Kingston.

Vanguard I Still Sends Signals, Will for Years

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A remarkable talkative satellite, teams of science data, and an assassin bug are subjects for science at work:

Remember?

Three years ago the United States threw up a puny challenge to the Soviet Sputniks, a grapefruit-sized satellite called Vanguard I.

Using solar power it is still transmitting radio signals and possibly will for hundreds of years. By now it has orbited the earth nearly 12,000 times, covering more than 409 billion miles.

So far it has helped scientists learn: That the earth is slightly pear-shaped. That the light from the sun has enough pressure to modify the path of a satellite in orbit. That sunlight can be converted to electricity for radio power. That the gravity of the sun and the moon affect a satellite's orbit around the earth.

Reading Material

If you set out to scan the 60 million pages of technical literature produced in the world last year alone, it would take you 465 years.

And think about this: Each 24 hours the world's scientists produce enough technical papers to fill seven sets of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

And if that isn't frightening enough, every ten years the amount of technical literature in existence doubles, writes Lawrence Ross in a Georgia Tech publication, Research Engineer.

Masked Bedbug Hunters

It is masked and it hunts bedbugs and it is called the masked bedbug hunter, one of a group of assassin bugs that live off other insects.

The assassin bugs live all over the Americas, but mostly south of the New York — Denver latitude. Most of them live on the blood of other insects.

Curiously the masked bedbug hunter looks like a bit of lint when it is still young, thanks to the fact that dust and fibers stick to its body. You'd hardly notice it unless it moved, says a report on assassin bugs prepared by the Smithsonian Institution.

PSC Authorizes CHGE to Issue 60,000 Shares

The State Public Service Commission has authorized the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. to issue 60,000 shares of cumulative preferred stock with a dividend rate of 4.96 per cent.

The funds from the new issue will be used to reimburse the the company for monies expended for plant additions and for working capital.

The new preferred shares, Series E, with a par valus of $100 a share, will be sold to 17 institutional investors. The company will have the option to redeem the shares, in all or in part, upon a notice of 60 days, at $105.50 on or before June 30, 1966, and thereafter at $104 to June 30, 1971, $102.50 to June 30, 1976 and at $101 thereafter.

In its petition, the company outlined its construction program which calls for capital outlays of approximately $57,000,000 for the period 1961 through 1964, including major expenditures on a new generating unit at its Danskammer steam station.

The company furnishes electric and gas service in an area extending some 85 miles along the Hudson River beginning about 10 miles south of Albany to approximately 40 miles north of New York City, and from about 25 to 40 miles on both sides of the river in the cities of Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Beacon and numerous villages.

Case Giving Up Colgate Post; Will Head Sloan

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Everett Case has resigned as president of Colgate University, effective July 1, 1962, to become president of the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation.

Case, 60, has been president of the university for 19 years.

He was elected Tuesday as a member of the foundation's board of trustees and of its executive and investment committees. He will succeed Alfred P. Sloan Jr., as foundation president and chief executive officer in July 1962.

Sloan, former board chairman and president of General Motors Corp., organized the foundation in 1934. It makes grants for cancer and other research and for educational, scientific and engineering projects.

Case came to Colgate in 1942. Earlier, he had been assistant dean of the Harvard School of Business Administration and at one time was executive secretary to Owen D. Young, former chairman of the board of the General Electric Co.

Case submitted his resignation to the Colgate board of trustees at the commencement meeting last Saturday.

Wellington Powell, vice president of the trustees board, was named chairman of a committee of trustees to select Case's successor.

Case has directed several committees doing work for the New York State government, particularly in the field of milk pricing.

Jury to Decide Cause of Damage At Camp-Resort

Whether it was an accumulation of snow or high winds that caused three bunk houses and a garage to collapse at Camp Ta-Ri-Go, Inc., on the mountain back of Fleischmanns, is the question which the jury is asked to decide in a contract action in Supreme Court.

Camp Ta-Ri-Go, Inc., brings an action on contract against Fidelity Phenix Fire Insurance Company and others, to recover damages under a comprehensive fire policy. The policy insures against wind damage but not from snow damage.

Plaintiffs allege high winds on the mountain during March 1958 caused the buildings to collapse. The defendants allege the damage was done by heavy accumulations of snow.

The action is being tried before Supreme Court Justice William Deckelman.

The value of the damaged buildings has been sitpulated between counsel and that question is not before the jury. Only the cause of the damage is to be decided by the jury.

Crawford D. Bradshaw, 55, of 12 Grubb Street, Poughkeepsie, and an unidentified man, were named in a five-count indictment, accused of similar offenses.

Tucciarone and Wilson were arrested in a raid directed by Baratta. Also arrested in other raids were Bradshaw, James Fulton, 60, of 215 Main Street and Mrs. Angela C. Bonahue, 47, both of Poughkeepsie.

State to Qualify For $2-Million Billboard Bonus

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller said today the state had completed steps necessary to qualify for a $2-million federal bonus for restricting billboards along interstate highways.

The program, under which the federal government pays 90 per cent of state costs of building parts of the interstate highway system, provides for additional payments to states that accept federal standards for restricting advertising along the routes.

The 1961 Legislature passed and Rockefeller signed a bill prohibiting advertising signs within 660 feet of the right of way of such projects, with some exceptions.

Signs relating to a business on the property adjoining the right of way may be erected.

Rockefeller said the regulation of advertising signs along the interstate routes, such as the Albany-Canada Northway and North-South Expressway through Central New York, would promote highway safety and protect natural beauty.

Irish Women Do

Spoil Husbands, Don't Nag Them, Actress Advises

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Ireland's leading actress suggested today U.S. wives would enjoy life more if they spent more time spoiling their husbands instead of nagging them—or competing with them.

"The Irish woman takes it for granted that it's a man's world," said Siobhan McKenna, who has red hair, green eyes—and a serene temper.

"When I married, my grandmother told me, 'Marriage is a partnership. As in all partnerships, sometimes one must give in—and it might as well be the woman.'

Happier for It

"Irish women do—and I think they're the happier for it."

Ireland has one of the world's lowest divorce rates, and Miss McKenna believes one reason is the people there have a more realistic idea about the role of the sexes.

"They set out with the idea that men and women are incompatible," she said, "but through love and affection they accept this incompatibility and make the best of it.

"So the first time they disagree, they don't rush off to a divorce court. They accept the fact they are different. They expect to disagree."

What is the biggest mistake U.S. wives make?

Can't Change People

"It's their not accepting a man as he is," said Siobhan firmly. "That is a mistake.

"You can't really change people, and you shouldn't really want to. Advice is one thing. But nagging merely drives a man to be more what he is.

"Sometimes, too, women here are too ambitious for their husbands. They drive them to work too hard. Then, when they've made all this money, it's too late for love.

"Mind you, I think Irish husbands might work a little harder. But they work to live, not live to work."

Married to Actor

Miss McKenna is married to actor Dennis O'Dea and has a 12-year-old son. Although she has an outside career herself, she feels "the best life for a woman really" is one in which she concentrates on her marriage and home.

Miss McKenna recently completed the role of the Virgin Mary in MGM's $10-million-plus film, "King of Kings." She is excited now over the prospect of starring in "Playboy of the Western World," the first movie in many years to be made in Ireland with an all-Irish cast and financed by Irish capital.

'Top Banana' Gets a Banana Cake

DELICIOUS banana layer cake is appropriately topped off with sliced bananas to honor the head man of the household.

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For the "top banana" in your house, here's a Father's Day cake de luxe:

Banana Layer Cake
(From Scratch)

2¼ cups sifted all purpose flour
1¼ cups sugar
2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup soft shortening
1½ cups mashed ripe bananas
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla

Preheat oven to 375 degrees F. (moderate). Sift into a large mixing bowl: flour, sugar, baking powder, soda and salt. Add shortening, ½ cup mashed bananas and eggs. Beat 2 minutes at medium speed on electric mixer.

Scrape down bowl and beaters. Add remaining 1 cup mashed bananas and vanilla. Beat 1 minute. Bake in 2 greased 8-inch round layer pans for 25 minutes or until center of cake springs back to a light touch.

Quick Mix Banana Cake

Make up your favorite cake mix into layers. But where the mix calls for 1 cup liquid plus eggs, use instead ½ cup water, 1 cup mashed ripe bananas and eggs as directed.

Butter Frosting
(use on either cake)

(Enough frosting for tops and sides of 2 9-inch layers, 3 8-inch layers or 2 dozen cupcakes.)

½ cup butter
1 pound confectioners' sugar (3½ cups sifted)
Salt, few grains
4 to 5 tablespoons liquid
1½ teaspoons vanilla
2 to 3 firm bananas

Cream butter; add sugar gradually, stirring until well blended; add salt. Stir in liquid (cream, milk or hot water) a little at a time, adding just enough to give a good spreading consistency; beat until fluffy; add vanilla or other flavoring. Just before serving, slice bananas and garnish top of cake with overlapping slices of bananas.

Pension Rights Listed for Kin Of War Veterans

Minor children of deceased veterans of World War 2 and the Korean conflict may be eligible for veterans' pension payments even though the widows of these veterans may be ineligible.

That announcement was made today by Charles L. Culver, New York State counselor, New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs and John B. Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency.

"A case in point," the agency officials said, "is where the widow is ineligible due to remarriage or excessive income. This ineligibility does not affect the eligibility of the minor children.

The officials noted that the children must not be married and not have passed their eighteenth birthday. If attending school, children are eligible for pension payments until they have reached their twenty-first birthday provided their own personal income does not exceed the established limits, the officials explained.

When a widow and children are already on the pension rolls and if for some reason, the widow becomes ineligible, the pension payments to the children will be continued. However, the officials stated, in cases where the widow never applied for a pension, or the application was not allowed due to remarriage or excessive income, the children of widows of this category are urged to visit the office of Counselor Culver or the office of Ulster County Director Tyler, 32 Main Street or Veterans Service Agency branch offices in Saugerties, Highland, Ellenville or Kerhonkson.

Napoleon gave Benjamin Dellessert the Cross of Honor after Delessert started a small sugar beet factory in Passy, France. The country was cut off from West Indies cane sugar at the time because of the Napoleonic wars.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel industry has more to worry about today than just the impact of summer heat and lethargy on its fledgling recovery.

Its bookkeeping departments are saying that steel prices have to rise because costs are going up, especially after a wage hike coming in October.

July Slump Likely

But its sales departments are busy handling a wave of price cutting.

New orders make production prospects for August look pretty good, but July seems sure to slump as usual.

Foreign steel imports are a thorn in the side.

Domestic customers are demanding concessions and shopping around until they get them. And the recent increase in new orders for the steel mills hasn't changed this noticeably.

As if all this isn't confusing enough, Washington rumbles with vague threats of investigating any concerted price hiking moves.

A number of steel executives have been stressing the pressure for higher prices. The talk coincided with a pickup in output after a long period of operating at half of capacity.

Must Offset Costs

Steel management says the price is needed to offset the scheduled increase in labor costs. But customers point out that wages went up last December, too, and prices didn't—steel demand and output were slim then, and competition keen.

The price rise, top executives stress, is also needed to combat thin profit margins, so that the industry will have funds for plant improvements, and expansion when needed.

But while all the talk has been going on, price cutting has been spreading among some steel products.

Two weeks ago quotations were slashed on stainless steel. Then the cost of pipes used by oil companies was cut. Now some companies are dropping their price lists on bars used to reinforce concrete. They say they must meet the lower prices of imports, an increasing competition in a number of steel products.

Unpublicized Shading

These above board instances of price cutting following a period of unpublicized price shading of another sort. Customers have been getting some steel products below list prices of the major companies by shopping around—whether from small domestic mills eager to get or maintain full production, or from the foreign mills that can deliver specific steel products here at well below the official domestic prices.

Some customers have been getting concessions by inducing mills to give them better grade steel priced as lower grade. Others have cut their production costs by finding ways to make lower grade steel do.

Sound of Frying Pan Heralds Opening of Turnau Season

As the warm days approach, a sound as of a frying pan clanging is often heard and residents of Byrdcliffe nod knowingly among themselves. Preparations for the arrival of the Turnau Opera Players at their summer residence, the Villetta Inn, have officially begun.

The clang is made by a frying pan which is attached to the lid of a trunk which is a trap for raccoons which have made the Villetta their winter residence. The falling of the lid of the trunk and the resultant clang means that another raccoon has been caught and will be released in a deserted area far, far from the Turnau Opera Players' food supply. This is the first step in preparing the Inn for the company.

The second step involves company manager, Ward Pinner and theatre manager, Marie Pinner, luring one stage director, one musical director and one choreographer up to Woodstock, promising a weekend of fresh air and sunshine, and greeting them with brushes, soap and dust rags. There ensue some shining hours at the Villetta Inn where the charges are carefully sheltered from the broiling sun and pollen-laden air.

Directors at Work

Operating strictly within their professional capacities, stage direcotor Barbara Owens directs a mop around the dirty floors. Musical director Melvin Strauss conducts an overture to prepare the living room for livability and choreographer Renate Aubert executes a delicate pas de deux among the pots and dishes.

Company manager Ward Pinner manages to keep the company at their work and theatre manager, Marie Pinner, manages to stay in the theatre where things are less hectic.

Indirect results of all this activity will be visible at the Byrdcliffe Theatre in Woodstock from July 14 to August 12.

As the sun sinks slowly into the westward and Marie Pinner bid farewell to their talented crew and turn the Villetta Inn with smiles as bright as the new shining floors. In the distance another clang of the fateful frying pan is heard. What do you suppose Rudolph Bing is doing right now?

Second Show at Webster Gallery

The second in a series of one-man and small group shows, given every two weeks, will open this Saturday, June 17, and extend through Sunday, June 25 at the Webster Gallery on Old Witchtree Road.

The gallery is open to the public every day from 3 p. m. to 6 p. m.

This show will feautre Florence Webster's work in two media, oil painting and hand weaving. Miss Webster came to Woodstock to study at the Art Students League under Charles Rosen and continued with Henry Lee McFee.

The exhibition being given by the artist, Florence Webster, together with the following shows of the planned summer series, is being presentd as a supplement to the post office shows. It is hoped they will call attention to the importance of art in the life of Woodstock and, by stimulating interest, lead to greater and broader support from the entire community.

Give Directions

Directions for reaching Webster Gallery at Webster Fields, follow: A short drive from the Village Green. Get on Route 212 (Woodstock - Saugerties road). Turn off 212 at the country club to Route 375. Proceed past the Woodstock elementary school. Go past the Maverick Road intersection, remaining on Route 375. Then turn left at the sign reading Old Witchtree Road. Continue a short distance along this road to Webster Fields, where the old barn has been converted into a beautiful, spacious gallery in a delightful rural setting. The parking lot is just beyond the gallery and is reached by a roadway marked entrance.

There will be weaving demonstrations in Miss Webster's show which will feature some unusual techniques from Monday, June 19 through Friday, June 23.

Returning Troy Man To Answer for Death

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — James H. Stockwell is being returned to Troy from a mental institution to stand trial on a first-degree murder charge in the killing of a 79-year-old man.

Stockwell, 34, of nearby Pleasantdale, was sent to Eastern Correctional Institution, Napanoch, after two psychiatrists testified that Stockwell was mentally incompetent to stand trial for the slaying of John Bacon, 79, of Mechanicville.

Charles L. McKendrick, Napanoch superintendent, testified Wednesday that, after further examination, Stockwell was found to be capable of understanding the charge and preparing his defense.

Rensselaer County Judge DeForest Pitt signed an order Wednesday directing Stockwell's return. Police accused Stockwell of stealing $120 from Bacon and pushing the older man into the Hudson River last Nov. 5.

Probe Continuing Of Fire That Destroyed Films

Deputy sheriffs and an agent of the National Board of Fire Underwriters today continued investigation in an effort to determine the cause of a $453,000 fire which destroyed 4,500 rolls of television and movie film at Red Hook Tuesday afternoon.

Dutchess County Sheriff Lawrence Quinlan told The Freeman that Deputy Charles Borchers and J. L. Jones of the National Board of Fire Underwriters went to Red Hook this morning to check the debris in the warehouse off Norton Road.

Quinlan said the rolls of film included many filmed sequences for television shows, which were stored for possible re-runs during the summer months.

The sheriff emphasized that no definite cause had been determined, although there was a possibility that Tuesday's 91 degree heat may have been responsible for the blaze. Quinlan explained that the warehouse had several skylights, and the sun rays shining through the glass might have caused a spontaneous combustion.

The building was owned by Joseph O'Connor, Norton Road, Red Hock, who rented it to Rudoplh Mayer, Long Island City. He is associated with FMS Inc., which stores film for television stations and other accounts.

Banyo is a member of the Knights of Columbus, Kiwanis Club, Ulster-Albany Avenue Business Men's Association and the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. Banyo is married to the former Miss Jean Kraus. They have a son, John.

Teigland joined Allstate in January of 1960 and is experienced in the claims, service and sales fields of the insurance business. He attended Wagner College and completed an intensive professional training course at the company's regional training center at Harrison. He resides with his wife at the Kingston address.

3rd Graders Give Their Opinions, Asked by Teacher

VALLEY STREAM, N.Y. (AP) —They yell, they're pretty nutty, but they're loved—a few samples of what some third graders think about their parents.

The 8-year-olds at Brooklyn Avenue School in the Long Island community were asked by their teacher, Annette Higgins, to write anonymously their views on three topics: Parents; School and teachers; Why people should like me.

On parents:

"Parents are o.k. I guess but sometimes they yell and hit and that makes me mad. But no matter what I still love them."

"They're pretty nutty if you ask me."

"If both parents love you at the same time, that's great."

"They don't understand children very much."

"I think parents are lucky to have children."

On school and teachers:

"School is for children who want to learn. But if you don't want to learn you have to go anyway."

"If I never went to school I would be stupid but I would be happy."

On themselves:

"A lot of people like me but I don't know why."

"I try my best but still some people do not like me."

"I guess people like me because I am very nice."

"They like me because I am good-looking."

"I don't expect everyone to like me."

"My friends like me because I am not a big shot."

"I like me and people should like me. I don't see anything wrong with me."

The class which turned in the appraisals consists of 17 boys and 16 girls.

Mrs. Higgins, who has been teaching for four years, had nothing but praise for her pupils.

"Third graders are the best," she said, Wednesday, "they're quick and sharp." She added: "You can see the progress from one day to the next" and "I love them like my own."

Warning on Water

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — "Unless we take steps to conserve our (water) supplies, we may well face critical shortages of water within the decade," Gov. Rockefeller warns.

Rockefeller Wednesday proclaimed June 24-30 Water Conservation Week in New York State.

Will Keep His Gun

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Police Chief Edward J. Curtin said Wednesday he will retire July 1. Then he applied for a pistol permit, necessary to wear the gun as he has for 45 years as a policeman here.

Curtin has been chief for 18 years.

Political Problems Disappear

Enthusiasm, Unity Prevail, Morale of State GOP Soars

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A spirit of enthusiasm and unity prevailed among the 3,000 Republicans at the party's annual state dinner this year, in contrast to the total lack of such in 1960.

Republican morale has soared in the last year, with the disappearance of several embarrassing political problems, and the change was evident at the $100-a-plate dinner in New York City.

Broad Representation

The broad representation at the event makes it one of the best barometers of current Republican thinking throughout the state.

It was clearly evident a year ago that a good-sized segment of the party was unhappy with the way things were going.

Gov. Rockefeller was growing increasingly unpopular among Republicans nationally — including many in New York State—largely because of his criticisms of Richard M. Nixon, then vice president and the party's almost unanimous choice as its presidential candidate.

Some of the Rockefeller criticisms were interpreted as attacks on the administration of Republican President Eisenhower, who had carried New York State by a 1.6 million votes in 1956.

Most Involved Governor

A big bloc of Upstate Republican leaders grumbled privately that the governor, with almost no practical chance of winning the presidential nomination for himself, should stop his sharpshooting and swing behind Nixon.

There were other problems, most of them involving Rockefeller.

The governor had suffered a major defeat with his proposal for mandatory construction of fallout shelters in homes and all other buildings. Republicans had helped kill it.

Republican legislators and other office-holders were approaching their first test at the polls since Rockefeller took office. Many were concerned that some Rockefeller policies, including the 1959 tax increases, would work against their re-election.

These factors combined to produce a generally lackluster atmosphere at the 1960 dinner. Some observers felt the prolonged applause given former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's praise of Eisenhower at that event constituted a rebuff to the governor and his political activity.

Sign of Harmony

The 1961 scene was far different. The 1960 presidential election and its special problems for New York Republicans had passed.

The presence of Rep. William J. Miller, R-N.Y., the new Republican national chairman, at the 1961 dinner was a sign of harmony between the New York organization and the GOP parent group.

The governor had turned the fall-out issue over to Washington, holding now that it is a national matter.

The GOP feels the tax issue has abated and will not be a major factor in future elections.

For the first time in decades, the GOP is fired with optimism about winning a New York City mayoral race.

Democrats still have to solve factional problems that have hampered that party for the last three years and are interfering with its preparations for the 1962 gubernatorial campaign.

All in all, the Republicans enjoyed their $100 meal much better this year without the seasoning of several uncomfortable problems.

Albany's 43 Is New Low for Date

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—What is so rare as a day in June—especially when the mercury drops to a record low of 43 degrees, the Albany Weather Bureau meteorologist mused at 4:30 a.m. today.

The bureau said the figure shattered the previous record of 45 for the date, set two years ago.

Temperatures in the state's southern counties were 20 degrees or more lower than they were 24 hours ago, the bureau added. Elsewhere, temperatures ranged from near 40 at Watertown and Elmira to the mid-50s in the New York City area.

Fair and cool weather will stay through Friday, said the bureau.

Body Taken From Lake

THERESA, N.Y. (AP) — The body of Willie Joe Penn, 34, of East Williamson, Wayne County, has been recovered from Muscallonge Lake near this Jefferson County community.

Penn was drowned Friday when he attempted to step from one rowboat to another. State Police found the body Wednesday.

Hearing on Water Rate Increase Set

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Public hearings begin next Thursday at the Public Service Commission's New York City office on the bid of Utilities and Industries Corp. for a $235,000 water-rate increase.

The company seeks to increase rates for service at Haverstraw, Rockland County, Clyde, Wayne County, in Queens, and in Nassau County.

Utilities and Industries formerly was the New York Water Service Corp.

The PSC, in scheduling the hearings, said Wednesday it had postponed the hearings twice at the request of the company.

The company originally asked to be allowed to put the increases in effect without delay.

Fishermen Honest When It Comes to Bait

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A. C. Gandy sells fishing worms on the honor system.

He leaves boxes of worms on an outdoor table for the customers to serve themselves day or night and says the money is never short. Sometimes, he adds, it comes out a little extra.

"I'd just as soon do business with fishermen as anybody," he explained.

Jersey Tax Most Burdensome, Is Perlman's Wail

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of the New York Central says his railroad's most urgent need is relief from local taxation in New York and New Jersey.

Alfred E. Perlman described the New Jersey local-tax system as the most burdensome. He said the Central last year had net earnings of $1 billion in the Midwest and lost $35 million east of Buffalo.

He said Wednesday night that, if operations east of Buffalo were eliminated, "we would have one of the most profitable railroads in the East."

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)— One thing you can say for Perry Como's summer replacement: It sure is a change from the usual Wednesday night variety hour on NBC.

Wednesday night's premier program of "Mystery Theater" was, in fact, a neat and meticulous demonstration of a clever and comparatively non-violent way to rob a bank.

Perry's substitutes are British films edited down to an hour's length.

Judging from the first film sample, this promises to be a rather diverting series. And although most English movies we see on TV look as though they were made on a dark night in an unlighted cellar, this one was quite easy to follow without eyestrain.

The syndicated late-evening "PM" series starring Mike Wallace, designed to provide some fresh competition for late movies and Jack Paar Show, got off to a rather limping start this week. ABC, reported to be interested in picking up the series for its network come fall, said they had turned the taped series down.

After weeks of thought, CBS has finally come up with a title for the Gertrude Berg comedy series which will make its debut this fall: "Mrs. G Goes to College." The series started out as "Mother Was a Freshman," was changed to "The Freshman," but lately has been identified by the name which the public will undoubtedly use anyway, The Gertrude Berg Show.

NBC will run a repeat broadcast of "The Accomplice," an hour long dramatic show next Monday night (10-11), mostly because of its timely theme. It was based on the capture of Adolf Eichmann and was shown originally last August as one of the "Moment of Fear" summer replacement shows.

Recommended tonight: CBS reports, 10-11 (Eastern Standard Time) — repeat of the excellent documentary, "The Year of the Polaris"; Close-Up," ABC, 10:30-11—"Our Durable Diplomats," a study of two young couples in the government's foreign service.

WALT DISNEY'S True Life Adventures

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Roast beef and pork dominate supermarket advertisements again this week.

Poultry prices are so low production is turning downward. This eventually will mean smaller supply and higher prices.

Pork bargains this week are mostly smoked hams, although rib end pork loins and sausage are featured in the Midwest and smoked picnic hams in the Northeast.

In beef it's mostly sirloin, or porterhouse, steaks and rib roast.

Fresh fruits and vegetables are seasonally plentiful now, although produce men report the weather has been so hot in some sections that the condition of highly perishable items such as asparagus, lettuce and strawberries, has been effected.

Allowing for a careful shopper check of condition, all are on this week's best buy list. Other vegetables with this rating are collards, green onions, radishes, rhubarb, spinach and parsley. Good buys include beets, cabbage, carrots, celery, corn, mushrooms, onions, potatoes and tomatoes.

Joining strawberries as outstanding fruit buys are oranges, grapefruit, bananas and mangoes. Good buys include watermelons, blueberries, cantaloups, honeydew melons, peaches and lemons.

Hubby Really Deserves Better Break Than This

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It ought to be obvious but maybe some of us need to be reminded HOW NOT to greet friend husband when he returns home in the evening:

With a note on the piano saying you'll be home at such-and-such a time.

With a long-winded complaint about everything that was wrong with your day.

Curled up on the sofa reading a book or magazine, and no dinner preparations under way.

With a demand that he do something in the repair line immediately—before he even sits down to relax.

With a tale of junior's latest scrape and a demand that he punish "his" son.

In an old pair of slacks or the same housedress you were wearing when he left in the morning.

With the house in a mess because it was your bridge day and you played later than you counted on and didn't have time to straighten things up before he came home.

With a definite coolness in your manner because you've brooded all day over your husband's grouchiness at breakfast.

With a look of reproach because your husband is a few minutes later than usual.

Those may seem like little things, but they can make a husband's homecoming a dreary business and get an evening off to a bad start for BOTH of you.

Steuben Returns 'No Bills' in 2 Grand Jury Cases

BATH, N.Y. (AP) — A Steuben County grand jury has declined to indict a tavern owner, charged with fatally beating his wife, and a teen-age boy accused of fatally wounding a friend during a camp trip.

The grand jury Wednesday handed up a "no bill" against Ervin D. Smith, 49, of Cohocton, who was charged with first-degree manslaughter in the death of his wife, Leola, 39, last April 16.

Police said Smith told them he drove 16 miles to give himself up after beating his wife. He told police that he and his wife had been arguing, they said.

The jury also returned a "no bill" against Thomas H. Corvino, 19, of Hornell, who had been charged with second-degree manslaughter in the death of Gary M. Carnes, 18, also of Hornell, on April 22.

State Police said Corvino had told them that he had fired from inside a camp through an open door into the darkness after hearing noises outside. Carnes and another boy were playing a prank on a group in the camp when the accident occurred, State Police said.

New Law to Speed Up California Returns

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California has a new election law designed to eliminate slow ballot counting such as kept the outcome of the last presidential race in this state uncertain for days.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown signed legislation Wednesday which requires absentee ballots to be returned to county clerks three days before election. Under the old law, these ballots could be received up to six days after election.

Brown said slow counting of absentee ballots could have been serious if the nation were in a crisis.

Bill to Permit Sale of Aniline Firm Seems Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects appear dim for congressional passage this year of bills to permit the sale of the General Aniline & Film Co. to private interests.

The firm was seized by the government during World War II as German property and is now operated by the Justice Department. It has plants in Albany, Binghamton and Johnson City, N. Y., and Linden, N.J.

"I'm less encouraged right now than I was a year ago," said Rep. Leo W. O'Brien, D-N.Y., sponsor of one bill to provide for sale of the $150 million firm.

His sentiments were echoed by Rep. Howard W. Robison, R-N.Y., sponsor of an identical bill, who said prospects are rather dim in view of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's insistence that cases surrounding the firm be settled before its sale to private enterprise.

Kennedy recently said the Justic Department would like to get rid of General Aniline but must wait until litigation surrounding the firm is resolved.

Swiss interests, which claim partial ownership of the firm, instituted the court cases.

Boys Find Small Chest Of Coins on River

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — A group of boys playing near the Mississippi River bank retrieved a small chest floating on the water and threw it on to the bank.

The impact split the box open and a stream of silver coins spilled out—touching off a stream of treasure-seekers armed with picks and shovels to the spot on banks at Natchez Under the Hill.

The youngsters sold most of the spilled coins—mostly silver dimes and half-dimes dating from 1848-1860. Collectors could not estimate their total value or collector's worth.

Farmhand's Trial For Arson in 2nd Day at Po'keepsie

Trial of a 32-year-old Town of Poughkeepsie farmhand on a charge of second degree arson went into its second day at 10 a. m. today before Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz and a jury of seven women and five men.

William R. Heiser, 38, is accused in an indictment of setting fire to a large dairy barn on the Gerge R. Fitchett III, farm off Bedell Road, Town of Poughkeepsie, last Feb. 26. Authorities said at the time that 76 head of milking cows perished during the 3-alarm fire.

The fire loss was estimated at upwards of $110,000.

Police said that Heiser was discharged as a farmhand a few days before the fire and eviction notices had been served directing the Heiser family to vacate a tenant house where they resided during his employment as a farmhand.

Witnesses called by the prosecution Wednesday included Town Detective Philip McCreedy, who assisted in the investigation of the fire, and Fitchett, owner of the farm, who identified Heiser as a former farmhand.

Prosecuting the case are Assistant District Attorneys Julius S. Boccia, of Beacon, and Eugene Frink, Pawling. Jack M. Quartarro, Poughkeepsie, is defense attorney.

DRILL FOR SAFETY — Police instructors hold a class for school children in the proper road procedure at King's Lynn, England. Lessons are held on an indoor network of miniature roads, complete with signals and signs, to simulate traffic conditions.

Prints, Clothes Of Woman Probed To Seek Identity

SANDY HOOK, N.J. (AP)—Fingerprints and clothing of a woman found dead in the waters off the coast here were being analyzed today in an attempt to determine her identity.

Police said the woman, about 55, had been in the water a day or two when she was found by the Coast Guard Tuesday.

The body of a man, found about three miles from where the woman's body was discovered, was identified as that of William G. Shepherd, 34, of Newburgh. Police said he apparently committed suicide.

John Gawler, Monmouth County chief of detectives, said Shepherd had left a note to his family in Newburgh stating he was going away.

Newburgh police said Shepherd's wife, Shirley, had reported him missing from their home since May 23. He has resided with his wife, a son and a daughter.

DEPOSIT HERE — Instead of a bite, mailman Jack Orchard gets a beg. When he comes to the Roe Myers home in DeLand, Fla., their dog Tootsie is waiting. She sits up and begs until Orchard puts the mail in her mouth. The Myers' need mail daily. If Orchard didn't stop, they're afraid Toots would follow all around the route, begging.

Survival Shelter To Be Dedicated Here on June 24

At 10 a. m. Saturday, June 24, at the Municipal Parking Lot off Partition Street in Saugerties, Ulster County's first demonstration family fallout shelter will be dedicated.

The shelter, with it provisions, will realistically illustrate what steps a family can and should take to protect themselves from fallout. All the labor and materials have been donated by Saugerties citizens working with the Saugerties Jaycees.

The dedication will kick-off "Operation Survival"—a community-wide program sponsored by the Saugerties Jaycees in conjunction with area Civil Defense directors. The "Operation Survival" program is designed to assist Civil Defense in providing the community with a better understanding of the hazards of nuclear fallout as well as other potential weapons, and the steps each family can and should take to protect against these hazards.

The demonstration shelter will serve as a focal point for information and assistance to area residents who are interested in taking some constructive action toward Civil Defense.

SHS Graduates Attend Schools Throughout U .S.

Approximately one-half of the June graduates from Saugerties High School are planning to continue their education after graduation. Saugerties students will be going as far away as Florida and California for their college training. However, most will attend schools and colleges in New York State and the other northeastern states.

Students who have made a definite decision concerning the colleges or schools they will enter in September, are as follows:

Insurance Plan Adopted by Board For Local School

A more comprehensive liability insurance plan for all pupils in the Saugerties Central Schools System was adopted by the Board of Education Monday evening of this week.

Under this plan the board will insure all pupils with the Royal Indemnity Company which provides a $3000 medical expense maximum except for members of the inter-scholastic football team. For football players, a maximum medical expense of $1000 is provided. The insurance coverage was recommended to the board of education by the Herbert L. Jamison & Co. insurance advisors with offices in New York City. The additional expense for the coverage it is expected, will be only $2,253.50. The new policy will make unnecessary two present policies, one with the New York State Public High School Athletic Insurance coverage plan in the amount of $2468, the other a team accident insurance plan with the Royal Indemnity Company in the amount of $2718.50. The reasoning followed by the Board in adopting this new plan was that many of the 2700 pupils in the local school system were not adequately protected in the event of accident under the present coverage. It was felt that members of the athletic teams were adequately protected but that the others were not.

The board approved a raise for cafeteria workers in the amount of $147 per employe. This amounts to a ten cent per hour raise for a seven-hour working day exclusive of lunch.

The board set Monday evening, June 10, as a meeting date with the Citizens Advisory Committee.

Two of the three visitors at Monday evening's meeting are candidates for positions on the board next year. They are Norman Nitschke who is a candidate to succeed Kenneth Beadle, and Mrs. Everett T. Brandt of Quarryville, who will be a candidate to succeed Mrs. Mary Lasher.

The attendance of David Hildebrandt at a meeting of building superintendents was authorized for five days in August.

The board approved the engaging of Mrs. Margaret Uyeki of Woodstock as a third grade teacher in the local school next year.

Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools, reported that 18 new members of next year's faculty have been engaged. Eight remain to be hired. Six of the positions are in the elementary grades. The other two are in the high school, one to replace Kenneth Lane, guidance counselor; the other to replace Eugene LaPlante, art teacher.

Summer Hours Are Listed by Library

Summer hours for the Saugerties Public Library were announced this week by Mrs. Betty Layton, librarian, as follows:

Weekdays, 1-5 p. m.; Wednesday and Friday, 7-9 p. m.; Saturday, 10 a. m.-12 noon.

New fiction books may be borrowed for seven days, other material may be borrowed for a 28-day period. Books not available at the library may be obtained from the Interloan Library Service.

New books received for summer reading include the following: Fun on Wheels, by Dave Garroway; How to Teach Children to Swim, by Carolyn Kauffman, which describes the ten basic lessons which lead to swimming skills; Whatever You Do—Don't Panic, by Jean Mercier; Sermons and Soda Water, by John O'Hara; Tea House of the August Moon, by Vern Sneider.

Meetings Scheduled

An executive committee meeting of the Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association has been called by Mrs. Edward Mathews, first vice president, for tonight, 8 o'clock at the high school. The purpose of the meeting is to elect a president to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Kenneth Lane.

All P-TA committee chairmen for the school year 1960-61 and all officers elected for 1961-62 are requested to attend.

The annual election and installation of officers for the coming year will take place on Thursday evening at the monthly meeting of Isamouree-Hackett Post 72, American Legion.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting at the Legion Home, John Street, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Fred Brammer will be the guest on the Jayncees Story Hour Saturday at the public library, when all children between the ages of five and seven may attend the 10 o'clock program.

Mrs. Brammer has chosen "Around the World Fairy Tales" as her theme, and will include stories for children from Russia, Japan and some of Hans Christian Andersen's special tales. Mrs. Carl Poeschner of the Jayncees will aid Mrs. Brammer.

Mrs. David Goble entertained the children last week with stories of circus animals and piano tunes to accompany the commentary.

The last story hour of the summer will be on June 24 when Mrs. David Cunningham will be the guest speaker.

Graduates of St. Mary of the Snow, Saugerties, will give a farewell performance at the last regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association to be held Sunday, June 18, at the school at 7:30 p. m.

A special invitation is extended to parents of eighth graders. Sister Marie Bernard will give a talk on summer vacation.

Falls on Same Day

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The telephone rang at the Albany Times-Union city desk.

"Can you tell me the date of the National Bunker Hill Day?", a voice asked.

"June 17."

"Thanks a lot. I just had to find out. That's my wedding anniversary."

Greyhound Fares Going Up Friday To Meet Expenses

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Fares on most Greyhound buses in New York State will increase by 5 per cent Friday, to meet company-claimed operating cost rises.

The Public Service Commission authorized the increase by Greyhound Bus Corp. and said Wednesday it estimated the higher fares would bring the company about $77,500 a year in additional revenues.

Greyhound said, in applying for the increase, that its operating costs in the state had risen nearly $353,000 in the year ended May 31.

The PSC blocked, however, a proposal to increase commuter fares in the Buffalo and Syracuse areas by 10 cents a ride and ordered a public hearing June 27 in Buffalo.

Under the new rate schedule, most one-way fares over 50 cents will go up 5 per cent. Round-trip and commutation tickets will rise proportionately. School fares will remain unchanged, however.

Excepted from the increase are the company's Rochester-Albion and Rochester - Fairport - Newark routes, some sections of its Buffalo-Rochester route and some parts of routes from Albany through the Adirondacks to Canada.

The Romans are believed to have been the first to use aluminum potassium sulphate for water purification.

Attorney Says Wehle Knew About Outbreak

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — An attorney, during Louis A. Wehle's appeal of a $75,000 slander judgment, alleges the former conservation commissioner knew of a disease-outbreak at a state game farm "but did nothing about it."

Wehle is appealing to the Appellate Division of State Supreme Court, third department, a $75,000 slander judgment won by Dr. Leonard Cheatum, assistant director of the Conservation Department's division of fish and game.

Cheatum had charged that Wehle, while conservation commissioner, slandered him in a 1956 speech in Watertown. Wehle allegedly blamed Cheatum for the death in 1955 of 1,500 pheasants at a state game farm on Grenadier Island in Lake Ontario.

Cheatum's lawer, John W. Tabner, said in court Wednesday that Wehle was aware of the outbreak of botulism, a bacterial poisoning. The birds died shortly after being shipped from another state farm at Delmar, near Albany.

Research proves Millbrook's Miracle-Mix gives you LONGER BREAD-BOX LIFE than ordinary bread!

Laboratory tests proved it! Ordinary bread, baked from old-fashioned dough, has big air-holes that speed drying out. But Millbrook's new batter-blending method whips air-holes out...keeps freshness in! Slice after slice...meal after meal...Miracle-Mix comes out of your bread box fresh-tasting, appetizing. Less waste...more good eating...in every loaf!

MIRACLE-MIX WINS IN ALL THREE TESTS. TEXTURE AND MOISTURE TESTS WERE MADE OVER A PERIOD OF FIVE DAYS UNDER BREAD-BOX-TYPE CONDITIONS.

MOISTURE: Ordinary bread lost at least twice as much moisture as Miracle-Mix!

TEXTURE: Miracle-Mix proved much softer than ordinary bread in controlled scientific tests.

TASTE: Consumer taste panels preferred Miracle-Mix almost two-to-one for flavor over ordinary bread "A."

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

For the next three days the eyes of the golf world will be focused on Birmingham, Mich., a suburb of Detroit, where Samuel Jackson Snead goes through the crucible as he always does in the U. S. Open.

In our own bailiwick we have drama of our own Saturday and Sunday, not of earth shaking significance, but of high sentimental value to the old timers in area golf.

While Snead is trying to conquer an insurmountable jinx in the Open, veteran Alvin Boice of Twaalfskill will be going through the same thing Saturday and Sunday in the Herdegen Memorial tournament at Twaalfskill and Woodstock.

Time is running out on Alvie, one of the finest gentleman ever to trod area fairways. His performance in the Herdegen has been on the decline since 1957, but as the 1961 renewal resumes Saturday morning at Twaalfskill, he is only two shots off the pace. With a round on his home links and the finale at Woodstock it is conceivable that Boice can do it this time around. He has won several Twaalfskill and city crowns and needs only this third jewel to complete his personal Triple Crown.

During a hot run (1953-54-55) Boice finished second three years running. After placing third in the 1951 inaugural, and fourth in 1952, he tied for second with 288 with George Hughes, a shot behind Bill Van Aken's winning 287. In 1954, he was again runnerup, 4 shots behind Hughes' 286 and in 1955, second to Bill Van Aken's 213 in the last 54-hole Herdegen. Since then he has been fifth once, ninth twice, 12th and eighth.

For sentimental reasons alone, victories by Sam Snead and Alvin Boice this weekend would make this a historic golf season on two widely divergent fronts.

• Chips and Putts:

Bill Van Aken's 83 at Shawangunk was his worst Herdegen round since his 89 at Palenville in 1952. The score is more incredulous when you realize that he and George Hughes were the only players in the field who parred the last three holes both times around. Hughes birdied the 8th on the first swing. Leon Randall and Hughes were the only players who escaped a "6" at Shawangunk. Alvin Boice got by with only one. . . . Ronnie Marks picked up two par 4's on that exacting third hole. The only other pars there were turned in by Hughes, Bud Leininger and Dubby Raichle. . . . Shawangunk is steadily beautifying and refurbishing its layout. The new swimming pool and first tee contiguous with each other will be ready in about two weeks. An alternate No. 1 makes for an interesting tee shot on the No. 10 hole. John Budd, the new professional at Shawangunk, is a highly personable gentleman and a welcome addition to the area golf scene. The Ellenville folks are always among the finest Herdegen Memorial hosts.

• Beware of the Brand:

Seven brands of golf balls have been banned by the USGA for tournament play. The balls were banned, apparently, because they do not meet specifications as to size or are wound too tightly to pass the maximum velocity requirements of golf's ruling body. The seven balls which may not be used are the Ben Hogan, Ben Hogan 90 Plus, Golfcraft Staff, U. S. Royal Special L/P, PGA Ryder Cup, MacGregor DX Tourney and Sweetshot Dyna 90 Matic. If, however, a player gets written certification "by a responsible testing authority" that the specific balls he is using (among those mentioned above) are okay, he will be allowed to play them.

All of the listed makes are sold in area pro shops, but the ban on their use is for USGA events only. One company, which makes Ben Hogan equipment, has sent a letter informing pros that if they or any of their members are planning to compete in a USGA tourney, the company will send balls that will meet the requirements.

The USGA wants it understood, too, that the ban is only against the specific brand names listed and not against all brands made by the companies involved.

Remember, gentlemen, check your balls, it may save you a tournament.

Don Avery Retains Points Lead at Onteora Speedway

Don Avery of West Shokan, a two-time feature winner, is leading for the points title he won last season at Onteora Park Speedway.

Not including last week's races in which he failed to place in the 25-lap feature, feature, Avery had rolled up 92 points, a seven-point lead over runnerup Ray Anderson of Newburgh.

D. D. (Rebel) Harris of Poughkeepsie, the lone three-time feature winner of the season, is setting the pace for Driver points total in the AAA and AAA Jr. circuit with 58. He has 38 in the regular point standings.

The leaders, with car number and points total follow:

| Car | Driver | Points |
|---|---|---|
| 16 | Don Avery | 92 |
| 99 | Ray Anderson | 85 |
| 80 | Don Cronk | 64 |

Pectal and Oles Former OB Aces

One of the two new New York-New Jersey League entries, the Kinderhook Columbians, will have two front line pitchers with minor league background ready to throw at the Kingston Braves Saturday night at Dietz Stadium.

The game will serve as a delayed home opener for the undefeated Braves (3-0) who were rained out last Saturday night.

General Manager Fred Davi's squad has a Saturday afternoon contest at Poughkeepsie against the Millbrook Monarchs, another new team.

Manager Frank Torrey of Kinderhook has indicated he will start Bob Pectal, a left hander who was in the farm system of the New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves. Pectal saw considerable service and lost a 2-1 decision to the Korean All Stars in the All-Pacific finals. He comes from Hillsdale in Columbia County.

If Pectal falters, Torrey can call on Mert Oles, a 6 foot 3 southpaw, who was in the Pittsburgh Pirate chain for two years or Larry Grant.

The club's outstanding power hitter is Ken Rossman, first baseman, who played Class A ball in the New York Giant and Philadelphia Phillies farm system.

Charlie Cooper, ex-Siena College player and a solid .300 hitter will catch for the Columbians. Sam Greco in nearby Stuyvesant is the reserve catcher.

Manager John Pullie of the Braves has not announced his pitching rotation for the weekend, but it is likely that southpaw Bob Maines will get the call against Kinderhook. Al Corwin or Larry De Vita will go against Millbrooks.

Saturday's opener will be featured by the program originally scheduled last week. There will be a parade up Broadway and ceremonies at the stadium.

Erie Sailors Slam Wellsville 6 to 3

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The defending-champion Erie Sailors are beginning to make their presence known among the leaders in the New York-Penn League pennant chase.

The Sailors won their fourth in a row Wednesday night in Erie, downing the Wellsville Braves 6-3 in the league's only contest. Three other games were postponed because of rain or wet grounds.

The victory put Erie in tighter possession of third place ahead of Wellsville.

Tigers Tie Indians in 1st Place

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers, with Frank Lary becoming the first pitcher to win 10 in the majors this season, beat Boston 4-2 Wednesday and gained a tie for first place with Cleveland in the American League race when the New York Yankees beat the Indians 11-5.

Whitey Ford, with relief help by Luis Arroyo, also won his 10th for the third place Yankees, who are one game behind.

Washington beat Baltimore 5-1, Kansas City tagged Minnesota 9-2 and the Chicago White Sox ran up a six-game streak with a 4-1 and 9-8 twi-night doubleheader sweep over the Los Angeles Angels.

A two-run triple by Billy Bruton wrapped it up for the Tigers as they scored three in the fourth inning against the Red Sox and loser Billy Muffett (2-6). Lary (10-3), had a three-hit shutout until the eighth, when Boston scored on four singles and a sacrifice fly by Frank Malzone.

Roger Maris and Bobby Richardson drove in six runs between them for the Yankees. Maris brought them from behind with a two-run homer in the fourth off loser Gary Bell (4-6), and Richardson capped a four-run seventh inning with a three-run homer off reliever Johnny Antonelli.

Ford gave up eight hits, one a solo homer by Chuck Essegian. Arroyo then mopped up with two innings of hitless relief.

A five-run second inning, triggered by Gene Green's two-run homer, did it for the Senators as Dick Donovan (3-5) won his third in a row with a six-hitter. Steve Barber (7-5) was the loser.

Kansas City was shut out on two hits for 7 1-3 innings by Camilo Pascual, but broke loose for eight runs in the eight. Jerry Walker (3-3) won it in relief. Pascual was the loser.

Ray Herbert and Don Larsen, two right-handers acquired from Kansas City Saturday, wrapped up the White Sox's sweep. Herbert (4-6), won the opener with a three-hitter.

Johnny James (0-2 was the loser.

NLL Plans Drive On Saturday for Field Projects

The National Little League boys and volunteer workers assisted by the Women's Auxiliary under its president Mrs. E. Primo will launch the annual "Home Run Day" drive Saturday, June 17 at 10 a. m.

A house to house canvas will be made in Wards 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 in an effort to raise funds to pay for a new outfield 4-foot chain link fence and other improvements to the field and structures.

League officials contend that Shults Stadium-Kingman Park comprises one of the Little League's best playing areas in the county. It is enclosed with a chain link fence and has modern buildings and facilities.

A new minor league field is now in the making, adjacent to the major playing area. It is expected it will be completed for next season.

The National Little League consists of five teams with 75 boys enrolled. The minor league has four teams with 60 boys on the roster, for a total of 135.

Jim Carlson, league president, urges public support during the drive for funds, and points out that considerable expenses are incurred for the upkeep and improvements of the field.

Norton Hurls Rec 1-Hitter

George Norton unfurled a 1-hitter to pitch Hilltop Rest to a 5-0 victory over Armstrong's Bar and Grill, the fourth straight win for Hilltop.

The lone hit off Norton was a hot line drive by the opposing pitcher, Bill Costello, that Norton couldn't handle. The winners had only three hits off Costello.

Clyde Carter hit a double for the only extra base blow of the contest and Big Joe Klonowski kept his hitting streak alive by beating out a ground ball to the first baseman when nobody covered. Costello, however, did check Jack Niles' hitting skein.

Yanks Get Daley, A's Land Ditmar Before Deadline

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the night the general managers of big league baseball clubs sit up late, waiting for the phone to ring.

At midnight, local time, June 15, the trading deadline goes into effect. After that hour no player can be traded from one major league club to another without waivers. The rule remains in effect until the end of the season.

In case you are weak on baseball's legal terminology, waivers are the process by which each club in the league gets a chance to grab a certain player for $20,000. The teams lowest in the standings get first crack and so on up.

New York turned to its old buddies in Kansas City for pitching help Wednesday, completing the 17th deal between the two clubs, involving 64 players, since 1955. Although owner Chuck Finley of the A's recently said no more trades with the Yanks, his general manager, Frank Lane, said he had Finley's approval.

The acquisition of Bud Daley, a left-handed starting pitcher, to team with Whitey Ford figures to strengthen the Yanks, especially at the stadium where southpaws usually are more effective than righties. To get Daley, New York sent pitcher Art Ditmar and infielder Deron Johnson to the A's.

Two Rookies Get IL All-Star Game Call for June 26

MONTREAL (AP) — Two 23-year-old rookies with the Charleston, W. Va., Marlins landed places on the International League all-star baseball team picked by the IL managers to meet Cleveland Indians in Buffalo, N.Y., June 26.

They are right hand pitcher Ray Washburn and first baseman Fred Whitfield.

The Rochester Red Wings, Buffalo Bisons and Columbus Jets also placed two men on the squad and the Toronto Maple Leafs and Jersey City Jerseys one each.

Johnny Lipon of the Maple Leafs, named all-star manager earlier, is to select 10 or more players to round out the team.

In addition to Washburn and Whitfield, they selected:

Trojans Favored To Nip Honors in NCAA Field Event

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The University of Southern California rates a solid favorite to win the NCAA Track and Field Championship Friday and Saturday and Coach Jess Mortensen is not crying wolf.

"I think," he said today, "that it will take 50 points to win the team title and I don't see why we can't score that many points."

The Trojans already have won the title 21 times in the 40-year history of the meet, and Mortensen has piloted the team to six crowns in his 10 years on the job.

Even with the loss of Rex Cawley, who pulled a leg muscle Tuesday and probably will have to scratch, the Trojans will have a hard time losing.

Mortensen has two defending champions on hand and a flock of other talented performers who are certain point-scorers. Dallas Long, who won the shot put with a meet record 61-9 last year should improve on that.

Luther Hayes of the Trojans also set a meet record last year with a 50-11½ hop, step and jump, already has done 51-9¼ this year.

Navy Is Favored To Win 59th IRA Varsity June 17

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Navy's undefeated oarsmen had the backing of competing crew coaches to win the varsity race of the 59th Intercollegiate Rowing Association championships Saturday.

The coaches, in a secret ballot, picked Cornell to take the junior varsity race and Washington in the freshmen test.

nell in the Eastern Sprints at Worcester, Mass., last month. California and Washington split two races on the West Coast.

Swidler Upheld For FPC Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has confirmed Joseph C. Swidler, a long-time partisan on the side of public power development, to be a member of the Federal Power Commission.

Republicans raised no opposition Wednesday to Swidler, a lawyer from Knoxville, Tenn., and former general counsel of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

But they served notice that President Kennedy may face a court fight if he tries to oust Republican Jerome K. Kuykendall as FPC chairman and replace him with Swidler.

The President has indicated Swidler is his choice for the chairmanship, but has not yet said whether he would try to elevate Swidler to the post before Kuykendall's term ends a year from now.

Confirmation was by voice vote, on which the Senate keeps no record as to how any member voted.

Council to Decide Payment System

Clearing the city's streets of last winter's heavy fall of snow, plus sanding and salting, cost the city $67,365.83 above the budget sum of $22,000, it was noted at Wednesday night's Board of Public Works meeting.

This was $25,063.19 more than the $42,302.64 expended above the budget sum in the winter of 1959-60.

Council to Decide

Under a state law, this time, however, municipalities may meet the extra cost by use of three-year budget notes, a five-year bond issue, or by the usual one-year budget note. It will be up to the Common Council to decide upon which procedure is to be followed.

Charles J. Cole, public works superintendent, reported that repair of five streets has been completed, and four major street projects are under way. Work has been done on Irving Place, O'Neil Street, Clinton Avenue, the Fair Street and Greenkill Avenue intersection, and Newkirk Avenue. Work is under way on Jansen Avenue, Jarrold Street, Crane and West Chester Streets.

Will Appoint Five

Mayor Edwin F. Radel noted that five motor equipment operators are to be appointed. A civil service eligibility list of 14 names was recently announced.

The mayor today announced installation of a new three-phase traffic light at Franklin Street and Clinton Avenue. The old style two-phase lights remain only at Green and Main Streets and Clinton Avenue and Henry Street.

Andries LeFevre, Of Paltz Wounded By Fiancee's Dad

A 21-year-old New Paltz man was shot and wounded Wednesday by a college French teacher at Paul Smiths, N. Y., who told police he was trying to break up his 19-year-old daughter's romance with him, the Associated Press reported.

Andries Philip LeFevre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip LeFevre of Forest Glen Road, New Paltz was wounded in the left shoulder and was treated at Saranac Lake Hospital. He was later discharged.

David McKee, 58, who teaches at Paul Smith's College in Franklin County fired a .20-gauge shotgun at LeFevre in the driveway of the teacher's home, six miles north of the college town, police said.

McKee's daughter, Susan, a student at Wells College in Aurora, was dating LeFevre who reportedly attends Colgate University. Police said an argument ensued Wednesday in McKee's home because McKee wanted the relationship to end.

Lawyer Disbarred

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Robert V. Bogan, a Buffalo lawyer convicted on charges of grand larceny and forgery last month in an insurance-fraud case, was disbarred today by the Appellate Division of State Supreme Court.

The action is automatic in the case of attorneys convicted on felony charges.

Bogan, sentenced to a minimum of eight years imprisonment and fined $500, has appealed. If his conviction is reversed, the Appellate Division may reinstate him immediately or may schedule a hearing to examine the nature of the case before taking further action.

Thuan delivered a letter to President Kennedy from President Diem dealing with the Communist threat to Viet Nam. Later Thuan told newsmen that he is seeking direct U. S. training of his country's troops to increase their combat effectiveness against Communist guerrillas operating throughout much of his country. ## $28 Million New Cuban Demand for Prisoners

HAVANA (AP)—The U.S. tractors-for-prisoners team heads for Washington today after hearing Fidel Castro's latest demand—$28 million worth of farm-type tractors in exchange for 1,167 captive invaders.

This amounts to about $21,000 per prisoner.

No Commitments

The unofficial, four-man negotiating panel said it made no commitments to the Cuban prime minister; that it intended to lay the demand before the Tractors-For-Freedom Committee headed by Eleanor Roosevelt.

Whether the committee, in its drive for public subscriptions, could raise the kind of money involved in Castro's demand was uncertain. Other leaders of the drive, besides Mrs. Roosevelt, are Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers and Dr. Milton Eisenhower.

The campaign for funds results from Castro's offhand offer of May 17.

Shows New Sides

Castro showed some new sides to his proposal Wednesday during five hours of negotiating sessions with the American team.

He said he would go along with the committee's offer to supply small farming tractors rather than the big construction tractors he originally sought. But he said the large tractors would have $28 million plus transportation costs —so he expected that much money's worth of the smaller machines.

The Cuban leader indicated he would be agreeable to receiving 1,000 tractors one-half the size of the heavy models first demanded.

The monetary value was a stiff price in terms of the committee's earlier thinking. The fund raisers had been talking about raising $2.5 million or so to buy 500 of the smaller types of tractors which they said should meet Castro's agricultural needs.

Small, general purpose farm tractors sell at from $3,500 to $6,000 in the United States. At such rates, the $28 million figure set by Castro would purchase 4,700 to 8,000 tractors.

Reduces Members

Castro also reduced somewhat the number of captives he said he could liberate upon receipt of the tractors. The original figure given the committee was 1,214. Castro said this is now down to 1,167 due to some deaths, special trials he plans for some prisoners and other reasons.

Cuba's boss said he really would prefer to trade freedom of his captives for freedom of 1,200 persons in jail in the United States, Spain and some Latin-American countries.

Asked if he had a specific list of the 1,200 prisoners abroad whom he wants liberated, Castro replied he had "no list, but we know there are many prisoners there because they are patriots."

As for the tractor deal, he said: "It's going well. It all depends on them (the American Committee) now."

$240,000 Voted For Addition at School in Ridge

A bond issue of $240,000 for construction of eight new classrooms and other facilities at the Marbletown Elementary School, Stone Ridge, was adopted Wednesday by voters of the Rondout Valley Central School District.

The vote was 590 in favor of the proposition, 320 opposed, eight ballots void a total vote of 918.

The estimated cost of the additions is $240,000, of which approximately 50 per cent ($118,965) will be paid by New York State.

The proposal calls for construction of eight new classrooms, a teacher's room, adequate heating and sewage facilities for the new wing, renovation of one room in the existing building for a library, and a new well to augment the present water supply for the school.

Enrollment in the elementary school is expected to increase more than 50 per cent within the next two years.

Harry Halverson and Associates, Kingston, is architect for the proposed additions.

Final drawings will now be prepared and submitted to the board of education of the school district. If approved by the board they will then be submitted to the State Education Department for approval.

400 Increase by 1962

Superintendent Edward Green of the Rondout Valley Central School District told The Freeman this morning that the district, with almost 2,000 pupils enrolled from kindergarten through the 12th grade, expects an increase of 200 pupils in September, 1961, and 200 in September, 1962. Most of this increase will be on the elementary school level.

A number of young families have moved into the Rondout Valley District in recent years, which partially explains the increases in school enrollment, it is reported.

Fall Start Possible

Green said the board would like to see work start in the fall, with completion by September, 1962.

If the wing can be completed earlier than that there will be

Handicapped Drive Is On, Show Tonight

A county-wide drive to help train area handicapped people for jobs in industry is under way and will carry on through June 25, covering the period proclaimed as Hire the Handicapped Week.

More than 60 workers from local service organizations attended a breakfast this moring in the Governor Clinton Hotel to hear the reasons why support should be given Gateway Industries, Inc., which trains the people at a special workshop at 519 Broadway.

Call for Early Returns

Chairmen of the drive, Richard M. Kalish and Drew Daly gave inspiring talks as did J. Ellis Briggs, Industrial division chairman, and William F. Edelmuth, former mayor, who is president of Gateways. All stressed immediate need for the funds which will be used for additional equipment.

Brochures have been mailed out and it is hoped that people receiving them will make returns to Gateway, 519 Broadway as soon as possible.

Report meetings for workers will be held two nights at the workshop on Broadway, Wednesday, Judne 21, and Thursday, June 29 at 7:30 o'clock.

The proclamation about Hire the Handicapped Week was issued by Kingston Mayor Edwin F. Radel, who endorses the local training center and the work that Gateway Industries Inc., is doing.

Bates Show Tonight

A special benefit show is being presented at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium tonight at 8:30, arranged by Peg Leg Bates, international star of stage and television, a one-legged dancer who has been encouraging the handicapped for years.

Bates, who lives at his Country Club, a Kerhonkson resort, and a group of entertainers will perform tonight. He promises a real entertaining program, similar to the ones he has arranged and played in for polio and cerebral palsy funds throughout Ulster County.

Contract Expires For Local 1467

Some 700 men at six Hudson Valley brickyards are on strike today following expiration of their contract at midnight Wednesday.

Continue Through Night

Negotiations between union and management representatives have been in progress during the past week but final agreement had not been reached by the midnight deadline.

Negotiations continued through the night at the Newburgh Hotel, Newburgh, breaking up about 6 a. m. today. Other meetings were held earlier this week at the Biltmore Hotel, New York City.

May Resume Today

President Joseph Amato said this morning that negotiations were expected to resume later today.

Ulster Will Get $215,924 Refund In Vehicle Fees

Ulster County's share of a distribution of $21,865,819.40 of motor vehicle tax receipts to the counties of the state and New York City for the quarter period ending March 31 was $215,924.47, an increase of $7,608.65 compared with the amount for the same period in 1960.

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt's figures show that Ulster County received $208,315.82 for the first quarter ending March 31, 1960.

Money Received

Other area counties received increases in the distribution for the three-month period of 1961 as follows: (the first figure is the 1961 share and the second 1960):

Greene—$75,648.46, $73,769.91, increase $1,878.55; Columbia—$106,435.67, $96,026.72, up $10,408.94; Orange—$318,268.36, $317,276.03, up $992.33; Delaware—$94,961.75, $88,334.12, up $6,627.63; Dutchess—$273,788.11, $252,401.43, up $21,386.68; Rockland—$228,658.36, $207,070.38, up $21,587.98.

The total distribution is the share of the state-collected motor vehicle fees for the three months ending March 31, which is being returned to the counties in accordance with the state highway law.

25 PC Return

The law provides that 25 per cent of the fees collected under the vehicl and traffic law, exclusive of application fees and service charge for special plates, from residents of counties be returned to local government.

The money is deposited in the county road funds, from which expenditures for construction and maintenance of county road systems are made.

Perry Seeking GOP Mayoral Nomination

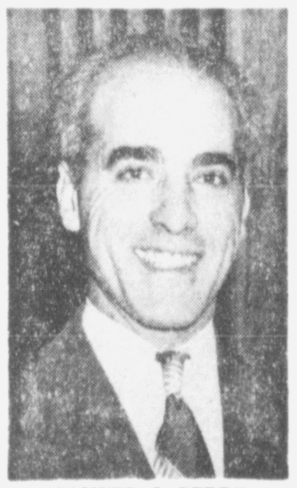
Alderman Samuel J. Perry, (R) Fifth Ward, Common Council minority leader, today said he will seek the Republican candidacy for mayor.

Mentioned for some time as a possible candidate for office, Perry said definitely this afternoon that he will be in the race.

An alderman of 12 years experience in the Common Council Perry has long been an aggressive legislator in the interest of his ward and of the city at large. He is known best in his ward as well as citywide for his stand against a refuse disposal project which a few years ago was planned for the Kingston Point area in his ward.

A veteran of World War II, he served 22 months of sea duty in the Pacific on the Bennington, an aircraft carrier. A former employe of the Berardi Construction Co., he is now an operations foreman for the Hudson Cement Co. He is a member of St. Mary's Benevolent Society, St. Mary's Holy Name Society, and of Union Hose Company.

Alderman Perry was mentioned as far back as 1959 as a potential candidate for mayor.



SAMUEL J. PERRY

The announcement today of his candidacy, was the second this week, former Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk, having announced earlier that he would seek the nomination.

Consider Castro Is Unmasked

Feeling Is Tractor Deal to Save Lives

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kennedy administration officials believe the tractors for prisoners trade — whether it succeeds or fails — may save the lives of 1,200 Cuban invasion captives.

Nobody in Washington feels safe in predicting what action Prime Minister Fidel Castro will take next. But high government officials said today the belief here is that Castro cannot afford now to wheel out his firing squads.

Propaganda Licking

All the evidence adds up to a world-wide propaganda licking for Castro as a result of his offer to trade the prisoners for 500 tractors. Administration officials feel the whole affair has been particularly effective in unmasking in Latin America Castro's pose as a benefactor of the downtrodden.

Castro's offer appears to have embarrassed the Communists at a time when they were exploiting the failure of the American-approved invasion. It may have contributed to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's description of Castro as unstable, and not a Communist in the Soviet leader's recent talks with Kennedy in Vienna.

Foresees Coup

Kennedy was said by close associates to have foreseen the possibilities of a propaganda coup when he took a hand in forming the Tractors for Freedom Committee, whose representatives are negotiating with the Castro government.

Beyond this, however, Kennedy was credited with believing from the beginning that the Castro offer might provide the opportunity to marshal world opinion to the point where the dictator could not afford to liquidate his enemies.

Could Start Something

Any spoke of the Cuban leader for mass executions is seen here as likely to start the wheels moving toward eventual cooperative inter-American action against his regime.

If the lives of the prisoners are saved, the Kennedy administration believes it will have an effective answer to Republican contentions that the tractor trade would involve not only the payment of "blackmail" to Castro but possible violation of the Logan Act. This bars U.S. nationals from dealings with other governments under specified circumstances.

Ulster to Number Streets Soon, to Ask Sewage Study

The numbering of streets in the town of Ulster will begin in the near future as the result of action Wednesday night by the town board.

The township has been divided into sections for the purpose. The first section in which numbering, or re-numbering, of homes will be instituted runs from the city line (Wrentham Street) to Boice's lane.

After completion of numbering in this area the process will be continued in another section of the township.

To Aid Deliveries

The numbering of homes was approved Monday night by the town planning board and last night in the Lake Katrine Grange.

It was explained that numbering of homes will be systematized, thus facilitating postal and other deliveries, etc.

The section from the city line to Boice's lane is the most populous part of the township.

The board also accepted a road

Villages Fall in Offensive

Importance Noted By Military Men

GENEVA (AP)—U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman today charged that two companies of troops from Communist North Viet Nam took part in the successful attack on Padong in Laos.

In a speech at the international conference on Laos Harriman said nothing about today's attacks by pro-Communist rebel forces in Laos, which military men judged more important than the attack on Padong on June 7. The West boycotted the conference five days because of its anger about Padong.

May Split Royalists

The latest attacks took two villages near the narrow waist of Laos and threatened to split the forces of the royal Laotian government into two segments.

Although a spokesman for Harriman minimized the importance of these attacks, military men considered them even more flagrant violations of the cease-fire. The Communists have not even complained that it was provoked by supply flights of U. S. planes over their territory, as they did at Padong.

Harriman said:

"The Soviet Union has been almost daily supplying the forces of the rebels, through Nieng Khuang by an airlift which originates in North Viet Nam."

Replies to Gromyko

Harriman's speech was a reply to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, who blamed the United States and pro-Western troops for earlier violations of the Laotian cease-fire proclaimed last month.

Harriman also answered Soviet charges that the United States was deliberately holding up progress of the 14-nation conference.

He said the delay was caused by Gromyko's refusal to send adequate instructions to the International Control Commission and by the refusal of the contending factions in Laos to cooperate with the commission which supervises truce teams in Laos trying to control the cease-fire.

Western delegations here have accused the Communists of using the plenary sessions, attended by all the conference delegations, as a sounding board for propaganda.

Favors Small Groups

Harriman said small working groups would permit candid discussion of rival proposals. "We are fully prepared to enter into detailed drafting work on a paragraph -by-paragraph, line-by-line, by-line, word-by-word basis," he said.

The United States accuses the Communist-led Pathet Lao guerrillas of violating the cease-fire, which a U.S. military adviser in Laos said Wednesday "has been a joke for the past 10 days."

The Pathet Lao seized the mountain village of Padong June 6 and only Monday ousted the government villages of Ban Hat Ed and Ban Hat Lao. All three are positions on the front northeast of Vientiane, the capital. Military observers said 2,000 rebel troops took part in the assault on the two villages.

A U.S. spokesman in Geneva minimized the importance of the latest cease-fire violations and said Harriman had no reason to complain about them at the conference. He said U.S. reports indicated the attacks involved very small forces and that U.S. military advisers were not with

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Several hundred pro-Castro students burned U.S. Ambassador Teodoro Moscoso's automobile Wednesday night at Caracas University while he was attending an exhibit.

The students crowded around the car parked on the university campus, yanked the driver from the front seat and set the vehicle afire.

Government officials charged the students acted on order of "well known leftist leaders." The Caracas press has accused university officials of being too lenient with Communists in the student body who staged a bloody uprising late last year.

Moscoso did not see the attack and discounted its significance, saying: "I must say that I feel this does not reflect the true feeling of the people of Venezuela."

A Puerto Rican, Moscoso was appointed ambassador to Caracas last March by President Kennedy in a move to improve U.S. relations with Latin America.

But even before his arrival recently, Moscoso had been the target of student demonstrations denouncing the U.S. role in the ill-fated invasion of Cuba by exiled opponents of Fidel Castro.

The students had been trying to get up a demonstration ever since Moscoso arrived in Caracas but had been thwarted by the vigilance of police, acting on orders of President Romulo Betancourt. However, police traditionally stay off Venezuelan campuses unless invited to enter by school authorities, and Moscoso and his party went unguarded to see the exhibit at the school of architecture.

Moscoso waited in the office of Rafael Devenzi, the university president, while school authorities restored order.

Alejandro Oropeza Castillo, governor of the Caracas District, and scores of police arrived within minutes after the incident was reported but were not called into the campus.

Governor Oropeza accompanied Moscoso back to the U.S. Embassy.

County Red Cross Chapter 53rd Annual Meeting Held

Approximately 82 members and volunteers attended the 53rd annual meeting of the Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross, at the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday evening.

General Sherman V. Hasbrouck, U. S. Army (Ret.), chapter chairman, presided. Invocation was given by Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom and benediction by the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly.

A report of the 1961 fund campaign was given by Wilbur R. Peters, chairman. Mr. Peters reported that $31,600 had been raised against a $34,000 quota. The organization of the city wards and county townships was briefly outlined, and Mr. Peters extended his appreciation to the more than 700 volunteers who participated in the campaign.

William A. Call, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate for members of the board of directors. The following were elected as new members for a term of three years:

William Conway, Tillson; John W. Egbert, Kingston; Wilbur R. Peters, Hurley and Arthur Tasman, Ellenville.

Edward W. Carpenter, Marlboro, was elected to fill the unexpired term of Henry H. Packer, deceased; and Louis A. Lewis, Woodstock, to fill the unexpired term of Hubert Perkins, Highland, who resigned.

Reelected for a term of three years were Morton E. Gazley, Stone Ridge; Mrs. Russell W. Hardick, Saugerties; Brig. General Sherman V. Hasbrouck, Stone Ridge; Robert E. Murray,

Ground Is Broken For New Building At Dutchess Fair

Ground was broken Wednesday in Rhinebeck for a new building which officials of the Dutchess County Fair describe as "another important step being taken now to be prepared for the future growth of the fair."

The building, an attractive ranch-type home, will be leased to Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. for use as a model display home for the 1961 and 1962 Dutchess fairs, and will eventually be used by the fair organization both as a permanent first aid station and a fine arts or home demonstration exhibit area.

The 2,100 square foot home will be located near the administration building, and adjacent to the Flower Show building on a landscaped lot 150 by 125 feet off Route 9.

Richard C. Murray, secretary of the fair, said the board of directors recently authorized the project "because it provided an excellent opportunity to expand the facilities and exhibit area of the fair to meet future needs at minimum cost."

He added, "For some time now we have anticipated the need to construct and outfit a permanent first aid station by the 1963 and 1964 fairs to replace the smaller facilities now in the administration building. We have foreseen the need for additional exhibit space for the fine arts and home demonstration displays.

"We are fortunate to be able to construct the building now and lease the entire structure to Central Hudson for two years and to do it in such a way as to allow for easy conversion to our future needs," said Murray.

Central Hudson is planning to open the model home in time for the opening of this year's Dutchess Fair on Aug. 25. It will be used for display purposes during the 1961 and 1962 fairs, and perhaps on occasions between fairs.

A one-story building, the new home is the latest design of National Homes, and is being built by Ulster Homes, Inc. When converted for County Fair use, the bedroom section will be used as a first aid station and the living room, dining room, kitchen and garage will become exhibit areas.

Disclaim Bigotry In Opposing Aid ToChurchSchools

CLINTON, N.Y. (AP)—The New York Synod of the Presbyterian Church disclaimed any bigotry in declaring "we have the right and duty" to oppose public aid to parochial schools.

The synod, in a resolution adopted Wednesday night, said:

"Our (Roman) Catholic brethren have the right to agitate for all the assistance they can get, but we believe we have the right and the duty to call the alarm when any group or church is subverting the Constitution and skirting the wall between church and state."

The resolution said the opposition "is not bigoted and is not deserving of such false labels."

Other resolutions adopted at the 104th annual meeting opposed bingo and open stores on Sundays.

The synod said one of the principal objections of the Protestant church to bingo was that the game "attracts the most undesirable element in town.

"When any citizen supports gambling, legalized or not, he is directly contributing to the complex activities controlled by crime organizations," the resolution said.

Legalized bingo has been under attack since State Investigation Commission hearings that disclosed racketeers had infiltrated some games.

The synod appointed the Rev. William Bells, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Baldwinsville, near Syracuse, associate executive of the synod.

GOP Chairman Shifts View On Rockefeller for 1964

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new Republican national chairman, who opposed Gov. Rockefeller's candidacy for the 1960 GOP presidental nomination, says the governor "would be a major contender" in 1964 if he won re-election by a big margin.

First for Nixon

Rep. William E. Miller, a Lockport attorney, was an outspoken supporter of Richard M. Nixon during the then vice president's 1959 infighting with Rockefeller over the presidential nomination.

Miller was the first Upstate New York Republican House member to support Nixon publicly over Rockefeller.

And he was instrumental in putting the entire New York Republican House delegation on record in favor of Nixon's candidacy.

But since his election as national chairman less than two weeks ago, Miller has publicly taken a course that, although neutral, appears to favor Rockefeller over Nixon for 1964.

He has even suggested a 1964 Republican ticket of Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., a conservative.

His View About Both

At the same time he had this to say about Nixon:

"Nixon, if he runs for governor of California in 1962 and is elected substantially, would still be a contender, I would presume."

In contrast, Miller says Rockefeller could conceivably win re-election as New York governor by almost one million votes and if he does this "he certainly would be a major contender."

At this point, Miller also sees Goldwater and Nixon as major contenders for the nomination in 1964 and thinks other Republicans such as Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon might come to the forefront in the months ahead.

He says he has no objection to a convention fight for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination and, in fact, thinks one would be healthy for the party.

Rockefeller has shied away from mention not only of his possible candidacy but also of any hint that he might be interested in the presidency.

Disagrees With Javits

Miller's election as chairman will undoubtedly point up the differences in the liberal and conservative wings of the Republican party, especially in New York.

He has already disagreed twice with Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a leader of the GOP liberal wing.

Javits called a possible Rockefeller-Goldwater ticket in 1964 a hybrid.

Rockefeller's ideas are so inconsistent with Goldwater's, Javits has said, "that this would be nothing but a ticket of political convenience and I hope it would not occur."

Following his election as chairman, Miller also was sharply critical of attempts by private citizens to raise money to buy tractors for Premier Fidel Castro's suggested prisoner exchange in Cuba.

He's Embarrassed

Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., admits he was somewhat embarrassed leaving the White House after his first visit with President Kennedy.

The President had invited several House members, including Pike, to an informal get-together. Pike, however, was anxious to leave after an hour to drive to his Long Island home.

A presidential aide managed to sneak him out of the White House only to be confronted by Pike's eight-year-old son who yelled across the lawn:

THE NEED FOR ORDER

The situation in the Dominican Republic, following the assassination of Dictator Rafael Trujillo, is under formal investigation by a committee representing the Organization of American States. This is in heartening contrast to freedom's lack of progress elsewhere around the globe.

The OAS action presents a unified approach to the problem of establishing political morality in the western hemisphere as a bulwark against further Communist encroachment. It also raises hopes that Rafael Trujillo, Jr., may be prepared to align his country not with Castro but with the West. This may be too much to hope for. Still, if his father's fate really has brought this playboy to his senses he may make good on his promise to conduct free elections next May.

If this OAS committee can instigate moves which bring order out of the chaotic conditions in the Dominican Republic, it will strengthen the hand of the OAS for the role it ought to play in preventing the loss of Latin America to the Reds. Such a loss must not be allowed to happen. An unanimity of western hemisphere action is the best guarantee against it.

But there remains the seriously disturbing possibility that the OAS committee will not be able to accomplish this, will not be able to assure restoration of order in the Dominican Republic. Yet order must be restored. It is disorder upon which Communist infiltration thrives. With Moscow's backing, Castro's agents will move in quickly if they are not in fact already established on the island.

Western hemisphere unity in this crisis is highly desirable. But if it does not materialize promptly then Washington must face the question whether the time has come for unilateral action.

UNTIL A SALE IS MADE

An advertisement of the Oregon Newspaper Publishers Association carries this heading: "Nothing Happens Until A Sale Is Made." The text adds, "But when sales are made, things happen. America lives, breathes, creates. There is accomplishment, pride. There is progress.

"Where are most sales made? In ads, of course. Ads that tell you what you want to know, about what you want to buy. Ads that guide you in fulfilling needs and wants. Adds that stimulate competition, help keep prices down. Ads that keep America rolling ahead."

These statements come close to being truisms. And they underline two facts of importance to everyone. In our kind of economy, advertising is a basic essential. Through their ads producers and sellers of a thousand and one kinds of goods and services compete for public favor—and, if they are to be successful, they must back up their statements by trying to give the best possible quality for the price.

Secondly, the Association's statement points up the role of retailing in this country. All the productive facilities on earth would be useless if there were no comparable mechanism for moving the products into the hands of the people who want and use them. Mass distribution is the full and equal partner of mass production.

Yes—nothing happens until a sale is made.

GEOGRAPHY LESSON

It is said that in the Kennedy-Khrushchev talks the Soviet premier drew a rough map showing the immense Soviet land mass and its bordering satellites.

His point, of course, was to show the President how easily conventional Russian armies could fan out to adjacent land areas. Those forces, he noted, would be operating on very short supply lines.

However well Kennedy may have held his own in the talks, he could not use a map so convincingly. For geography is not this country's friend, as it once was believed to be.

In the age of rockets and supersonic planes, the broad oceans no longer protect us. But at the same time their expanse still gives us incredible problems in the deployment and supply of the mobile forces which are the only conventional elements we can bring to bear upon remote free areas threatened by tyranny.

'These Days'

T.V.

I fear that I contribute to juvenile delinquency. I look at T.V. murders whenever I have any time for such things. T.V., to me, is fun, relaxation, amusement. If I want to be educated, I prefer a carefully written book or monograph. Most of the learning I find on T.V. adds to juvenile confusion. The debates among politicians and the question and answer programs are too trifling. Give me "Perry Mason," who wins evey case by violating the rules of evidence. Or give me "Gunsmoke" where murder is the theme. What puzzles me is why these men do not marry their women.

Presumably a young fellow becomes a juvenile delinquent because, being bored with virtue, he watches T.V. and becomes vicious. But we had bad boys and bad girls long before there was any such thing as T.V. Jessie James and Gyp the Blood lived before T.V. It is too easy to jump to conclusions about what drives the young to sin and even to murder. We now have a whipping boy, T.V. Nobody, however, is corrupted by any one medium.

For instance, there seems to be a fashion these days for children to sue parents for money the parents earned or own. It seemed to have started with a young lady who went after her grandmother and it goes the rounds like any other fashion. I have not seen this violation of the Ten Commandments on T.V. but it occurs in life quite often. I was told recently that a Mother, coming home at a late hour, saw her very juvenile daughter, dressed to kill and going out. The Mother gently inquired where the young lady was going to and received an impolite reply.

What does a parent do under such circumstances? When I was a child, there was no doubt about it. The parent would seize the child, put it across a knee and give it a thorough spanking. If that is too much effort for the parent, it is certain that the child will grow up not only as a juvenile delinquent but as an adult delinquent. Parents who cater to childish impudence help to manufacture more juvenile delinquents than all the murders on T.V.

Besides, if children look at the murders, whose fault is it? The parent who says that he cannot refuse his child the wish to spend hours watching nonsense on T.V. is really not a parent. Such a person is little more than a legal guardian scared of his wards. The child, who may be bored with T.V., will look nevertheless to establish beyond question who is the boss.

Children who sue parents or grandparents for money which the children did not earn by their own work violate Natural Law and therefore should have no place in any court. It is part of our present leniency to grant children the right to persecute parents and to withdraw from parents the right to protect children from corrupting materialism.

In my opinion, the gossip columnists do more evil than the murders in T.V. When young people equate divorce as equal to marriage; when they regard it as the acme of success to be mentioned in such a column, however disagreeably; when they hire press agents to give them a bad name as long as the name is spelled correctly — then morality disappears and an entire nation suffers from corruption. I recently read one such document and could not discover in it a single name noted for service to the country, for contribution to civilization, or to fine and cultured living. The principal item dealt with a man who is opening living with a woman to whom he is not married.

If he can get away with that, why should not the kids imitate him, and her too, and get their names printed daily and favorably in the gossip columns? You and I can cite dozens of examples of the advertising of the immoral and the indecent to prove that such qualities pay while honest virtue is its own reward and gets you nowhere.

And so, I shall go back to my murders — to "Have Gun—Will Travel" where, at any rate, English is spoken as a language possessing grammar and diction and refinement of expression. Or perhaps I prefer relaxation in a Beatnik cafe where, at least, educated young and old, have something else to speak about than small and petty gossip about each other.

Glaucoma Clinics Pay Off in Sight Saving

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of the most useful and rewarding community enterprises is that in which screening is done for the detection of glaucoma and the prevention of blindness.

A little over a year ago, Milwaukee and Wisconsin groups initiated a "G-Day" under the auspices of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness and local and state medical societies. Between 9 a. m. and 4:45 p. m., a total of 1,451 adults were screend and an additional 300 had to be turned away.

In Brookline, Mass., a similar project was instituted under the auspices of the local chapter of the Lions Club. By Oct. 7, 1960, 41 clinics were held at which 3,018 patients were examined.

In each of these projects, tests were done for distant vision. The backgrounds of the eyes were examined by an ophthalmologist and the tension of the eyeball was measured after a drop of local anesthetic had been instilled.

Of the 1,451 persons tested in Milwaukee, 109 glaucoma suspects were discovered. And in Brookline, of 466 persons with eye conditions at least 38 had unsuspected glaucoma.

Now while there is no way of preventing or curing glaucoma, its effects on vision can be controlled, once the diagnosis is established. And since glaucoma is a principal cause for defective vision and blindness, especially in the elderly, and particularly in those with diabetes and/or a family history of glaucoma, the accomplishments of these G-Days cannot be overestimated.

I feel obligated to pass along the definitions of optician, optometrist and ophthalmologist as adopted by the Executive Committee of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

A prescription optician is a skilled technician who is qualified to grind lenses, fit and dispense eyeglasses.

An optometrist is one whose education, training and licensure qualify him to examine eyes, without the use of drugs, for abnormal visual problems not due to disease thence, the optometrist is not qualified to perform tonometry for detection of glaucoma). He may prescribe, fit and supply eyeglasses and provide visual training for such conditions. If his examination leads him to suspect defect or a disease requiring medical or surgical treatment, he will refer the patient to a qualified physician or surgeon.

An ophthalmologist or oculist is a doctor of medicine who, while licensed to practice all branches of medicine and surgery, has specialized in the examination of the eye and related structures and in the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of its defects and diseases, prescribing whatever is required, including eyeglasses.

"Hold These a Minute, Kid"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Kennedy will complete his legislative recommendations to this session of Congress before the end of June.

Among messages — barring some new emergency — will be proposal to make permanent the temporarily extended unemployment insurance benefits approved by Congress earlier this year. There will be messages to create the new Disarmament Administration and a youth opportunities bill. The latter proposal incorporates the Conservation Corps idea and a retraining program for unemployed young people unable to go to college.

THERE WILL ALSO BE SEVERAL MORE reorganization plans, including one for the Office of Civilian Defense and Mobilization (OCDM), outlined by the President in his recent "second State of the Union" message.

Since reorganization plans must lie before Congress 60 days before they go into effect, it is essential that any additional plans must be sent to Capital Hill before June 15, assuming that Congress gets the urge to go home by mid-August. Some of the other planned reorganizations must be delayed till next year, because they are not yet ready.

Up to June 1, the President had sent Congress 49 bills for new legislation and 5 reorganization plans.

In this same period, Congress passed 45 measures which have been signed into law by the President. But only 8 of the 45 have dealt with major presidential proposals.

They cover area redevelopment, minimum wage increase, two bills on temporary unemployment insurance extension, aid for dependent children of the unemployed, the feed grain bill, increase in the number of federal judges and approval of the $600 million Latin American aid plans.

THE OTHER 37 VARIETIES of legislation which Congress passed in the last five months principally concern government housekeeping operations, extension of laws about to expire or minor amendment to other laws.

Four of these measures relate to Indian affairs, 4 to public lands, 7 to agriculture, 10 to measures of government administration, such as restoring Eisenhower's Army rank.

Four laws mark anniversaries: 100th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's assassination; making May 1 Law Day; designating one week in May as Transportation Week; extending till June 28, 1961, the date for completion of plans to observe the 175th anniversary of the Constitution, March 4, 1964.

Four more of the laws passed this year provide for medals. They will commemorate: the 250th anniversary of the founding of Mobile, Ala.; make a posthumous award to the late Dr. Thomas A. Dooley; authorize coinage and sale of duplicates for the inauguration medal presented to Poet Robert Frost; mark this year's golden anniversary of Naval Aviation with a "galvano."

For those who haven't time to look it up, a galvano is an electroplated commemorative plaque. This one is being unveiled at a naval aviators' reunion in Pensacola this month.

But the real prize in legislative accomplishment this Congress is Public Law No. 2, signed March 21, 1961. It authorizes distribution of copies of the Congressional Record to former members of the House and Senate. For free, of course. If anything will save the country, this should be it.

SO, ANY WAY YOU LOOK AT IT, the first session of the 87th Congress has not distinguished itself, yet. But give it time. It may catch fire one of these hot days and start passing laws faster than you can keep track of them.

The question is what and how much of the Kennedy program the lawmakers will approve. This program is really so big that few people have any comprehension of it. Congress may turn down some parts of it. But all are worthy of careful consideration.

Business Fears JFK Policy May Set Off New Recession

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, June 14—Business men are beginning to worry about another recession—the one expected after the current recovery has run its course. The real worry about the long-range outlook arises from the failure of the Kennedy administration to come to grips with the things that are hurting the national economy. Instead, there are signs of a deep-seated hostility to business on the part of the Administration which could retard recovery and make another recession inevitable.

Many unsound policies are being advocated. Thus, the drastic changes proposed in the whole system of taxing American companies abroad could bring on a disruption of foreign trade and add to the difficulties of many of our allies.

Likewise, the stimulus that had been expected through a sensible program of tax incentives on depreciation allowances in connection with new plant and equipment has not materialized. Business men don't really know what to expect, and many of the plans that should long ago have been under way to construct new plants haven't been launched as yet. All the benefits of employment that would have been derived from the heavy-goods industries if a broader policy on depreciation had been formulated have, therefore, not been forthcoming.

Needs Seen Ignored

The inclination in the Administration and in Congress to spend money and time on projects that do not assist the normal economic development of the country, but merely add to its deficits has become pronounced. Administration officials talk about spending $40,000,000,000 to develop American exploration of the moon and outer space, but the down-to-earth requirements of a business recovery in America are being ignored.

More than $6,000,000,000 are to be spent by the government for housing, but critics point out that in most areas government money on forty-year mortgages is not so much needed since the rental space available has been steadily increasing in recent years.

Another measure causing concern is the proposal to burden banks, savings-and-loan associations and business generally with the expensive task of deducting tax on dividends at the source. This not only means hardship for small stockholders—especially retired persons—who may not get their normal income promptly hereafter, but it involves a tremendous amount of paper work for the companies themselves. It is one of the most costly things in the way of tax collection ever suggested. Oddly enough, it is being estimated by experts that, if the government did a better checking job on corporation stockholder lists and on payments made in dividends each year, it could readily collect from delinquent taxpayers.

Fears of Inflation

Basically, business is worried about inflationary trends and the upward rise of prices brought on by higher wage levels. When an administration scorns a balanced budget and even suggests that to balance it is harmful, then business men begin to be genuinely concerned about the future.

What is particularly disturbing is that, while the Kennedy administration started off with a friendly interest in the fate of business—and some benevolent phrases were used for a time—the indifference now to the problems faced by American business has become more and more noticeable in Washington.

There was a time when business men felt that the coalition of "conservative" Democrats and Republicans in Congress would prevent any serious disturbance of the business equilibrium by hostile legislation. But the coalition seems to have been weakened by defections in both parties. The tendency to get something while the getting is good seems to have been noted with respect to individual members of Congress. The Administration has been dispensing its favors to Southern Democrats here and there and has been picking up votes for unsound programs. These Southerners have gone along with inflationary measures, too. The net effect has been to notify American business men that, instead of friendliness to the private-enterprise system, the direction in Congress is toward socialization and inflation.

Back home the citizenry has not yet been awakened to what the damage can be to the economic system if the coalition of "conservatives" loses strength in Washington. It has been the single bulwark of the economy for more than a decade and a half, since the ending of World War II. If now a series of recessions ensues, it will be a long while before the country will make the progress that it could well have made if the economic system had been encouraged along sound lines.

OLD TIMER'S CIVIL WAR NOTES

The Cavalry branch of the Union Army played such an important part in bringing victory to the North in the Civil War that too much cannot be said in praise of the daring exploits of these mounted soldiers throughout those long and trying years of pitched battles, engagements and skirmishes. Without these "Eyes of the Army" the great struggle between the States might have dragged along interminably. They scouted hither and yon in that land so strange to our boys, locating the enemy in woods, swamps and mountains, thwarting surprise attacks and often tangling with the "Johnnies" in head-on combat. Small wonder, then, that General Hooker, in the course of his farewell address in New York City said that no regiment had done so much for our cause as the Harris Light Cavalry (known also as the Second Regiment of Cavalry), which was made up of men recruited largely in the Hudson Valley area, where enlistments were received at Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Albany. Your Old Timer in future articles will tell more about this famous regiment which rode, scouted, fought and bled in practically every nook and cranny of the Old Dominion State, and suffered an aggregate death loss of 11 officers and 371 enlisted men.

Suffice it for now, however, to relate a few excerpts from the reminiscences of a Kingston veteran of service with the Harris Cavalry. O.T. will make it a kind of digest of what the old soldier had to say about "Outpost Duty." If, at Shiloh, Grant had been well provided with cavalry and made proper use of them, a surprise would have been impossible. The same can also be said of Hooker at Chancellorsville. ? If the cavalry had not been sent off on a wild goose chase but had been used for the front and flanks, Stonewall Jackson could not have crept up to within musket shot before the Eleventh Corps was aware of his coming. We always watched the roads and lanes, and always at some distance from the Army. This was called outpost duty and the men in the extreme front were known as vedettes, while those who were the immediate support of the vedettes were called reserves of the outpost. These pickets, as they were generally called, not only kept a watch out for the enemy but also examined any person trying to pass the lines. As the war progressed, not much attention was paid to passes, what with so many spies around, but the person was arrested and reported to the reserve.

When the enemy appeared, the vedette fired and fell back on the reserve which then fired or charged, according to the judgment of the officer in command. If the reserve was hard pressed, it fell back to the main body which by that time was all set to receive the attackers. There was considerable sharp fighting on picket duty and the cavalry was kept busy the year round. The infantry and artillery might be in camp taking a much needed rest but the men on horseback seemed always on the go. This vedette assignment obviously was not one for a timid soul—crouching there in the bushes, waiting, watching, listening. . . . These lone outpost scouts were on duty four hours and off four hours when the 'relief' arrived. Where the post was a particularly dangerous one, two men were stationed as vedettes. It was the rule to keep the horses saddled on the reserve and a portion of the men mounted, though the latter part of the rule was seldom carried out.

The most serious work of outpost duty was at night, and just before dawn was a favorite time for the enemy to launch an attack, and the violence of their onslaught, accompanied by the racket of gunfire along the picket lines, the shrill, spine-tingling "Rebel yell," the furious thunder of drums and shrill blasts of bugles made a rude awakening for our boys, sleeping on the Virginia hillsides and dreaming of home. Yes, the safety of the Army to a large extent, depended on the vigilance of the cavalry outposts whose primary rule of duty at all times was "Precaution and Indefatigable Vigilance." Notwithstanding the hardships of outpost duty, especially during wet and cold weather, the Yankee cavalrymen considered it as a whole preferable to the hundrum and monotony of camp life.

Picket duty had its amusing incidents, many of which had to do with words quite familiar to the average soldier. For instance, at one time the countersigns were names of Napoleon's battlefields, such as Eckmuhl, Marengo, Lodi, Leipsic, Montebello, Austerlitz, Boridino, etc. Then, also, by the time the word had reached some of the vedettes it would be twisted into something quite different from the original. Occasionally a fellow on outpost duty, an assignment accompanied by continual tenseness and strain, would forget the countersign entirely; he would get some other word fixed in his mind, thinking it was the one which had been passed along the line. Our Kingston veteran allowed this had happened to him, despite the fact that he had as a boy read most of the campaigns of great generals and knew the names of all the important battles of history.

Not withstanding the fact that letting an enemy spy get past the picket lines might ultimately result in great loss of life, or even defeat in battle, there were numerous stories going the rounds about vedettes confusing or forgetting the countersign, and some of these occasioned a deal of hilarity and joshing amongst the soldiers. Like the one, for instance, where the word passed along by the corporal was "Wagram" with emphasis on the last syllable. One vedette, during the long hours of the night, had got the last part of the word pretty strongly in his mind, for when at home he had been a sheep-raiser. He didn't know beans about the famous battlefield but he did know something about rams. Now when the officer came around to see that none of his vedettes were asleep, and cautiously advanced towards the soldier, the latter called out "Halts! who cames thair." The answer was "Friend." Said the vedette, "Advance me frient an' gif to goundersign," and the officer came forward and gave the word propertly. "No," said the vedette, "dat is not te goundersign." (Our wool-grower may, or may not have been recruited from the fat farmlands of the Pennsylvania Dutch).

"Well, what in h— is the countersign then?" said the officer who was now getting pretty riled up. "I tell you that Wagram is the word." "No et ish not," returned the vedette, "it has sometings to do mit a buck sheep, and I vill arrest you, tam you!" This he did, and he forced the officer to stand for half an hour until the relief came around. Orders were strict and the officer well knew that if he as much as moved, the young fellow would not hesitate to put a bullet in him. When finally he was released, though the cautious vedette had violated orders in hinting as to the countersign, he did not punish him, for then the story would have been current gossip throughout the whole regiment. (Maybe it was, anyway. These things have a way of getting around).—C. A. W.

So They Say..

Nationwide use of all legal deductions would kill the present tax structure. And, believe me, the present tax setup could stand some revisions.

—Daniel S. B. Schwartz, president of National Tax Savers, Inc., who says taxpayers cheat themselves out of $5 billion a year by not claiming all the deductions they are entitled to.

I'd rather be right than conservative.

Early Word Due From PSC About N.Y. Blackout

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller's press secretary says the State Public Service Commission will report to the governor "at the earliest possible time" on its investigation of Tuesday's 4½-hour blackout in five square miles of Manhattan.

The secretary, Robert L. McManus, said Wednesday that electrical engineers of the commission arrived at the scene of the power failure in about 10 minutes after the blackout started.

McManus made the statement after Mayor Robert F. Wagner had called for a state investgation of the failure in the Consolidated Edison Co. network.

McManus said the commission investigators worked through Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Consolidated Edison blamed the blackout on "an unusual coincidence of failures" of the circuit-breakers in its electric power substation on West 65th Street.

J. Eliot McCormack, Consolidated Edison vice president for operations, said the company plans to revise "the scheme of automatic protection" so that even such a coincidence would not cause service interruptions again.

JFK Names Publisher As Swiss Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP) —Robert McKinney, editor and publisher of the Sante Fe New Mexican, is President Kennedy's choice for ambassador to Switzerland.

The nomination, made public Wednesday, is subject to Senate confirmation.

McKinney, 50, is a former assistant secretary of the interior and has served in the past as U.S. representative to the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna.

Bobby Explains Policy

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says, before taking federal action in a civil rights problem, he first attempts to determine ff the problem can be resolved amicably.

Kennedy, speaking Wednesday at the annual meeting of the National Association of Attorneys General, said he was well aware the civil rights question was a sensitive one in many areas.

He said that he follows a policy of nonintervention in civil rights until he has consulted with officials of the state involved.

He said it was his duty to enforce U.S. Supreme Court decisions such as antisegregation rulings.

Gives Up Millions To Become Cleric

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Eleven years ago Jim Saxon's vending machine firm did $800,000 in business. Now it is a $3 million enterprise.

But Saxon, 31, is leaving the concern July 20 to begin three years study to become a Presbyterian minister. He will enroll at Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Va. His wife and six children will accompany him.

Jim's father, J. Herman Saxon, sells vending machines. Jim's firm, which operates and stocks the machines, will be taken over by his father.

The younger Saxon said he had been seriously considering the move for three years. "It got so I couldn't dismiss it anymore," he said.

On Way to Florida

Riders Continue Protest, No Incidents in Carolina

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Florida-bound "Freedom Riders" today continued their protest against bus station segregation after testing South Carolina's citadel of racial separation without serious incident.

The largest of three groups left Sumter, S.C., without difficulty shortly after midnight, en route to Jacksonville, Fla. The four Jewish rabbis, eight white Protestant ministers and six Negro ministers were to change buses at Jacksonville and go to Tallahassee, Florida's capital before flying back to New York this afternoon.

May Combine for Tampa

Two inter-racial groups spent the night in Charleston and were to leave for Savannah, Ga., in the morning. From there the seven men and women in each group were to go to Jacksonville, spend the night, and possibly combine for an extended ride, probably to Tampa, Fla.

The riders left Washington via Greyhound bus to make the first such test of Florida's segregation practices. They were refused restaurant service in two small South Carolina towns but encountered no trouble in the Charleston terminal restaurant.

Two buses brought 14 of the riders to Charleston from Wilmington, N.C. A third bus carried the clergymen from Raleigh, N.C., to Sumter, where they halted for a church service. The clergymen were refused lunch counter service at a motel cafe on the outskirts of Sumter. They later ate at a Negro cafe.

Report No Difficulty

The first group of riders arriving from Wilmington reported no difficulty en route. The second group of seven reported two members ran into trouble at Conway, S.C.

Mrs. Dupree C. White, 40, a Negro from New York City, said a white man walked behind the depot lunch counter, grabbed a knife, and ordered her and a companion to leave. She said a waitress refused them service.

Laura Randall, 25, a New York white woman making her first freedom ride, said the man gestured with the knife but she did not view his action as a threat to attack them.

Other Developments

In other racial developments:

The federal government's historic bid to intervene in a Virginia school case was rejected on grounds it will unduly delay and prejudice the rights of both sides in the lengthy court battle in Prince Edward County.

Those grounds were given by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Oren Lewis in turning down Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's request that the federal government be allowed to enter the case as a plaintiff. Kennedy had contended this was necessary to prevent circumvention of the court's desegregation order that led the county to close its public schools.

The city of New Rochelle, N.Y., asked a federal appeals court to stay an order allowing students in a predominantly Negro school to transfer to other schools. The Board of Education president said preventable chaos would result if the order, now being appealed, is put into effect and later reversed.

The city of Memphis, Tenn., asked a federal court to approve a plan for gradual desegregation of municipal recreation facilities. The plan was a counter to a suit demanding that all tax-supported recreational facilities be desegregated immediately.

The U.S. Court of Appeals at New Orleans held that the New York Times and one of its staff members can not be sued for libel in Alabama. The case stemmed from an article on segregation which appeared in the newspaper.

The New Britain, Conn., park board ordered an investigation of the rejection of membership applications from two Negroes by a golf club which uses the municipal course and makes special use of municipal club house facilities.

Perry Acquitted Of Speed Charge

Samuel J. Perry Jr., 19, of 54 Abruyn Street, charged with speeding in March, was found innocent after city court trial today.

It was charged by Officer Leon Fitzgerald that he had exceeded the speed limit on the East Chester Street bypass. Attorney John E. Gotelli, who defended him, argued against the clocking distance involved. Francis J. Vogt represented the district attorney's office.

Professional Engineers Slate Social June 21

Augustus Brinnier of Brinnier and Larios, and Al Wenner of IBM, have completed arrangements for the annual social affair of the Ulster Chapter, New York State Society of Professional Engineers.

Members and guests of the chapter will participate in an afternoon of swimming and golf followed by dinner and entertainment Wednesday, June 21, at Twaalfskill Country Club.

All members have been notified and responses are requested to assure reservations.

President Roland H. Green, Ulster County superintendent of highways, plans a very short business meeting which will be the announcement of the various committees for the coming year. Vice President Irwin Gellen of IBM has secured some light entertainment for the wives and guests following the dinner.

The proportion of American high school students studying Latin has risen in the last decade. It is second only to Spanish.

France to Keep Cease-Fire Plan Despite Attacks

PARIS (AP)—France decided today to continue its unilateral cease-fire in Algeria despite an increase in rebel hit-and-run attacks and suspension of peace talks.

France's half-million-man army in Algeria was ordered on May 20 to limit action to self-defense. That was the day peace talks with rebel leaders began in Evian les Bains.

Rebel leaders refused to order their forces to cease fire, charging the French acted unilaterally to gain a propaganda advantage. There has been a marked increase in terrorist attacks since May 20 although Algerian rebel military action has continued on a low scale.

The peace talks were suspended indefinitely by France Tuesday, with the suggestion they resume after a 10-15 day cooling off period.

There had been speculation France would order its army to resume normal offensive operations, but after a Cabinet meeting today, the government announced the May 20 order will remain in effect. It was pointed out terms of the order remain valid—French troops are permitted to reply to rebel fire and pursue terrorist attackers.

Chou Says China Wants to Coexist

TOKYO (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai said Wednesday night Red China wants "to coexist in peace with countries of different social systems."

Chou asserted that the nearly six years of intermittent talks between U.S. and Red Chinese ambassadors in Geneva and Warsaw "prove that China is seriously carrying out its advocacy of the settlement of international disputes through peaceful negotiations."

The amouorial talks were designed to discuss problems between the two nations, including Americans imprisoned in Red China. But they have deadlocked on Red Chinese demands that U.S. military forces quit Formosa.

Suspended Sentence Given Waterman, Burke Up June 27

Donald Waterman, 19, of 61 German Street, charged along with his brother George Waterman, 17, with a burglary at the Friendly Tavern on Thomas Street last March, was given a year suspended jail sentence by County Judge Raymond J. Mino on Wednesday. Waterman had previously entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry and petit larceny. He was placed on probation for the maximum period and directed to report to Probation Officer Charles E. Schultz. Waterman was represented by Marshall Lipton.

The case of George Waterman, 17, was disposed of when he entered a plea of innocent to the charge of being a Youthful Offender and the indictment was sealed and the case moved to chambers.

Patrick Burke, 20, of 24 Smith Avenue, entered a plea of guilty to burglary, third degree, and will be sentenced on June 27 at 2 p. m. Hugh Elwyn appeared by assignment for Burke and moved a second count in the indictment, unlawful entry, be dismissed. Judge Mino reserved decision on the motion. Burke was jointly indicted with Michael Christofora, 23, of 350 Broadway, and Howard Quick Jr., 20, of 28 Liberty Street, with a burglary at the Pine Grove Manufacturing Co., Inc., plant at 45 Pine Grove Avenue on March 9, 1961. The three were surprised in the plant by police who had been keeping a check on the premises.

Imposition of sentence on Burke was postponed in order to allow time for a pre-sentence report to be submitted to the court by the probation officer.

A burglary, third degree; unlawful entry and petit larceny indictment returned against Lawrence Elrice Black, was moved over the term by S. James Matthews, attorney for Black.

Arlington Budget Is $2,775,820, Five at Hearing

A tentative budget of $2,775,820 was submitted Tuesday night at a public hearing conducted by the board of Arlington Central School district.

Although the 1961-62 budget is $381,632 higher than this year's estimated expenditures, only five persons attended the hearing.

The budget will be voted upon at the annual school district meeting July 11 at 8 p. m.

If the budget is adopted at its present figure, tax rate increases will range from $1.44 to $2.83 a $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Of the new budget, $1,280,537 will be raised by taxes, an increase of $114,162, which Superintendent of Schools Harold C. Storm said will result in a boost of 55 cents in the full value tax rate for the district.

Several other cases were adjourned until Tuesday, June 27, at 2 p. m. to which time Judge Mino recessed the term.

Firms Are Lauded For Support of Urban Week Here

Mayor Edwin F. Radel in support of observance this week of Urban Renewal and Home Modernization Week, congratulated local business and banking houses which have "offered their public support and promoted interest in the urban renewal program."

In promoting a program "so complex and important" as urban renewal, he said, it is gratifying to see such keen interest.

"The publicity and advertising generated by these local agencies as the result of my having proclaimed this week" to emphasize urban renewal, he said, "may well be the incentive and inspiration necessary to stimulate individual programs of rehabilitation of property."

From this, he added, could come a "pride of ownership that may have otherwise been replaced by the attiude that originally created the present substandard conditions that the urban renewal program intends to correct." His proclamation, he said, was in support of the national program as approved by President Kennedy.

TV Commercials To Be Shorter

WASHINGTON (AP)—A television industry board has decreed shorter commercials.

The Television Board of the National Association of Broadcasters Wednesday amended its TV code to change its regulations on commercials.

The most important change will reduce the maximum commercial time during peak viewing hours from six minutes per half-hour to four minutes.

The board also ruled that all nonprogram material—such as public service announcements, plugs for other programs, opening and closing sponsor announcements—will count as part of the four-minute commercial time.

Another change will reduce the number of spot commercials between shows during peak viewing time from three to two.

The code amendments take effect Oct. 29.

The code is a recommended standard for stations belonging to the National Association of Broadcasters. Only the stations that abide by the code are permitted to display the association seal.

Ants Tie Up Traffic

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A busy intersection's traffic signal went on the blink for nearly four hours—ants found the wiring tasty.

Electronics Technician Bob Ogan explained: The insects apparently found a certain type of wiring insulation to their liking. They ate it off. Then some ants bridged between the wires and the metal control box case, shorting the signal.

The insulation was replaced—with a type less appetizing to ants.

Foe Overcalls, Then What?

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What do you do in Jacoby-Smith when an opponent overcalls? If you have a raise for your partner, you simply ignore the overcall. Thus the single raise still shows a 10 point limit; the double raise a 13 point limit; the jump to game less than 11 high card points, but at least 13 supporting points; and the three no-trump bid remains a force and shows the same 11-15 high card points and 13-17 supporting points.

South opened one spade at all tables. When West passed North always raised to two spades. Some South players were allowed to play two spades which makes easily. At other tables West backed in with three diamonds and went down one trick.

When West overcalled with two diamonds the Jacoby-Smith Norths bid two spades. The North players who used standard American had to pass. They did not have enough strength for the so-called free raise."

South could find no rebid and West was allowed to play and make his two diamonds.

All this does not mean too much. All differences were small since the North-South top was 110 and the East-West top plus 90, but if you can win the part score hand in either rubber bridge or duplicate, the slams will take care of themselves.

Kennedy Takes Cruise to Relax

WASHINGTON (AP) — A surprise cruise on the Potomac took President Kennedy out of the White House for the first time since Monday, breaking his routine of work and treatment of his injured back.

Kennedy will take some more time off tonight to welcome his wife back from Europe.

Without advance word, Kennedy slipped out of the White House at sunset Wednesday and motored to the Navy gun factory where he boarded the Patrick J., one of the boats used by the first family.

Kennedy and his companions—his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith; Harvard classmate Rep. Robert McDonald, D-Mass., and New York advertising man R. LeMoyne Billings—had dinner aboard. After a leisurely cruise of about 2 hours and 20 minutes they docked in Washington at 10:05 p.m.

He has been using crutches but White House news secretary Pierre Salinger, who disclosed the boat ride, said Kennedy evidently had no trouble boarding the Patrick J.

The President will see his wife for the first time tonight since he left London June 5 at the end of his Paris-Vienna-London conferences. She went on to Greece on a sightseeing trip.

Mrs. Kennedy, who didn't learn the extent of her husband's ailment until she read of it in the papers at Athens, is scheduled to land at 11 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time. She will fly down from New York in the Kennedy family plane, the Caroline, immediately after crossing the Atlantic by commercial aircraft.

Two Unions Rejected As Bargaining Agents

CORTLAND, N.Y. (AP)—Smith-Corona Marchant Inc. employes at two plants have rejected two unions as their bargaining representatives.

The employes, at South Cortland and Groton, Tompkins County, Wednesday voted against affiliating with the International Association of Machinists or the International Union of Electrical Workers. Employes at the typewriter and office-machine manufacturing plants are not represented by a union.

In the National Labor Relations Board voting, 1,261 favored the machinists and 109 the IUE. In all, 3,450 employes were eligible to vote.

Observe Flag Day At Rotary Club

Flag Day was observed by members of Kingston Rotary Club at its regular luncheon-meeting Wednesday. The patriotic exercise was part of the program which included a talk on the Holland and Lincoln Tunnels of the New York Port Authority.

Participating in the Flag Day observance were the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church and chaplain of Kingston Lodge of Elks, and Frederic Snyder, lecturer and news analyst.

Chaplain Shellenberger led the Rotarians in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and Rotarian Snyder gave a brief history and explained the significance of its 184th anniversary.

The Flag was born on June 14, 1777. Meeting in Philadelphia, the Continental Congress adopted the following resolution: The flag of the United States shall be of 13 stripes of alternate red and white, with a union of 13 stars of white in a blue field, representing the new constellation.

Raymond C. Cruthers, former manager of Holland and Lincoln Tunnels, gave a very interesting talk on the tunnel system. He is now retired after 29 years' service. A resident of West Shokan, he is a member of the Onteora School Board.

Patriotism Talk Given by Stang At Flag Ceremony

The importance of patriotism was emphasized Wednesday night at the annual Flag Day ceremonies conducted by Kingston Lodge 550, BPO Elks, with former Mayor Frederick H. Stang delivering the principal address.

Speaking at the Fair Street Elks Club, Stang called attention to the importance of Americanism and patriotism and was critical of modern apathy. He spoke in behalf of a little of the "old-fashioned" brand of patriotism, described what the American flag has meant to the nation in the past and should mean in the present and future.

City Judge Aaron E. Klein welcomed persons attending the ceremonies which brisk weather drove from Academy Green, and another former mayor, William F. Edelmuth, traced the history of the flag.

The program included the national anthem by the Kingston Concert Band; Flag Day ritual by officers of the lodge; band selection, Marlin Morrette, conductor; introduction, Est. Leading Knight George McCardle Jr., for Exalted Ruler Michael J. Marchuk.

"America the Beautiful" was sung and the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, chaplain pronounced the invocation.

Music for the services was provided by the Musicians Union, Local 215, Kingston, through a grant from the recording industry.

County Red Cross

Kingston; William Schiff, Hurley; Clair S. Sheaffer, Kingston and Minford A. Overfield, Kingston.

A certificate in appreciation of outstanding volunteer service to the chapter was awarded to General Hasbrouck who served as a member of the board of directors since 1957; as fund chairman in 1959; chairman of the 1960 fund planning committee since 1959; and as Chapter chairman since April 1960.

A posthumous award was made to the family of Henry H. Parker, Mr. Parker served as a member of the board of directors from 1956 to 1960; as disaster chairman from 1957 to 1959; and member of the fund planning committee and chairman of the house committee. The awards were presented by Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, first vice chairman.

The guest speaker was Everett A. Golway, regional manager of the Eastern Area Office of Alexandria, Va. He outlined all the strife and tension in the world since 1929. Immediately after the Korean conflict the International Red Cross Committee moved in to help the prisoners of war. These men came back home because the American people believed in the symbol of Red Cross and sent them prisoner of war packages to keep them alive, he said.

In Hungary, the Red Cross Society moved in to aid the revolters. This was the American people who, through the Red Cross, chose to remember that we are "our brothers keeper," Golway said. When all diplomatic channels failed in East Berlin it was the International Red Cross that managed to get the prisoners released and returned to their families in this country.

William Snyder with Officers Lewis Keator and Raymond Wells answered the call to Furnace Street yesterday. The woman was taken to Kingston Hospital in a Fatum ambulance.

Judge Modifies Ben's Sentence, Parole Possible

SEATTLE (AP) — Sentence against Wells Benner Van Steenbergh Jr., 25, tunneling bank robber, has been modified to make him eligible for parole after three years, federal officials said today.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Jeremiah M. Long said the 20-year maximum term imposed on the unemployed commercial airline pilot remains unchanged but 3 2-3 years were sliced off the time when he could be paroled.

Van Steenbergh, formerly of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., had been sentenced on March 30 by Judge Boldt to 20 years in federal prison for the $45,689 tunnel burglary of the South Seattle branch of the Peoples National Bank on Feb. 19.

But the judge said then he would consider a reduction of the sentence after receiving a probation report.

In his memorandum decision and order modifying the sentence, Judge Boldt said he disregarded a 1956 first-degree murder charge against Van Steenbergh because the youth was acquitted.

Van Steenbergh had been charged in the arson slaying of Mrs. Lloyd Beresford, 29, in Staatsburg, N.Y.

Subpoenaes Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities, getting the jump on another House group, today subpoenaed officials of the National Science Foundation for questioning of award of a fellowship to a student convicted of contempt of Congress.

The action left the House Space Committee, which had invited foundation officials to appear before it this morning, cooling its heels without any witnesses.

Driver Is Sought

CLEVELAND, N.Y. (AP) — State Police and deputy sheriffs continued to search today for a young motorist who eluded them in a wild chase early Wednesday and escaped into woods after his automobile struck a tree.

State Police have put out a four-state alarm for the driver, believed to be from Syracuse, and wanted for reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

An 18-year-old girl companion, injured in the crash, claimed she knew the driver only by an alias, troopers said.

State's Builders Conference Opens At Saranac Lake

SARANAC LAKE — Legislation and policies to benefit home owners and the building industry will be determined during the three-day mid-year conference and directors' meeting of the New York State Home Builders Association which opened here today under direction of Alvern H. Butler of Massena, general chairman.

Malvern Cunningham, realtor of 202 Fair Street, is a member of the State HBA executive committee.

The conference began this morning with a meeting of the executive committee, headed by Wayne E. Edwards of Binghamton, State HBA president. It will end with an address at a banquet Saturday night by George L. Ingalls, of Binghamton, majority leader in the State Assembly.

Decisions made by the executive committee will be approved, modified or rejected by the board of directors on Saturday.

Friday is set aside for panel discussions of community facilities and better merchandising, while the women attending the conference will hear an address by Mrs. Dale Fairless Witt of Virginia Beach, Va., president of the Women's Auxiliary of the National Association of Home Builders.

How to provide community facilities, such as schools, playgrounds, sewage disposal and the like at lower cost to home owners will be discussed Friday morning by a panel.

Ave Links Red

No Guarantees

The capture of Padong prompted the United States to lead a Western walkout of the conference last week. Western delegates returned to the conference Monday after Britain and the Soviet Union—as cochairmen of the conference—appealed to all factions in Laos to observe the truce. But the West did not get the guarantees of an effective cease-fire it demanded.

The international control commission of India, Canada and Communist Poland reported, however, that the sporadic fighting does not indicate a widespread breakdown of the cease-fire. The commission's report was announced in New Delhi by Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon of India on his return from the Geneva meeting.

Two Give Views

The leaders of the two factions in Laos opposed to Premier Boun Oum's Western-backed government gave their views on neutralizing Laos at Wednesday's conference session.

They are Prince Souvanna Phouma, a self-styled neutralist who is regarded as the leading candidate for premier in a coalition Laotian government, and his half brother, Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the Pathet Lao.

Souvanna Phouma, regarded in Communist capitals as the legal premier of Laos, said a united Laotian government should proclaim the country's neutrality, shun military alliances, close its borders to foreign troops and dominate the activities of the international control commission.

from Route 28 to the Skytop Motel about a mile west of Kingston. The road, built by Arnold S. Rymkevitch, was approved by the planning board Monday evening.

Landing Strip Approved

The board authorized Supervisor Al Banyo to apply for a federal grant for an engineering survey in the township in connection with the possible installation of sewage disposal and water systems. Thus, any part of the township would have access to information on such an installation, its cost location, etc.

Permission was granted to Raymond Coles to install a landing strip for light planes on Flatbush Road. The strip will be approximately 3,000 feet long. It will be available for business executives and others who use planes for commuting.

The board will advertise bids for completion of roads in the Whittier development. The bids will be opened at 3 p. m. Thursday, July 6, at the town clerk's office.

The board voted to purchase a new four-wheel Willys truck for the water district from the Albany Avenue Garage and a four-wheel loader for the highway department from the Ken Smith Machinery Co.

All members of the board were present at the meeting last night. Attending besides the supervisor were Councilman Ted Musialkiewicz, Councilwoman Mrs. Elizabeth Acker, Justices of the Peace Robert S. Stedge and Arthur Reilly.

Also present was the clerk, Mrs. Laura K. Every, Road Superintendent Cortland Van Etten and Albert Cross, superintendent of the water district.

NAACP Corrects Wilkins' View On Freedom Try

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Association for the advancement of Colored People, says its executive secretary, Roy Wilkins, is not opposed to "Freedom Rides" as a technique.

In a news conference and a later speech in Jackson, Miss., on June 7, Wilkins made statements about the efficacy of staying in jail which an Associated Press reporter took as an indirect rebuke at freedom rides.

NAACP Approves Rides

Wilkins says this interpretation was incorrect and that "the NAACP approves the rides and defends them from the usual critics." The prepared text of the section of his speech in question follows:

"Out of our experience, we know that shock troops are necessary. We know that sacrifice is necessary. We know that testing and challenging are necessary.

"We also know that solid, basic legal moves are necessary if there is to be a foundation for other action. Affirmative action by judicial, legislative and executive means is indispensable. This is still a nation of law. If we colored people hold the white people of the South to law and the constitution, we cannot sneer among ourselves at the law and the legal processes.

"By the same token, just because the NAACP does not agree down to the smallest detail with the plans and procedures of other organizations is no reason for us to throw roadblocks in their way.

Favors Test Case

"For example, we believe the way to test a law is to set up a test case, carry it through the courts and get a determination. We do not believe you can test a law and get it thrown out by staying in jail. After one spends 30 or 60 or 90 days in jail, the law is still on the statute books and still constitutes a support for segregation.

"But we of the NAACP do not sneer at those who choose to stay in jail, for they are thus registering a personal and powerful moral protest against injustice."

Later in the prepared text of his speech Wilkins said:

"The lesson here is that all methods should be used and that history and experience should not be ignored. In baseball sometimes a bunt does the job and sometimes a home run."

Dock Tieup Is Possible On 3 Coasts

NEW YORK (AP) — A major shipping tieup on the East, West and Gulf coasts is threatened for midnight tonight.

Some hope of settling the Gulf Coast phase of the dispute between ship operators and a variety of unions was voiced Wednesday night.

Max Harrison, labor consultant handling negotiations for the Gulf Coast operators, reported substantial progress in bargaining with the Masters, Mates and Pilots—the Deck Officers Union.

Charles M. Crooks, international president of the Deck Officers Union, said he was "very hopeful" and predicted quick agreement today on contract issues still in dispute.

Strikes by 70,000-odd working members of five unions could immobilize the bulk of the nation's merchant marine of about 950 ships.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—A selective advance among industrials kept the stock market slightly higher in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .20 at 248.40 with industrials up .90, rails off .20 and utilities off .20.

Gains of fractions to about a point outnumbered losers in the same range.

Big Three motors, rubbers, most chemicals and some aircrafts and nonferrous metals helped keep the average on the upside. Utilities, tobaccos and rails edged lower.

Chrysler, up a point, was the best of the motors. General Motors was firm and Ford rose a fraction.

Korvette jumped about 2 points. J.W. Mays fell more than 3.

International Business Machines spurted 7 points. Zenith added well over a point.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .16 at 695.97.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were slightly lower.

Lenient, Legal or Lethal

Three Choices Defined For Course on Berlin

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lenient, legal or lethal.

Those are the choices for the West and Russia in settling their Berlin argument. The city will be steadily in the news now although no crisis is expected soon.

President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev chilled each other's blood when they discussed West Berlin earlier this month. Each warned the other he meant business.

Ties With the West

This city—whose ties are with West Germany—lies 110 miles inside Communist East Germany, which the West does not recognize as a legitimate government.

All supplies and people bound for West Berlin must pass through East Germany, which is under the Russian thumb. That's the main Russian weapon in this dispute.

Highly prosperous West Berlin—unlike the much less affluent East Berlin, which the Communists run—has become a pain to Russia.

It's a Western showcase, a Western outpost in the heart of a Communist land. And Khrushchev says it's used to create trouble.

It's also a harbor for Germans fleeing communism in East Germany.

Stalin tried to put an end to all this in 1948 by shutting off Western supplies to the city. President Truman wrecked that move with an airlift.

The West—meaning the United States, Britain and France — has troops in West Berlin and make this argument, based on agreements with Russia growing out of World War II:

Legal Argument of West

It has a right to keep troops there and the land-water-rail-air routes — over which people and supplies for West Berlin travel through East Germany—must be kept open.

This is the West's legal argument. As of now it is standing on that.

But for years Khrushchev has been threatening that the wartime agreements are outdated and new solutions must be found. Last weekend he issued a statement on what he thinks must be done.

He said it's time for signing a peace treaty — meaning a treaty which has been pending since World War II — with the East German government. For the West to do this would mean it had caved in and recognized the East German government.

He said further that West Berlin—notice he didn't say Communist East Berlin—would be demilitarized with the signing of a peace treaty. In other words, the Allies would then lose any claim to a right to have troops in Berlin.

Threatens Treaty

West Berlin, he said, would be considered a "free" and demilitarized city. But he said that if the United States balks, this will happen:

Russia will sign the peace treaty with East Germany and turn over to the East German Communists control of all the supply routes to West Berlin. Russia controls them now because the West says it won't do business with East Germany.

Once the East Germans controlled the routes, the Western powers would have to do business with them. In doing so, the West in effect, would be recognizing the East German government as legitimate, whether it did so formally or not.

This is what the Russians would call a legal settlement.

Compromise Possible

It's possible—when Khrushchev forces the issues as he is expected to, perhaps after next October—the two sides could work out a situation through compromises which neither is suggesting at this point.

Compromise of the two opposing positions would be a lenient solution.

But if Russia turns over control of West Berlin's access routes to the East Germans and the latter then shut off those routes in order to isolate Berlin, what would the West do?

In the first place, the East Germans wouldn't shut off the routes without a go-ahead from Russia because without Russian backing any attempt to close the routes against Allied military force would be an empty gesture.

Must Act or Else

But—once the routes were shut and the Allies decided to use force to batter their way through to Berlin — the Russians would have to use force to stop them or face world embarrassment.

This action and counter-action, which might mean war, would be the lethal solution.

Khrushchev, since he's talked so long and so much about getting Berlin out of his hair, must eventually take some action or appear to have backed down under Allied resistance.

Yet, if the Allies let the Russians and East Germans shut them off from West Berlin, their allies everywhere certainly would lose faith in them.

Republicans Call On Kennedy to Cite U.S. Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) —Republican congressional leaders called on President Kennedy today to say whether there has been any departure from the administration's declared position of standing "firm" in defense of West Berlin.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader, said he wondered whether the proposal by Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader for a "free city" of Berlin constituted a "trial balloon" for a possible policy change.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House Republican leader, said Kennedy, upon his return from his Vienna talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, told the American people the United States would maintain its long-time policy in support of West Berlin.

"The American people are entitled to know if there has been a change in our position," Halleck added.

The two GOP spokesmen voiced their demands for a clarification of policy in a joint news conference held after the regular weekly meeting of GOP congressional leaders.

Mansfield, emphasizing he spoke only as a senator and not as an administration spokesman, suggested in a Senate speech Wednesday the creation of an internationaly guaranteed "free city" of Berlin as a way out of the East-West stalemate over its future.

Lack of Exchange Listing Should Not Bar Purchase

Q) "Would you comment on Laboratory for Electronics in particular and trading in over-the-counter market in general?" —J. W.

A) This stock has come along rapidly since a management reorganization in 1956. In a 1960 prospectus, David Rockefeller was listed as a major stockholder, and he may well have been responsible for upgrading the company's operations.

I estimate that earnings for the fiscal year ending April 1962 may approach $3 a share. On this projection LFE is selling for 18 times net and does not look over-valued.

Now as to the over-the-counter market in general. There has been a great deal of recent criticism of trading in this market, much of which has been unjustified. It is true that the unlisted market is more volatile than the Big Board, partly because there are no specialists in the former to smooth out wide fluctuations. Also there is no centralized trading place and transactions are effected privately all over the country.

Nevertheless, the OTC market involves some 25,000 issues and gives wider scope to investors than does the Big Board, with around 1600 listings. And many unlisted stocks do very well before ultimately going on the Exchanges. A number of NYSE issues which I have frequently mentioned here were being traded over-the-counter at much lower levels, within the past year and a half. A list would include American Hospital Supply, First Charter Financial, Green Shoe and Tractor Supply.

I do not hesitate to buy OTC stocks but I exercise the same care—no more and no less—as I do with listed issues.

Q) "I own American Sterilizer which has moved down recently. Can you tell me why?"—W. W.

A) As far as I can determine, there has been some price cutting in the dental area of their business, reducing earnings temporarily. I regard Sterilizer as a strong stock in a growing industry and am not concerned about what appears to be a temporary dip.

Electric Shock Kills Boy, 8, at Park Rocket Ride

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—Milo Tafuto, 8, of Mechanicville, was killed by a "one-in-a-million shot," State Police say.

The boy was killed by electric shock Monday night when he touched a wire fence as he alighted from an amusement-park rocket ride.

State Police Inspector V. P. Versage said that because of moisture, the electrical control of the ride apparently became grounded when Milo touched the fence, resulting in the shock that killed the boy.

Versage called it a "one-in-a-million" coincidence.

The State Labor Department, after inspecting the ride, Wednesday ordered all rides at the park, Brown's Beach on Saratoga Lake, halted until adjustments were made in the grounding of electrical equipment.

Versage said the wiring in the control box of the coin-operated rocket ride, which bobbed back and forth, had been dampened by heavy rains.

Labor department inspectors said the ride, mounted on the control box, was not suitable for outdoor use.

The labor department spokesman said the State Board of Standards and Appeals was drafting, for the department, safety inspector standards for amusement rides.

Legislation enacted this year authorizes the department to set safety rules for amusement rides at carnivals and fairs. The legislation, however, was aimed primarily at traveling shows.

Eight Groups Get AHRC Plaques for Helping Retarded

At public recognition ceremonies held during the annual meeting of the Ulster County Chapter, Association for the Help of Retarded Children, Inc., eight organizations were cited for "providing opportunities and achievement for mentally retarded children" through many services rendered to these children and their families throughout the county. The event was held in the library of the George Washington School Monday night.

Organizations cited were Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc.; Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, Inc.; Town of Ulster Kiwanis Club; International Business Machines Corporation (Kingston Plant); Ulster County Shrine Club; the Mendelssohn Club of Kingston; the Order of the United Commercial Travelers of America (local council); and the Order of the United Commercial Travelers, Ladies' Auxiliary.

Lauds Response

In presenting the award plaques to representatives of the organizations Robert Brainard, of Kingston, AHRC president, noted that the chapter is a volunteer group comprised of parents and friends of retarded children. To accomplish its work within Ulster County the chapter must appeal to civic-minded citizens within the communities. The ready response of people throughout the county has been gratifying and extremely generous in many project areas. Within these areas the eight organizations cited have given "meritorious service to these children and to their communities" over the past five years as the newly-formed chapter began to develop and expand. In paying tribute to the selected organizations Brainard expressed the hope that the fine relationships established would continue so that all might share in the great work of the future for the betterment of the welfare of handicapped individuals.

Mrs. Mahar Speaker

Guest speaker was Mrs. Sylvia Mahar, founder of Putnam County AHRC chapter. Speaking from her personal experiences as a parent of a mongoloid child, Mrs. Mahar brought to her audience a panoramic view of the development and progress of a small county AHRC chapter. Her vivid account revealed both human pathos and a personal satisfaction that held the interest of the entire group.

Mrs. Mahar's underlying philosophy in rearing retarded children is "to treat a retarded child as nearly like a normal child as possible." Clearly defining the roles of the teacher and parent, Mrs. Mahar admonished parents to "leave the area of academic learnings to teachers" and to focus their attention upon developing the social amenities which lead to the social acceptance of the child within the community. The learning process with the severely retarded child requires extreme patience but "is well worth the effort," she told the group.

Describes Organization

Mrs. Mahar described the organization and development of the chapter in detail. Noteworthy among their numerous projects was the establishment of a Clinic for the diagnosis, treatment and care of mongoloid children. With a professional staff and a modest budget of $7,000 the Clinic readily became a going concern. Recently the Clinic has been "taken under the canopy of the Mental Health Association of Putnam County," Mrs. Mahar said. Presently under a joint Board of Directors the Clinic continues to function successfully and to perform a real community service.

Mrs. Mahar concluded her talk with a question and answer period.

Officers Elected

During the annual business meeting of the chapter Robert Brainard was reelected to the office of president. Elected to serve with Brainard during the year 1961-2 were: Mrs. Arthur Eymann, vice president; Mrs. C. John Boyce, recording secretary; Mrs. Joel Vedder, corresponding secretary; Clarence Ostrander, tereasurer; Frank Adams, financial secretary; Mrs. Emil DeLuca, of Kingston and Mrs. Henry Ritter, Rosendale, members of the Board of Directors.

Mrs. Elston North Jr., AHRC camp chairman announced that the AHRC Summer Day Camp will open July 5 as a unit on the site of Camp Wahkonda, Lake Katrine. The camp will operate on single week encampments of five days over a period of eight weeks. July will be reserved for boys and girls of special classes within the county public schools. August will feature a specialized program for children within the trainable classes of the county. Camp brochures have been mailed to the homes of all known children. Further information may be obtained by contacting the AHRC Center, 286 Clinton Avenue, in Kingston, daily between 10 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 3 p. m. Directing the Day Camp for the second consecutive year will be Mrs. North. Assisting her will be Miss Marilyn Carpenter, of Kingston, student at the State University College of Education, Buffalo.

At the conclusion of the business session refreshments were served in the school cafeteria under the chairmanship of Mrs. James Pfeiffer of Glenerie, assisted by Mrs. Emil DeLuca and Mrs. Joel Vedder, both of Kingston.

Vanguard I Still Sends Signals, Will for Years

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A remarkable talkative satellite, teams of science data, and an assassin bug are subjects for science at work:

Remember?

Three years ago the United States threw up a puny challenge to the Soviet Sputniks, a grapefruit-sized satellite called Vanguard I.

Using solar power it is still transmitting radio signals and possibly will for hundreds of years. By now it has orbited the earth nearly 12,000 times, covering more than 409 billion miles.

So far it has helped scientists learn: That the earth is slightly pear-shaped. That the light from the sun has enough pressure to modify the path of a satellite in orbit. That sunlight can be converted to electricity for radio power. That the gravity of the sun and the moon affect a satellite's orbit around the earth.

Reading Material

If you set out to scan the 60 million pages of technical literature produced in the world last year alone, it would take you 465 years.

And think about this: Each 24 hours the world's scientists produce enough technical papers to fill seven sets of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

And if that isn't frightening enough, every ten years the amount of technical literature in existence doubles, writes Lawrence Ross in a Georgia Tech publication, Research Engineer.

Masked Bedbug Hunters

It is masked and it hunts bedbugs and it is called the masked bedbug hunter, one of a group of assassin bugs that live off other insects.

The assassin bugs live all over the Americas, but mostly south of the New York — Denver latitude. Most of them live on the blood of other insects.

Curiously the masked bedbug hunter looks like a bit of lint when it is still young, thanks to the fact that dust and fibers stick to its body. You'd hardly notice it unless it moved, says a report on assassin bugs prepared by the Smithsonian Institution.

PSC Authorizes CHGE to Issue 60,000 Shares

The State Public Service Commission has authorized the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. to issue 60,000 shares of cumulative preferred stock with a dividend rate of 4.96 per cent.

The funds from the new issue will be used to reimburse the the company for monies expended for plant additions and for working capital.

The new preferred shares, Series E, with a par valus of $100 a share, will be sold to 17 institutional investors. The company will have the option to redeem the shares, in all or in part, upon a notice of 60 days, at $105.50 on or before June 30, 1966, and thereafter at $104 to June 30, 1971, $102.50 to June 30, 1976 and at $101 thereafter.

In its petition, the company outlined its construction program which calls for capital outlays of approximately $57,000,000 for the period 1961 through 1964, including major expenditures on a new generating unit at its Danskammer steam station.

The company furnishes electric and gas service in an area extending some 85 miles along the Hudson River beginning about 10 miles south of Albany to approximately 40 miles north of New York City, and from about 25 to 40 miles on both sides of the river in the cities of Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Beacon and numerous villages.

Case Giving Up Colgate Post; Will Head Sloan

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Everett Case has resigned as president of Colgate University, effective July 1, 1962, to become president of the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation.

Case, 60, has been president of the university for 19 years.

He was elected Tuesday as a member of the foundation's board of trustees and of its executive and investment committees. He will succeed Alfred P. Sloan Jr., as foundation president and chief executive officer in July 1962.

Sloan, former board chairman and president of General Motors Corp., organized the foundation in 1934. It makes grants for cancer and other research and for educational, scientific and engineering projects.

Case came to Colgate in 1942. Earlier, he had been assistant dean of the Harvard School of Business Administration and at one time was executive secretary to Owen D. Young, former chairman of the board of the General Electric Co.

Wellington Powell, vice president of the trustees board, was named chairman of a committee of trustees to select Case's successor.

Case has directed several committees doing work for the New York State government, particularly in the field of milk pricing.

Jury to Decide Cause of Damage At Camp-Resort

Whether it was an accumulation of snow or high winds that caused three bunk houses and a garage to collapse at Camp Ta-Ri-Go, Inc., on the mountain back of Fleischmanns, is the question which the jury is asked to decide in a contract action in Supreme Court.

Camp Ta-Ri-Go, Inc., brings an action on contract against Fidelity Phenix Fire Insurance Company and others, to recover damages under a comprehensive fire policy. The policy insures against wind damage but not from snow damage.

Plaintiffs allege high winds on the mountain during March 1958 caused the buildings to collapse. The defendants allege the damage was done by heavy accumulations of snow.

The action is being tried before Supreme Court Justice William Deckelman.

The value of the damaged buildings has been sitpulated between counsel and that question is not before the jury. Only the cause of the damage is to be decided by the jury.

State to Qualify For $2-Million Billboard Bonus

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller said today the state had completed steps necessary to qualify for a $2-million federal bonus for restricting billboards along interstate highways.

The program, under which the federal government pays 90 per cent of state costs of building parts of the interstate highway system, provides for additional payments to states that accept federal standards for restricting advertising along the routes.

The 1961 Legislature passed and Rockefeller signed a bill prohibiting advertising signs within 660 feet of the right of way of such projects, with some exceptions.

Signs relating to a business on the property adjoining the right of way may be erected.

Rockefeller said the regulation of advertising signs along the interstate routes, such as the Albany-Canada Northway and North-South Expressway through Central New York, would promote highway safety and protect natural beauty.

Irish Women Do

Spoil Husbands, Don't Nag Them, Actress Advises

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Ireland's leading actress suggested today U.S. wives would enjoy life more if they spent more time spoiling their husbands instead of nagging them—or competing with them.

"The Irish woman takes it for granted that it's a man's world," said Siobhan McKenna, who has red hair, green eyes—and a serene temper.

"When I married, my grandmother told me, 'Marriage is a partnership. As in all partnerships, sometimes one must give in—and it might as well be the woman.'

Happier for It

"Irish women do—and I think they're the happier for it."

Ireland has one of the world's lowest divorce rates, and Miss McKenna believes one reason is the people there have a more realistic idea about the role of the sexes.

"They set out with the idea that men and women are incompatible," she said, "but through love and affection they accept this incompatibility and make the best of it.

"So the first time they disagree they don't rush off to a divorce court. They accept the fact they are different. They expect to disagree."

What is the biggest mistake U.S. wives make?

Can't Change People

"It's their not accepting a man as he is," said Siobhan firmly. "That is a mistake.

"You can't really change people, and you shouldn't really want to. Advice is one thing. But nagging merely drives a man to be more what he is.

"Sometimes, too, women here are too ambitious for their husbands. They drive them to work too hard. Then, when they've made all this money, it's too late for love.

"Mind you, I think Irish husbands might work a little harder. But they work to live, not live to work."

Married to Actor

Miss McKenna is married to actor Dennis O'Dea and has a 12-year-old son. Although she has an outside career herself, she feels "the best life for a woman really" is one in which she concentrates on her marriage and home.

Miss McKenna recently completed the role of the Virgin Mary in MGM's $10-million-plus film, "King of Kings." She is excited now over the prospect of starring in "Playboy of the Western World," the first movie in many years to be made in Ireland with an all-Irish cast and financed by Irish capital.

'Top Banana' Gets a Banana Cake

DELICIOUS banana layer cake is appropriately topped off with sliced bananas to honor the head man of the household.

GAYNOR MADDON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For the "top banana" in your house, here's a Father's Day cake de luxe:

Banana Layer Cake
(From Scratch)

2¼ cups sifted all purpose flour
1¼ cups sugar
2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup soft shortening
1½ cups mashed ripe bananas
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla

Preheat oven to 375 degrees F. (moderate). Sift into a large mixing bowl: flour, sugar, baking powder, soda and salt. Add shortening, ½ cup mashed bananas and eggs. Beat 2 minutes at medium speed on electric mixer.

Scrape down bowl and beaters. Add remaining 1 cup mashed bananas and vanilla. Beat 1 minute. Bake in 2 greased 8-inch round layer pans for 25 minutes or until center of cake springs back to a light touch.

Quick Mix Banana Cake

Make up your favorite cake mix into layers. But where the mix calls for 1 cup liquid plus eggs, use instead ½ cup water, 1 cup mashed ripe bananas and eggs as directed.

Butter Frosting
(use on either cake)

(Enough frosting for tops and sides of 2 9-inch layers, 3 8-inch layers or 2 dozen cupcakes.)

½ cup butter
1 pound confectioners' sugar (3½ cups sifted)
Salt, few grains
4 to 5 tablespoons liquid
1½ teaspoons vanilla
2 to 3 firm bananas

Cream butter; add sugar gradually, stirring until well blended; add salt. Stir in liquid (cream, milk or hot water) a little at a time, adding just enough to give a good spreading consistency; beat until fluffy; add vanilla or other flavoring. Just before serving, slice bananas and garnish top of cake with overlapping slices of bananas.

Pension Rights Listed for Kin Of War Veterans

Minor children of deceased veterans of World War 2 and the Korean conflict may be eligible for veterans' pension payments even though the widows of these veterans may be ineligible.

That announcement was made today by Charles L. Culver, New York State counselor, New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs and John B. Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency.

"A case in point," the agency officials said, "is where the widow is ineligible due to remarriage or excessive income. This ineligibility does not affect the eligibility of the minor children.

The officials noted that the children must not be married and not have passed their eighteenth birthday. If attending school, children are eligible for pension payments until they have reached their twenty-first birthday provided their own personal income does not exceed the established limits, the officials explained.

When a widow and children are already on the pension rolls and if for some reason, the widow becomes ineligible, the pension payments to the children will be continued. However, the officials stated, in cases where the widow never applied for a pension, or the application was not allowed due to remarriage or excessive income, the children of widows of this category are urged to visit the office of Counselor Culver or the office of Ulster County Director Tyler, 32 Main Street or Veterans Service Agency branch offices in Saugerties, Highland, Ellenville or Kerhonkson.

Napoleon gave Benjamin Dellessert the Cross of Honor after Delessert started a small sugar beet factory in Passy, France. The country was cut off from West Indies cane sugar at the time because of the Napoleonic wars.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel industry has more to worry about today than just the impact of summer heat and lethargy on its fledgling recovery.

July Slump Likely

New orders make production prospects for August look pretty good, but July seems sure to slump as usual.

Domestic customers are demanding concessions and shopping around until they get them. And the recent increase in new orders for the steel mills hasn't changed this noticeably.

As if all this isn't confusing enough, Washington rumbles with vague threats of investigating any concerted price hiking moves.

A number of steel executives have been stressing the pressure for higher prices. The talk coincided with a pickup in output after a long period of operating at half of capacity.

Must Offset Costs

Steel management says the price is needed to offset the scheduled increase in labor costs. But customers point out that wages went up last December, too, and prices didn't—steel demand and output were slim then, and competition keen.

The price rise, top executives stress, is also needed to combat thin profit margins, so that the industry will have funds for plant improvements, and expansion when needed.

But while all the talk has been going on, price cutting has been spreading among some steel products.

Two weeks ago quotations were slashed on stainless steel. Then the cost of pipes used by oil companies was cut. Now some companies are dropping their price lists on bars used to reinforce concrete. They say they must meet the lower prices of imports, an increasing competition in a number of steel products.

Unpublicized Shading

These above board instances of price cutting following a period of unpublicized price shading of another sort. Customers have been getting some steel products below list prices of the major companies by shopping around—whether from small domestic mills eager to get or maintain full production, or from the foreign mills that can deliver specific steel products here at well below the official domestic prices.

Some customers have been getting concessions by inducing mills to give them better grade steel priced as lower grade. Others have cut their production costs by finding ways to make lower grade steel do.

Sound of Frying Pan Heralds Opening of Turnau Season

As the warm days approach, a sound as of a frying pan clanging is often heard and residents of Byrdcliffe nod knowingly among themselves. Preparations for the arrival of the Turnau Opera Players at their summer residence, the Villetta Inn, have officially begun.

The clang is made by a frying pan which is attached to the lid of a trunk which is a trap for raccoons which have made the Villetta their winter residence. The falling of the lid of the trunk and the resultant clang means that another raccoon has been caught and will be released in a deserted area far, far from the Turnau Opera Players' food supply. This is the first step in preparing the Inn for the company.

The second step involves company manager, Ward Pinner and theatre manager, Marie Pinner, luring one stage director, one musical director and one choreographer up to Woodstock, promising a weekend of fresh air and sunshine, and greeting them with brushes, soap and dust rags. There ensue some shining hours at the Villetta Inn where the charges are carefully sheltered from the broiling sun and pollen-laden air.

Directors at Work

Operating strictly within their professional capacities, stage direcotor Barbara Owens directs a mop around the dirty floors. Musical director Melvin Strauss conducts an overture to prepare the living room for livability and choreographer Renate Aubert executes a delicate pas de deux among the pots and dishes.

Company manager Ward Pinner manages to keep the company at their work and theatre manager, Marie Pinner, manages to stay in the theatre where things are less hectic.

Indirect results of all this activity will be visible at the Byrdcliffe Theatre in Woodstock from July 14 to August 12.

As the sun sinks slowly into the westward and Marie Pinner bid farewell to their talented crew and turn the Villetta Inn with smiles as bright as the new shining floors. In the distance another clang of the fateful frying pan is heard. What do you suppose Rudolph Bing is doing right now?

Second Show at Webster Gallery

The second in a series of one-man and small group shows, given every two weeks, will open this Saturday, June 17, and extend through Sunday, June 25 at the Webster Gallery on Old Witchtree Road.

The gallery is open to the public every day from 3 p. m. to 6 p. m.

This show will feautre Florence Webster's work in two media, oil painting and hand weaving. Miss Webster came to Woodstock to study at the Art Students League under Charles Rosen and continued with Henry Lee McFee.

The exhibition being given by the artist, Florence Webster, together with the following shows of the planned summer series, is being presentd as a supplement to the post office shows. It is hoped they will call attention to the importance of art in the life of Woodstock and, by stimulating interest, lead to greater and broader support from the entire community.

Give Directions

Directions for reaching Webster Gallery at Webster Fields, follow: A short drive from the Village Green. Get on Route 212 (Woodstock - Saugerties road). Turn off 212 at the country club to Route 375. Proceed past the Woodstock elementary school. Go past the Maverick Road intersection, remaining on Route 375. Then turn left at the sign reading Old Witchtree Road. Continue a short distance along this road to Webster Fields, where the old barn has been converted into a beautiful, spacious gallery in a delightful rural setting. The parking lot is just beyond the gallery and is reached by a roadway marked entrance.

There will be weaving demonstrations in Miss Webster's show which will feature some unusual techniques from Monday, June 19 through Friday, June 23.

Returning Troy Man To Answer for Death

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — James H. Stockwell is being returned to Troy from a mental institution to stand trial on a first-degree murder charge in the killing of a 79-year-old man.

Stockwell, 34, of nearby Pleasantdale, was sent to Eastern Correctional Institution, Napanoch, after two psychiatrists testified that Stockwell was mentally incompetent to stand trial for the slaying of John Bacon, 79, of Mechanicville.

Charles L. McKendrick, Napanoch superintendent, testified Wednesday that, after further examination, Stockwell was found to be capable of understanding the charge and preparing his defense.

Rensselaer County Judge DeForest Pitt signed an order Wednesday directing Stockwell's return. Police accused Stockwell of stealing $120 from Bacon and pushing the older man into the Hudson River last Nov. 5.

TO STAFF LOCAL OFFICE — The new sales and service facilities of Allstate Insurance Co. in the Sears, Roebuck and Co. store, 35 Crown Street, will be staffed by Alexander Banyo and Harold Teigland as agents.

Discuss Carnival Plans

At the meeting of High Falls Fire Company Tuesday night final plans for the annual carnival were discussed. The carnival will be held at the firehouse grounds on two weekends. All members of the company will be expected to report at the firehouse on the nights of the carnival. Following the business session refreshments were served by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Probe Continuing Of Fire That Destroyed Films

Deputy sheriffs and an agent of the National Board of Fire Underwriters today continued investigation in an effort to determine the cause of a $153,000 fire which destroyed 4,500 rolls of television and movie film at Red Hook Tuesday afternoon.

Dutchess County Sheriff Lawrence Quinlan told The Freeman that Deputy Charles Borchers and J. L. Jones of the National Board of Fire Underwriters went to Red Hook this morning to check the debris in the warehouse off Norton Road.

Quinlan said the rolls of film included many filmed sequences for television shows, which were stored for possible re-runs during the summer months.

The sheriff emphasized that no definite cause had been determined, although there was a possibility that Tuesday's 91 degree heat may have been responsible for the blaze. Quinlan explained that the warehouse had several skylights, and the sun rays shining through the glass might have caused a spontaneous combustion.

The building was owned by Joseph O'Connor, Norton Road, Red Hook, who rented it to Rudolph Mayer, Long Island City. He is associated with FMS Inc., which stores film for television stations and other accounts.

Banyo is a member of the Knights of Columbus, Kiwanis Club, Ulster-Albany Avenue Business Men's Association and the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. Banyo is married to the former Miss Jean Kraus. They have a son, John.

Teigland joined Allstate in January of 1960 and is experienced in the claims, service and sales fields of the insurance business. He attended Wagner College and completed an intensive professional training course at the company's regional training center at Harrison. He resides with his wife at the Kingston address.

3rd Graders Give Their Opinions, Asked by Teacher

VALLEY STREAM, N.Y. (AP) —They yell, they're pretty nutty, but they're loved—a few samples o. what some third graders think about their parents.

The 8-year-olds at Brooklyn Avenue School in the Long Island community were asked by their teacher, Annette Higgins, to write anonymously their views on three topics: Parents; School and teachers; Why people should like me.

On parents:

"Parents are o.k. I guess but sometimes they yell and hit and that makes me mad. But no matter what I still love them."

"They're pretty nutty if you ask me."

"If both parents love you at the same time, that's great."

"They don't understand children very much."

"I think parents are lucky to have children."

On school and teachers:

"School is for children who want to learn. But if you don't want to learn you have to go anyway."

"If I never went to school I would be stupid but I would be happy."

On themselves:

"A lot of people like me but I don't know why."

"I try my best but still some people do not like me."

"I guess people like me because I am very nice."

"They like me because I am good-looking."

"I don't expect everyone to like me."

"My friends like me because I am not a big shot."

"I like me and people should like me. I don't see anything wrong with me."

The class which turned in the appraisals consists of 17 boys and 16 girls.

Mrs. Higgins, who has been teaching for four years, had nothing but praise for her pupils.

"Third graders are the best," she said, Wednesday, "they're quick and sharp." She added: "You can see the progress from one day to the next" and "I love them like my own."

Warning on Water

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — "Unless we take steps to conserve our (water) supplies, we may well face critical shortages of water within the decade," Gov. Rockefeller warns.

Rockefeller Wednesday proclaimed June 24-30 Water Conservation Week in New York State.

Will Keep His Gun

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Police Chief Edward J. Curtin said Wednesday he will retire July 1. Then he applied for a pistol permit, necessary to wear the gun as he has for 45 years as a policeman here.

Curtin has been chief for 18 years.

Hearing on Water Rate Increase Set

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Public hearings begin next Thursday at the Public Service Commission's New York City office on the bid of Utilities and Industries Corp. for a $235,000 water-rate increase.

The company seeks to increase rates for service at Haverstraw, Rockland County, Clyde, Wayne County, in Queens, and in Nassau County.

Utilities and Industries formerly was the New York Water Service Corp.

The PSC, in scheduling the hearings, said Wednesday it had postponed the hearings twice at the request of the company.

The company originally asked to be allowed to put the increases in effect without delay.

Fishermen Honest When It Comes to Bait

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A. C. Gandy sells fishing worms on the honor system.

He leaves boxes of worms on an outdoor table for the customers to serve themselves day or night and says the money is never short. Sometimes, he adds, it comes out a little extra.

"I'd just as soon do business with fishermen as anybody," he explained.

Political Problems Disappear

Enthusiasm, Unity Prevail, Morale of State GOP Soars

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A spirit of enthusiasm and unity prevailed among the 3,000 Republicans at the party's annual state dinner this year, in contrast to the total lack of such in 1960.

Republican morale has soared in the last year, with the disappearance of several embarrassing political problems, and the change was evident at the $100-a-plate dinner in New York City.

Broad Representation

The broad representation at the event makes it one of the best barometers of current Republican thinking throughout the state.

It was clearly evident a year ago that a good-sized segment of the party was unhappy with the way things were going.

Gov. Rockefeller was growing increasingly unpopular among Republicans nationally — including many in New York State—largely because of his criticisms of Richard M. Nixon, then vice president and the party's almost unanimous choice as its presidential candidate.

Some of the Rockefeller criticisms were interpreted as attacks on the administration of Republican President Eisenhower, who had carried New York State by a 1.6 million votes in 1956.

Most Involved Governor

A big bloc of Upstate Republican leaders grumbled privately that the governor, with almost no practical chance of winning the presidential nomination for himself, should stop his sharpshooting and swing behind Nixon.

There were other problems, most of them involving Rockefeller.

The governor had suffered a major defeat with his proposal for mandatory construction of fallout shelters in homes and all other buildings. Republicans had helped kill it.

Republican legislators and other office-holders were approaching their first test at the polls since Rockefeller took office. Many were concerned that some Rockefeller policies, including the 1959 tax increases, would work against their re-election.

These factors combined to produce a generally lackluster atmosphere at the 1960 dinner. Some observers felt the prolonged applause given former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's praise of Eisenhower at that event constituted a rebuff to the governor and his political activity.

Sign of Harmony

The 1961 scene was far different. The 1960 presidential election and its special problems for New York Republicans had passed.

The presence of Rep. William J. Miller, R-N.Y., the new Republican national chairman, at the 1961 dinner was a sign of harmony between the New York organization and the GOP parent group.

The governor had turned the fall-out issue over to Washington, holding now that it is a national matter.

The GOP feels the tax issue has abated and will not be a major factor in future elections.

For the first time in decades, the GOP is filled with optimism about winning a New York City mayoral race.

Democrats still have to solve factional problems that have hampered that party for the last three years and are interfering with its preparations for the 1962 gubernatorial campaign.

Jersey Tax Most Burdensome, Is Perlman's Wail

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of the New York Central says his railroad's most urgent need is relief from local taxation in New York and New Jersey.

Alfred E. Perlman described the New Jersey local-tax system as the most burdensome. He said the Central last year had net earnings of $1 billion in the Midwest and lost $35 million east of Buffalo.

He said Wednesday night that, if operations east of Buffalo were eliminated, "we would have one of the most profitable railroads in the East."

Albany's 43 Is New Low for Date

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—What is so rare as a day in June—especially when the mercury drops to a record low of 43 degrees, the Albany Weather Bureau meteorologist mused at 4:30 a.m. today.

The bureau said the figure shattered the previous record of 45 for the date, set two years ago.

Temperatures in the state's southern counties were 20 degrees or more lower than they were 24 hours ago, the bureau added. Elsewhere, temperatures ranged from near 40 at Watertown and Elmira to the mid-50s in the New York City area.

Fair and cool weather will stay through Friday, said the bureau.

Body Taken From Lake

THERESA, N.Y. (AP) — The body of Willie Joe Penn, 34, of East Williamson, Wayne County, has been recovered from Muscallonge Lake near this Jefferson County community.

Penn was drowned Friday when he attempted to step from one rowboat to another, State Police found the body Wednesday.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)— One thing you can say for Perry Como's summer replacement: It sure is a change from the usual Wednesday night variety hour on NBC.

Wednesday night's premier program of "Mystery Theater" was, in fact, a neat and meticulous demonstration of a clever and comparatively non-violent way to rob a bank.

Perry's substitutes are British films edited down to an hour's length.

Judging from the first film sample, this promises to be a rather diverting series. And although most English movies we see on TV look as though they were made on a dark night in an unlighted cellar, this one was quite easy to follow without eyestrain.

The syndicated late-evening "PM" series starring Mike Wallace, designed to provide some fresh competition for late movies and Jack Paar Show, got off to a rather limping start this week. ABC, reported to be interested in picking up the series for its network come fall, said they had turned the taped series down.

After weeks of thought, CBS has finally come up with a title for the Gertrude Berg comedy series which will make its debut this fall: "Mrs. G Goes to College." The series started out as "Mother Was a Freshman," was changed to "The Freshman," but lately has been identified by the name which the public will undoubtedly use anyway, The Gertrude Berg Show.

NBC will run a repeat broadcast of "The Accomplice," an hour long dramatic show next Monday night (10-11), mostly because of its timely theme. It was based on the capture of Adolf Eichmann and was shown originally last August as one of the "Moment of Fear" summer replacement shows.

Recommended tonight: CBS reports, 10-11 (Eastern Standard Time) — repeat of the excellent documentary, "The Year of the Polaris"; Close-Up," ABC, 10:30-11—"Our Durable Diplomats," a study of two young couples in the government's foreign service.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Roast beef and pork dominate supermarket advertisements again this week.

Poultry prices are so low production is turning downward. This eventually will mean smaller supply and higher prices.

Pork bargains this week are mostly smoked hams, although rib end pork loins and sausage are featured in the Midwest and smoked picnic hams in the Northeast.

In beef it's mostly sirloin, or porterhouse, steaks and rib roast.

Fresh fruits and vegetables are seasonally plentiful now, although produce men report the weather has been so hot in some sections that the condition of highly perishable items such as asparagus, lettuce and strawberries, has been effected.

Allowing for a careful shopper check of condition, all are on this week's best buy list. Other vegetables with this rating are collards, green onions, radishes, rhubarb, spinach and parsley. Good buys include beets, cabbage, carrots, celery, corn, mushrooms, onions, potatoes and tomatoes.

Joining strawberries as outstanding fruit buys are oranges, grapefruit, bananas and mangoes. Good buys include watermelons, blueberries, cantaloups, honeydew melons, peaches and lemons.

Fund Drive Started

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — Princeton Theological Seminary has announced a drive for an $18½ million development fund for expanding its facilities and strengthening its faculty, beginning with the Presbyterian institution's 150th anniversary celebration in 1962.

Hubby Really Deserves Better Break Than This

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It ought to be obvious but maybe some of us need to be reminded HOW NOT to greet friend husband when he returns home in the evening:

With a note on the piano saying you'll be home at such-and-such a time.

With a long-winded complaint about everything that was wrong with your day.

Curled up on the sofa reading a book or magazine, and no dinner preparations under way.

With a demand that he do something in the repair line immediately—before he even sits down to relax.

With a tale of junior's latest scrape and a demand that he punish "his" son.

In an old pair of slacks or the same housedress you were wearing when he left in the morning.

With the house in a mess because it was your bridge day and you played later than you counted on and didn't have time to straighten things up before he came home.

With a definite coolness in your manner because you've brooded all day over your husband's grouchiness at breakfast.

With a look of reproach because your husband is a few minutes later than usual.

Those may seem like little things, but they can make a husband's homecoming a dreary business and get an evening off to a bad start for BOTH of you.

Bill to Permit Sale of Aniline Firm Seems Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects appear dim for congressional passage this year of bills to permit the sale of the General Aniline & Film Co. to private interests.

The firm was seized by the government during World War II as German property and is now operated by the Justice Department. It has plants in Albany, Binghamton and Johnson City, N. Y., and Linden, N.J.

"I'm less encouraged right now than I was a year ago," said Rep. Leo W. O'Brien, D-N.Y., sponsor of one bill to provide for sale of the $150 million firm.

His sentiments were echoed by Rep. Howard W. Robison, R-N.Y., sponsor of an identical bill, who said prospects are rather dim in view of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's insistence that cases surrounding the firm be settled before its sale to private enterprise.

Kennedy recently said the Justice Department would like to get rid of General Aniline but must wait until litigation surrounding the firm is resolved.

Boys Find Small Chest Of Coins on River

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — A group of boys playing near the Mississippi River bank retrieved a small chest floating on the water and threw it on to the bank.

The impact split the box open and a stream of silver coins spilled out—touching off a stream of treasure-seekers armed with picks and shovels to the spot on banks at Natchez Under the Hill.

The youngsters sold most of the spilled coins—mostly silver dimes and half-dimes dating from 1848-1860. Collectors could not estimate their total value or collector's worth.

Steuben Returns 'No Bills' in 2 Grand Jury Cases

BATH, N.Y. (AP) — A Steuben County grand jury has declined to indict a tavern owner, charged with fatally beating his wife, and a teen-age boy accused of fatally wounding a friend during a camp trip.

The grand jury Wednesday handed up a "no bill" against Ervin D. Smith, 49, of Cohocton, who was charged with first-degree manslaughter in the death of his wife, Leola, 39, last April 16.

Police said Smith told them he drove 16 miles to give himself up after beating his wife. He told police that he and his wife had been arguing, they said.

The jury also returned a "no bill" against Thomas H. Corvino, 19, of Hornell, who had been charged with second-degree manslaughter in the death of Gary M. Carnes, 18, also of Hornell, on April 22.

State Police said Corvino had told them that he had fired from inside a camp through an open door into the darkness after hearing noises outside. Carnes and another boy were playing a prank on a group in the camp when the accident occurred, State Police said.

New Law to Speed Up California Returns

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California has a new election law designed to eliminate slow ballot counting such as kept the outcome of the last presidential race in this state uncertain for days.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown signed legislation Wednesday which requires absentee ballots to be returned to county clerks three days before election. Under the old law, these ballots could be received up to six days after election.

Brown said slow counting of absentee ballots could have been serious if the nation were in a crisis.

Farmhand's Trial For Arson in 2nd Day at Po'keepsie

Trial of a 32-year-old Town of Poughkeepsie farmhand on a charge of second degree arson went into its second day at 10 a. m. today before Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz and a jury of seven women and five men.

William R. Heiser, 38, is accused in an indictment of setting fire to a large dairy barn on the Gerge R. Fitchett III, farm off Bedell Road, Town of Poughkeepsie, last Feb. 26. Authorities said at the time that 76 head of milking cows perished during the 3-alarm fire.

The fire loss was estimated at upwards of $110,000.

Police said that Heiser was discharged as a farmhand a few days before the fire and eviction notices had been served directing the Heiser family to vacate a tenant house where they resided during his employment as a farmhand.

Witnesses called by the prosecution Wednesday included Town Detective Philip McCreedy, who assisted in the investigation of the fire, and Fitchett, owner of the farm, who identified Heiser as a former farmhand.

Prosecuting the case are Assistant District Attorneys Julius S. Boccia, of Beacon, and Eugene Frink, Pawling. Jack M. Quartarro, Poughkeepsie, is defense attorney.

Prints, Clothes Of Woman Probed To Seek Identity

SANDY HOOK, N.J. (AP)—Fingerprints and clothing of a woman found dead in the waters off the coast here were being analyzed today in an attempt to determine her identity.

Police said the woman, about 55, had been in the water a day or two when she was found by the Coast Guard Tuesday.

The body of a man, found about three miles from where the woman's body was discovered, was identified as that of William G. Shepherd, 34, of Newburgh. Police said he apparently committed suicide.

John Gawler, Monmouth County chief of detectives, said Shepherd had left a note to his family in Newburgh stating he was going away.

Newburgh police said Shepherd's wife, Shirley, had reported him missing from their home since May 23. He has resided with his wife, a son and a daughter.

DEPOSIT HERE — Instead of a bite, mailman Jack Orchard gets a beg. When he comes to the Roe Myers home in DeLand, Fla., their dog Tootsie is waiting. She sits up and begs until Orchard puts the mail in her mouth. The Myers' need mail daily. If Orchard didn't stop, they're afraid Toots would follow all around the route, begging.

Survival Shelter To Be Dedicated Here on June 24

At 10 a. m. Saturday, June 24, at the Municipal Parking Lot off Partition Street in Saugerties, Ulster County's first demonstration family fallout shelter will be dedicated.

The shelter, with it provisions, will realistically illustrate what steps a family can and should take to protect themselves from fallout. All the labor and materials have been donated by Saugerties citizens working with the Saugerties Jaycees.

The dedication will kick-off "Operation Survival"—a community-wide program sponsored by the Saugerties Jaycees in conjunction with area Civil Defense directors. The "Operation Survival" program is designed to assist Civil Defense in providing the community with a better understanding of the hazards of nuclear fallout as well as other potential weapons, and the steps each family can and should take to protect against these hazards.

The demonstration shelter will serve as a focal point for information and assistance to area residents who are interested in taking some constructive action toward Civil Defense.

SHS Graduates Attend Schools Throughout U.S.

Insurance Plan Adopted by Board For Local School

A more comprehensive liability insurance plan for all pupils in the Saugerties Central Schools System was adopted by the Board of Education Monday evening of this week.

Under this plan the board will insure all pupils with the Royal Indemnity Company which provides a $3000 medical expense maximum except for members of the inter-scholastic football team. For football players, a maximum medical expense of $1000 is provided. The insurance coverage was recommended to the board of education by the Herbert L. Jamison & Co. insurance advisors with offices in New York City. The additional expense for the coverage it is expected, will be only $2,253.50. The new policy will make unnecessary two present policies, one with the New York State Public High School Athletic Insurance coverage plan in the amount of $2468, the other a team accident insurance plan with the Royal Indemnity Company in the amount of $2718.50. The reasoning followed by the Board in adopting this new plan was that many of the 2700 pupils in the local school system were not adequately protected in the event of accident under the present coverage. It was felt that members of the athletic teams were adequately protected but that the others were not.

The board approved a raise for cafeteria workers in the amount of $147 per employe. This amounts to a ten cent per hour raise for a seven-hour working day exclusive of lunch.

The board set Monday evening, June 10, as a meeting date with the Citizens Advisory Committee.

Two of the three visitors at Monday evening's meeting are candidates for positions on the board next year. They are Norman Nitschke who is a candidate to succeed Kenneth Beadle, and Mrs. Everett T. Brandt of Quarryville, who will be a candidate to succeed Mrs. Mary Lasher.

The attendance of David Hildebrandt at a meeting of building superintendents was authorized for five days in August.

The board approved the engaging of Mrs. Margaret Uyeki of Woodstock as a third grade teacher in the local school next year.

Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools, reported that 18 new members of next year's faculty have been engaged. Eight remain to be hired. Six of the positions are in the elementary grades. The other two are in the high school, one to replace Kenneth Lane, guidance counselor; the other to replace Eugene LaPlante, art teacher.

Summer Hours Are Listed by Library

Summer hours for the Saugerties Public Library were announced this week by Mrs. Betty Layton, librarian, as follows:

Weekdays, 1-5 p. m.; Wednesday and Friday, 7-9 p. m.; Saturday, 10 a. m.-12 noon.

Meetings Scheduled

An executive committee meeting of the Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association has been called by Mrs. Edward Mathews, first vice president, for tonight, 8 o'clock at the high school. The purpose of the meeting is to elect a president to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Kenneth Lane.

All P-TA committee chairmen for the school year 1960-61 and all officers elected for 1961-62 are requested to attend.

The annual election and installation of officers for the coming year will take place on Thursday evening at the monthly meeting of Lamouree-Hackett Post 72, American Legion.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting at the Legion Home, John Street, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Fred Brammer will be the guest on the Jaycees Story Hour Saturday at the public library, when all children between the ages of five and seven may attend the 10 o'clock program.

Mrs. Brammer has chosen "Around the World Fairy Tales" as her theme, and will include stories for children from Russia, Japan and some of Hans Christian Andersen's special tales. Mrs. Carl Poeschner of the Jaycees will aid Mrs. Brammer.

Mrs. David Goble entertained the children last week with stories of circus animals and piano tunes to accompany the commentary.

The last story hour of the summer will be on June 24 when Mrs. David Cunningham will be the guest speaker.

Graduates of St. Mary of the Snow, Saugerties, will give a farewell performance at the last regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association to be held Sunday, June 18, at the school at 7:30 p. m.

Falls on Same Day

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The telephone rang at the Albany Times-Union city desk.

"Can you tell me the date of the National Bunker Hill Day?", a voice asked.

"June 17."

Greyhound Fares Going Up Friday To Meet Expenses

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Fares on most Greyhound buses in New York State will increase by 5 per cent Friday, to meet company-claimed operating cost rises.

The Public Service Commission authorized the increase by Greyhound Bus Corp. and said Wednesday it estimated the higher fares would bring the company about $77,500 a year in additional revenues.

Greyhound said, in applying for the increase, that its operating costs in the state had risen nearly $253,000 in the year ended May 31.

The PSC blocked, however, a proposal to increase commuter fares in the Buffalo and Syracuse areas by 10 cents a ride and ordered a public hearing June 27 in Buffalo.

Under the new rate schedule, most one-way fares over 50 cents will go up 5 per cent. Round-trip and commutation tickets will rise proportionately. School fares will remain unchanged, however.

Excepted from the increase are the company's Rochester-Albion and Rochester - Fairport - Newark routes, some sections of its Buffalo-Rochester route and some parts of routes from Albany through the Adirondacks to Canada.

Attorney Says Wehle Knew About Outbreak

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — An attorney, during Louis A. Wehle's appeal of a $75,000 slander judgment, alleges the former conservation commissioner knew of a disease-outbreak at a state game farm "but did nothing about it."

Wehle is appealing to the Appellate Division of State Supreme Court, third department, a $75,000 slander judgment won by Dr. Leonard Cheatum, assistant director of the Conservation Department's division of fish and game.

Cheatum had charged that Wehle, while conservation commissioner, slandered him in a 1956 speech in Watertown. Wehle allegedly blamed Cheatum for the death in 1955 of 1,500 pheasants at a state game farm on Grenadier Island in Lake Ontario.

Cheatum's lawer, John W. Tabner, said in court Wednesday that Wehle was aware of the outbreak of botulism, a bacterial poisoning. The birds died shortly after being shipped from another state farm at Delmar, near Albany.

The instruction programs, which began Monday, include practical writing laboratories, lectures by leading industrial writers, discussion groups and personal conferences. Writers from industry, government and the sciences are taking part.

The program "will show how the technical writer may participate in many phases of communication," according to Prof. Jay R. Gould, Institute director.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

For the next three days the eyes of the golf world will be focused on Birmingham, Mich., a suburb of Detroit, where Samuel Jackson Snead goes through the crucible as he always does in the U. S. Open.

In our own bailiwick we have drama of our own Saturday and Sunday, not of earth shaking significance, but of high sentimental value to the old timers in area golf.

While Snead is trying to conquer an insurmountable jinx in the Open, veteran Alvin Boice of Twaaltskill will be going through the same thing Saturday and Sunday in the Herdegen Memorial tournament at Twaaltskill and Woodstock.

Time is running out on Alvie, one of the finest gentleman ever to trod area fairways. His performance in the Herdegen has been on the decline since 1957, but as the 1961 renewal resumes Saturday morning at Twaaltskill, he is only two shots off the pace. With a round on his home links and the finale at Woodstock it is conceivable that Boice can do it this time around. He has won several Twaalfskill and city crowns and needs only this third jewel to complete his personal Triple Crown.

During a hot run (1953-54-55) Boice finished second three years running. After placing third in the 1951 inaugural, and fourth in 1952, he tied for second with 288 with George Hughes, a shot behind Bill Van Aken's winning 287. In 1954, he was again runnerup, 4 shots behind Hughes' 286 and in 1955, second to Bill Van Aken's 213 in the last 54-hole Herdegen. Since then he has been fifth once, ninth twice, 12th and eighth.

For sentimental reasons alone, victories by Sam Snead and Alvin Boice this weekend would make this a historic golf season on two widely divergent fronts.

• Chips and Putts:

Bill Van Aken's 83 at Shawangunk was his worst Herdegen round since his 89 at Palenville in 1952. The score is more incredulous when you realize that he and George Hughes were the only players in the field who parred the last three holes both times around. Hughes birdied the 8th on the first swing. Leon Randall and Hughes were the only players who escaped a "6" at Shawangunk. Alvin Boice got by with only one. . . . Ronnie Marks picked up two par 4's on that exacting third hole. The only other pars there were turned in by Hughes, Bud Leininger and Dubby Raichle. . . . Shawangunk is steadily beautifying and refurbishing its layout. The new swimming pool and first tee contiguous with each other will be ready in about two weeks. An alternate No. 1 makes for an interesting tee shot on the No. 10 hole. John Budd, the new professional at Shawangunk, is a highly personable gentleman and a welcome addition to the area golf scene. The Ellenville folks are always among the finest Herdegen Memorial hosts.

• Beware of the Brand:

Seven brands of golf balls have been banned by the USGA for tournament play. The balls were banned, apparently, because they do not meet specifications as to size or are wound too tightly to pass the maximum velocity requirements of golf's ruling body. The seven balls which may not be used are the Ben Hogan, Ben Hogan 90 Plus, Golfcraft Staff, U. S. Royal Special L. P. PGA Ryder Cup, MacGregor DX Tourney and Sweetshot Dyna-90 Matic. If, however, a player gets written certification "by a responsible testing authority" that the specific balls he is using (among those mentioned above) are okay, he will be allowed to play them.

All of the listed makes are sold in area pro shops, but the ban on their use is for USGA events only. One company, which makes Ben Hogan equipment, has sent a letter informing pros that if they or any of their members are planning to compete in a USGA tourney, the company will send balls that will meet the requirements.

The USGA wants it understood, too, that the ban is only against the specific brand names listed and not against all brands made by the companies involved.

Don Avery Retains Points Lead at Onteora Speedway

Don Avery of West Shokan, a two-time feature winner, is leading for the points title he won last season at Onteora Park Speedway.

Not including last week's races in which he failed to place in the 25-lap feature, feature, Avery had rolled up 92 points, a seven-point lead over runnerup Ray Anderson of Newburgh.

D. D. (Rebel) Harris of Poughkeepsie, the lone three-time feature winner of the season, is setting the pace for Driver points total in the AAA and AAA Jr. circuit with 58. He has 38 in the regular point standings.

Pectal and Oles Former OB Aces

One of the two new New York-New Jersey League entries, the Kinderhook Columbians, will have two front line pitchers with minor league background ready to throw at the Kingston Braves Saturday night at Dietz Stadium.

The game will serve as a delayed home opener for the undefeated Braves (3-0) who were rained out last Saturday night.

General Manager Fred Davi's squad has a Saturday afternoon contest at Poughkeepsie against the Millbrook Monarchs, another new team.

Manager Frank Torrey of Kinderhook has indicated he will start Bob Pectal, a left hander who was in the farm system of the New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves. Pectal saw considerable service and lost a 2-1 decision to the Korean All Stars in the All-Pacific finals. He comes from Hillsdale in Columbia County.

If Pectal falters, Torrey can call on Mert Oles, a 6 foot 3 southpaw, who was in the Pittsburgh Pirate chain for two years or Larry Grant.

The club's outstanding power hitter is Ken Rossman, first baseman, who played Class A ball in the New York Giant and Philadelphia Phillies farm system.

Charlie Cooper, ex-Siena College player and a solid .300 hitter, will catch for the Columbians. Sam Greco in nearby Stuyvesant is the reserve catcher.

Manager John Fullie of the Braves has not announced his pitching rotation for the weekend, but it is likely that southpaw Bob Maines will get the call against Kinderhook. Al Corwin or Larry De Vita will go against Millbrooks.

Saturday's opener will be featured by the program originally scheduled last week. There will be a parade up Broadway and ceremonies at the stadium.

Erie Sailors Slam Wellsville 6 to 3

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The defending-champion Erie Sailors are beginning to make their presence known among the leaders in the New York-Penn League pennant chase.

The Sailors won their fourth in a row Wednesday night in Erie, downing the Wellsville Braves 6-3 in the league's only contest. Three other games were postponed because of rain or wet grounds.

The victory put Erie in tighter possession of third place ahead of Wellsville.

Watzka struck out 15 batters and hit a single and double to help his own cause. The Giants collected only eight hits off three Braves pitchers but had the benefit of 17 bases on balls and several errors. They scored in every inning with a high of 8 runs in the fourth. # Tigers Tie Indians in 1st Place

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers, with Frank Lary becoming the first pitcher to win 10 in the majors this season, beat Boston 4-2 Wednesday and gained a tie for first place with Cleveland in the American League race when the New York Yankees beat the Indians 11-5.

Whitey Ford, with relief help by Luis Arroyo, also won his 10th for the third place Yankees, who are one game behind.

Washington beat Baltimore 5-1, Kansas City tagged Minnesota 9-2 and the Chicago White Sox ran up a six-game streak with a 4-1 and 9-8 twi-night doubleheader sweep over the Los Angeles Angels.

A two-run triple by Billy Bruton wrapped it up for the Tigers as they scored three in the fourth inning against the Red Sox and loser Billy Muffett (2-6). Lary (10-3), had a three-hit shutout until the eighth, when Boston scored on four singles and a sacrifice fly by Frank Malzone.

Roger Maris and Bobby Richardson drove in six runs between them for the Yankees. Maris brought them from behind with a two-run homer in the fourth off loser Gary Bell (4-6), and Richardson capped a four-run seventh inning with a three-run homer off reliever Johnny Antonelli.

Ford gave up eight hits, one a solo homer by Chuck Essegian. Arroyo then mopped up with two innings of hitless relief.

A five-run second inning, triggered by Gene Green's two-run homer, did it for the Senators as Dick Donovan (3-5) won his third in a row with a six-hitter. Steve Barber (7-5) was the loser.

Kansas City was shut out on two hits for 7 1-3 innings by Camilo Pascual, but broke loose for eight runs in the eight. Jerry Walker (3-3) won it in relief. Pascual was the loser.

Ray Herbert and Don Larsen, two right-handers acquired from Kansas City Saturday, wrapped up the White Sox's sweep. Herbert (4-6), won the opener with a three-hitter.

NLL Plans Drive On Saturday for Field Projects

The National Little League boys and volunteer workers assisted by the Women's Auxiliary under its president Mrs. E. Primo will launch the annual "Home Run Day" drive Saturday, June 17 at 10 a. m.

A house to house canvas will be made in Wards 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 in an effort to raise funds to pay for a new outfield 4-foot chain link fence and other improvements to the field and structures.

League officials contend that Shults Stadium-Kingman Park comprises one of the Little League's best playing areas in the county. It is enclosed with a chain link fence and has modern buildings and facilities.

A new minor league field is now in the making, adjacent to the major playing area. It is expected it will be completed for next season.

The National Little League consists of five teams with 75 boys enrolled. The minor league has four teams with 60 boys on the roster, for a total of 135.

Jim Carlson, league president, urges public support during the drive for funds, and points out that considerable expenses are incurred for the upkeep and improvements of the field.

Norton Hurls Rec 1-Hitter

George Norton unfurled a 1-hitter to pitch Hilltop Rest to a 5-0 victory over Armstrong's Bar and Grill, the fourth straight win for Hilltop.

The lone hit off Norton was a hot line drive by the opposing pitcher, Bill Costello, that Norton couldn't handle. The winners had only three hits off Costello.

Clyde Carter hit a double for the only extra base blow of the contest and Big Joe Klonowski kept his hitting streak alive by beating out a ground ball to the first baseman when nobody covered. Costello, however, did check Jack Niles' hitting skein.

LA Clouts Cubs; Take Nat'l Lead

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers are back on top in the National League race, gaining a half-game edge by beating the Chicago Cubs dropped Cincinnati 5-4, and San Francisco tied the Reds for second place with an 11-2 job on Milwaukee.

The St. Louis-Philadelphia game was rained out.

The Dodgers knocked off the Cubs behind the five-hit pitching of Don Drysdale (5-3). It was his first shutout of the season. Backed by four double plays, Drysdale didn't allow a runner past first. He walked but two and struck out seven.

Pitcher Hits Homer

Drysdale also belted a homer. So did Tommy Davis, who drove in three runs. He brought in one in the first with a sacrifice fly, and the Dodgers then chased loser Don Cardwell (5-3) with three runs in the second, two unearned.

Dick Stuart did it for the Pirates. He drove in four runs with a single, triple and homer, beating the Reds with a two-run triple in the ninth off losing reliever Jim Brosnan (2-2). The Reds gained 3-2 and 4-3 leads against Bob Friend and Elroy Face before Bobby Shantz (3-1) took the decision with one hitless inning of relief.

The Giants, with a seven-run seventh inning, beat Warren Spahn (7-7), the southpaw ace who has beaten them twice. Harvey Kuenn opened the big seventh with a double and closed it with a two-run triple. Willie Mays and Ed Bailey hit home runs for the Giants, with Bailey rapping two, ard each drove in three runs. Juan Marichal, beating the Braves for the second time, collected a 3-3 record with a five-hitter, giving up fifth-inning homers by Frank Thomas and Joe Torre.

Yanks Get Daley, A's Land Ditmar Before Deadline

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the night the general managers of big league baseball clubs sit up late, waiting for the phone to ring.

At midnight, local time, June 15, the trading deadline goes into effect. After that hour no player can be traded from one major league club to another without waivers. The rule remains in effect until the end of the season.

In case you are weak on baseball's legal terminology, waivers are the process by which each club in the league gets a chance to grab a certain player for $20,000. The teams lowest in the standings get first crack and so on up.

New York turned to its old buddies in Kansas City for pitching help Wednesday, completing the 17th deal between the two clubs, involving 64 players, since 1955. Although owner Chuck Finley of the A's recently said no more trades with the Yanks, his general manager, Frank Lane, said he had Finley's approval.

The acquisition of Bud Daley, a left-handed starting pitcher, to team with Whitey Ford figures to strengthen the Yanks, especially at the stadium where southpaws usually are more effective than righties. To get Daley, New York sent pitcher Art Ditmar and infielder Deron Johnson to the A's.

Two Rookies Get IL All-Star Game Call for June 26

MONTREAL (AP) — Two 23-year-old rookies with the Charleston, W. Va., Marlins landed places on the International League all-star baseball team picked by the IL managers to meet Cleveland Indians in Buffalo, N.Y., June 26.

They are right hand pitcher Ray Washburn and first baseman Fred Whitfield.

The Rochester Red Wings, Buffalo Bisons and Columbus Jets also placed two men on the squad and the Toronto Maple Leafs and Jersey City Jerseys one each.

Johnny Lipon of the Maple Leafs, named all-star manager earlier, is to select 10 or more players to round out the team.

In addition to Washburn and Whitfield, they selected:

Trojans Favored To Nip Honors in NCAA Field Event

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The University of Southern California rates a solid favorite to win the NCAA Track and Field Championship Friday and Saturday and Coach Jess Mortensen is not crying wolf.

"I think," he said today, "that it will take 50 points to win the team title and I don't see why we can't score that many points."

The Trojans already have won the title 21 times in the 40-year history of the meet, and Mortensen has piloted the team to six crowns in his 10 years on the job.

Even with the loss of Rex Cawley, who pulled a leg muscle Tuesday and probably will have to scratch, the Trojans will have a hard time losing.

Mortensen has two defending champions on hand and a flock of other talented performers who are certain point-scorers. Dallas Long, who won the shot put with a meet record 61-9 last year should improve on that.

Luther Hayes of the Trojans also set a meet record last year with a 50-11½ hop, step and jump, already has done 51-9¼ this year.

Navy Is Favored To Win 59th IRA Varsity June 17

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Navy's undefeated oarsmen had the backing of competing crew coaches to win the varsity race of the 59th Intercollegiate Rowing Association championships Saturday.

Central Labor Council of Area Told About COPE

More than 25 delegates representing seven locals affiliated with the Upper-Hudson Area Central Labor Union Council, AFL-CIO, Wednesday night heard about the work of COPE, the Central Organization for Political Education, at 110 Prince Street, the offices of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America Local.

The 25 locals affiliated with the council represent unions in Columbia, Greene, Northern Dutchess and part of Ulster County.

Mrs. Betty Doto, women's state director for Women's Activities Department for COPE addressed the group.

Also discussed was proposed legislation pertaining to labor.

Swidler Upheld For FPC Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has confirmed Joseph C. Swidler, a long-time partisan on the side of public power development, to be a member of the Federal Power Commission.

Republicans raised no opposition Wednesday to Swidler, a lawyer from Knoxville, Tenn., and former general counsel of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

But they served notice that President Kennedy may face a court fight if he tries to oust Republican Jerome K. Kuykendall as FPC chairman and replace him with Swidler.

The President has indicated Swidler is his choice for the chairmanship, but has not yet said whether he would try to elevate Swidler to the post before Kuykendall's term ends a year from now.

Confirmation was by voice vote, on which the Senate keeps no record as to how any member voted.
